SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1900.

WEATHER during April was not remarkable in any respect except in Assam, where the rainfall was excessive, if the records of the three scattered stations may be taken as giving a fair indication of what happened over the Province as a whole. In Bengal there was the usual hot weather with no exceptionally high temperatures, though at times mean excess was for several days together as much as 5° or 6° above the normal. On the other hand, disturbances due to passing depressions occurred at fairly regular intervals of about a week on an average, and during these periods of disturbance local storms were fairly general. The latter half of the month was more showery than the early part, and, compared with the normal, the heaviest rainfall was in the south-western districts. But the total fall at Silchar was out of all comparison heavier than in any part of East Bengal, and was nearly double what fell in the same month last year, which, it may be remembered, was an exceptionally favourable year for rainfall in the east throughout the season.

The depressions which affected weather in Bengal were four in number and, as usual in the hot season, were very shallow, and at times difficult to locate except by the variation from the normal. They, however, showed different features. Two crossed the north of the Province, and, instead of causing rainfall, were attended by hot westerly winds. The other two were farther south, and most of the rainfall of the month occurred during their passage. In the case of these last two the puzzling increase of pressure in North-East Bengal and Assam, frequently noticed before, and generally with the same result, forced these depressions southward over Orissa, the north of the Bay, and the south of Burma, and probably was the cause of the heavier rainfall than usual in the south-western districts of the Province.

In Chota Nagpur the average excess was 1·73 inches, in South-West Bengal 1·05, and in Orissa ·62 inch, while in Bihar and East and North Bengal there was a deficiency varying from a quarter of an inch in the first to rather more than 1 inch in the last.

Temperature was at times several degrees above the normal, chiefly when west winds were blowing, and after the occurrence of thunder storms about the same number of degrees below, so that the mean for the whole month differs very little from the normal. The greatest difference is excess of 1° in East and North Bengal and Bihar. In South-West. Bengal and Assam there was defect of half a degree.

At the beginning of the month pressure after a slow fall was practically normal and very uniform over the Bay. A trough of low pressure lay over the north of the Province, and hot westerly winds were blowing over the southern districts, mean temperature being above the normal by amounts ranging up to 5° in Chota Nagpur. Pressure continued to fall during the two following days, and on the 3rd the area of lowest pressure was close to the Himalayas. With this arrangement westerly winds extended to the north of the Province and mean temperature was high in all districts. The shallow depression, which was then crossing the north of the Province, became better defined on the 5th, when the area of lowest pressure was passing from North Bengal into Assam, but on the following day it had filled up and the pressure distribution, after a brisk to rapid rise, was again normal.

During the passage of this slight disturbance, the first of the month, only a few very light scattered showers fell, but temperature remained high and gave way after the recovery of pressure and the return of easterly or south-easterly winds on the 6th

Soon afterwards a second depression appeared in the western districts, also of very slight depth, but accompanied by irregular and variable winds. These changing winds caused numerous thunderstorms on the 8th and two succeeding days over a great part of the Province, followed by a considerable fall of temperature. The slow fall of pressure which began on the 7th continued on the 8th and 9th, after which there was a rapid rise over the north of the Province, and the depression became diffused over the north of the Bay and the south of Burma. Considerable oscillations of pressure succeeded, but from the 11th to the 15th there was practically no rainfall, and ordinary weather with westerly winds and comparatively low temperature prevailed.

During the latter half of the month two further depressions occurred, and in the interval between their occurrence winds were irregular and variable, with the result that weather continued showery from day to day. The first of these two disturbances began on the 15th with a brisk general fall of pressure. It passed eastward in the course of the succeeding two or three days, followed by comparatively cool westerly winds, but caused rainfall in Orissa and East Bengal only. On the 18th after the recovery of pressure the distribution was practically normal, and westerly winds extended over a large part of the Province.

The winds continued westerly on the 19th, but on the 20th they were mostly easterly, and with the change thunderstorms became prevalent in Lower Bengal and Orissa, and scattered showers fell in Chota Nagpur. The change in pressure, which was reported on that date, showed a fall in the west of the Province, and a brisk rise in the north-east, with a shallow depression approaching from the west. Its eastward movement was retarded by the rise in the north-east, and its line of advance became more southerly. It was not till the 26th that the general rise of pressure showed that it had either passed away or filled up. Throughout these days showers were of frequent occurrence, and even on the 27th, after an area of high pressure had developed over Bengal, thunderstorms continued in the southern districts. The area of disturbance was mostly in the south of the Province, and the wave of low temperature moved southward along the west coast. Very low temperatures were experienced during the closing days of the month in the west and south of the Province, more especially in Orissa, and exceptionally cool weather prevailed in the Circars and Madras. During these days the only rainfall was in East and North Bengal, where scattered showers continued.

Pressure.—Though large changes, that is, changes of more than ·1 inch, rarely occurred, the pressure oscillations were rather larger and more frequent than usual. The depressions—four in number—which crossed the Province were shallow and ill-defined, but caused the usual disturbed weather as shown by shifting winds, thunderstorms with rain, and at times a large fall of temperature. Average pressure for the month was above the normal over the whole Province by uniform amounts of about ·02 inch. But as excess diminished towards the south, the distribution over the Bay was somewhat more uniform than usual.

Temperature was high at the beginning of the month, and occasionally afterwards there was a small excess; but as a rule during the latter half of the month weather was cool, and exceptionally low temperatures were experienced in the south-western districts towards the end. The average maximum temperature for the month varies from excess of 3° in North Bengal to defect of 2° in South-West Bengal. There is generally a small excess in average minimum temperature, greatest in Behar and East Bengal, but rarely more than 2°. In North Bengal the mean temperature on an average for the whole Division was 1·2° above the normal; in East Bengal and Bihar about 1°, and in Chota Nagpur about half a degree. In South-West Bengal, Orissa, and Assam there was defect of about half a degree.

Rainfall.—There were very few days during the month altogether without rain in one part of the Province or another, but the dryest days were betweeen the 1st and 7th and 11th and 16th. At other times showers more or less general were falling.

As stated above, the total fall was deficient in the eastern and northern districts, and in considerable excess for the season of the year in South-West Bengal, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur. East Bengal received on an average 3·6 inches, South-West Bengal 2·9, Chota Nagpur 2·3, North Bengal 2, and Orissa 1·7, while in Bihar the fall was ·3 inch, only half the normal for the month.

The rainfall occurred in smaller quantities than usual, so that the number of rainy days was not so much below the normal, East Bengal showing an excess in this respect, though the total fall was deficient.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of April 1900:—

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 15th May 1900.

No. 94Marine.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 50A of the Inland Steam-vessels Act, VI of 1884, as amended by Act VII of 1899, and in supersession of this Department's Notification No. 51Marine, dated 20th March 1899, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make the following rules for the protection of inland vessels from collision. These rules will be taken into consideration on the expiry of a month from the date of their publication in the Calcutta Gazette, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to consider any suggestions or observations that may be made by any person concerning them within that period.

D. B. HORN,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

These rules are applicable to, and shall be followed by, all inland steam-vessels and all other vessels hereinafter specified on all inland waters in Bengal on which steam-vessels ply.

Preliminary.

For the purposes of these rules,—

(a) a vessel shall be deemed to be "under way" when she is not at anchor or made fast to the shore or aground; and

(b) the word "visible" when applied to lights shall mean visible on a dark night with clear atmosphere.

Rules concerning lights, &c.

Article 1.—The rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise, and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2 (1).—All steam-vessels when under way shall carry—

(a) in the forepart of the vessel above the awning roof a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles;

(b) on the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile;

(c) on the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile.

(2) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Article 3.—A steam-vessel, when towing other vessels which are lashed alongside, shall have the white masthead light and the red and green side-lights so placed that they will be visible as set forth in Article 2 (1).

Article 4.—All vessels under oars or sails, when under way, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (1) (a), (b) and (c); but if they do not carry them, they shall have ready at hand a lantern with a white light which shall be exhibited in time to prevent a collision.

Article 5.—A vessel, which is being overtaken by another, shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light.

Article 6.—Every vessel, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform an unbroken light visible all round at a distance of at least one mile.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light.

Sound-signals for Fog, etc.

Article 7.—All signals prescribed by this article for steam-vessels under way shall be given on the whistle or siren.

The words "prolonged blast" used in these rules shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam-vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and also with an efficient bell.

In fog, mist, or heavy rain-storms, whether by day or by night, the signals described in this article shall be used as follows, viz. :—

(a) A steam-vessel having way upon her shall sound, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A steam-vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than two minutes, two prolonged blasts, with an interval of about one second between them.

(c) A steam-vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than one minute, ring the bell rapidly for about five seconds.

One prolonged blast should be given to convey a warning in the following cases :—

(a) When a steam-vessel approaches her destination.

(b) To attract the attention of other vessels, especially native craft.

(c) On approaching a bend in the channel.

Speed of Ships to be moderate in Fog, &c.

Article 8.—Every steam-vessel shall, in a fog, mist, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed, having careful regard to the existing circumstances and condition.

A steam-vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of any other vessel, the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

STEERING AND SAILING RULES.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Article 9.—When two steam-vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course, or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 10.—When two steam-vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 11.—When a steam-vessel and sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam-vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 12.—Where by any of those rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed:

Provided that when in consequence of thick weather or other cause, the vessel which should be given way to finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision.

Article 13.—Every steam-vessel, which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel, shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 14.—Every steam-vessel, which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel, shall on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 15.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, every steam-vessel overtaking any other shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every steam-vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft her beam, i.e., in such a position with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forward of or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 16.—In narrow channels every steam-vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 17.—In obeying and construing these rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

SOUND SIGNALS FOR VESSELS IN SIGHT OF ONE ANOTHER.

Article 18.—The words "short blast" used in these rules shall mean a blast of about one second's duration.

Every steam-vessel under way shall, when in sight of any other vessel in taking any course authorised or required by these rules, indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz.:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

PROPER PRECAUTIONS TO BE TAKEN IN ALL CASES.

Article 19.—Nothing in these rules shall exonerate the owner, or master, or crew of any steam-vessel from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Article 20.—If two steam-vessels, with or without vessels in tow, meet in a narrow channel or rounding a point, or in a place where the presence of a third vessel makes it difficult to pass, the one going against the tide shall slacken her speed until the other has cleared the difficulty.

Article 21.—In rivers that are so narrow that they will not allow two steam-vessels meeting with flats in tow to pass each other without one of them making fast to the bank, the steamer going with the tide shall make fast to allow the one going against the stream to pass her.

Article 22.—No steam-vessel shall attempt to strive or race against another. When steam vessels are proceeding in the same direction, but with unequal speed, the vessel which is steaming slowest shall, in the narrow reaches of a river, offer no obstruction whatever by crossing the channel or otherwise to the free passage of the faster vessel, and shall ease and, if necessary, stop the engines as soon as the faster vessel comes abreast in order to allow her to freely pass. The Master or Pilot of the faster vessel, if intending to pass, shall intimate such approach by a prolonged blast from his steam whistle. But no vessel will be justified in passing such vessel at any of the turning points or bends of a river, nor in a part of the channel so narrow that a third vessel could not with safety pass them.

Article 23.—Steam-vessels crossing from one side of the river to the other shall keep out of the way of vessels navigating up and down the river.

PENALTY FOR DISOBEDIENCE OF THE RULES.

Article 24.—Any person committing a breach of any of these rules shall, for each offence, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice ...	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule, provided the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures, provided the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a college test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over; but whether they pass or fail at the University examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second year-class, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S or 1st M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first or second-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College and will not be entitled to re-admission. Third-year students who fail a second time will be liable to removal from the College; but if they are specially recommended by the Principal, they may again be relegated to the third-year class, on payment of the fees laid down in Rule 16, and re-admitted to the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination, and this concession may be allowed for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects, and 15 per cent. in a fourth, will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S. or 2nd M.B. examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first year will have a prior claim to re-admission over new students.

16. Students re-admitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay half the regular fee for the session (Rs. 35), but extra fees as for dissection (Rs. 6) in full. The half fee must be paid at the commencement of the session in June. Those, however, who, after failing either at the preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three. Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.)	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160

(b) "Book-keeping" by Ball and Hamilton.
"Book-keeping" by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers' Educational Course).

The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in July. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediataly preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4 Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

A. MACDONELL,
Offg. Principal, Civil Engineering College.

Accountant-General, Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1899.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 7th May 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 448T.—M.

READ—

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1899.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1898, and the Resolution recorded by Government upon it.

The number of patients in the five native asylums during the past two years and the main facts regarding them are shown in the following statement:—

			1898.	1899.
Remained on 1st January			924	911
Admitted and re-admitted			159	220
	Total ...		1,083	1,131

	Not improved		3	8

Died			73	87
	Total ...		172	242
Remaining on 31st December			911	889
Daily average strength			922	903

2. The total number of admissions was 202 against 144 in the previous year. The increase was common to all the asylums, except Patna, and was most marked at Dullunda and Berhampore. Of the 220 lunatics admitted and re-admitted during the year, 117 were criminals against 78 in 1898, the largest number on record during the last ten years. These figures seem to show that the orders of Government, directing the exercise of a wise discretion in sending harmless lunatics, whether criminal or non criminal, to asylums, are not being fully complied with, and the attention of the local officers will again be drawn to them. The total number of criminal lunatics remaining in confinement on the 31st December 1899 was 476. Of these 181 had been tried and acquitted on the ground of insanity, 259 were detained as incapable of making a defence, and 36 had become insane while in jail. The numbers of these three classes in 1898 were 184, 260 and 33, respectively.

3. There was a very satisfactory increase in the number of recoveries from 71 last year to 110 this year. The percentage of recoveries on the daily average number of patients was considerably higher in all the asylums, except Dullunda.

4. No change was made in the capacity of the asylums during the year. There was a slight overcrowding at Dacca and Patna, which was promptly relieved by transferring some of the patients to other asylums.

5. Of the 220 admissions, 128 are classified under mania, 39 under melancholia, 11 under idiocy, and the remainder under various other types. Seventy-six cases are attributed to physical causes, 26 to moral causes, and in 118 cases the causes were unknown. Of the 76 cases attributed to physical causes, 44 are ascribed to ganja-smoking, 6 to spirit-drinking, 13 to heredity, 5 to epilepsy, 3 to fever, and 5 to other causes. It is reported that there has been no improvement in the preparation of the medical history sheets of the lunatics, and the attention of the local authorities will again be drawn to the necessity of preparing these documents carefully and transmitting them with the lunatics.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice a further reduction in the number of admissions to hospital, which fell from 620 to 576. The average daily number of sick shows a decrease from 104·83 to 86·21. The death-rate was, however, higher than the last year, being 9·63 against 7·91. The number of deaths was remarkably large in the Patna Asylum, and is attributed to the general unhealthiness of the town and district. The system of infirm gangs is said to have worked satisfactorily at Dullunda and Dacca, while in the Patna and Berhampore Asylums no special results have been achieved from it. Judging, however, from the results obtained at Dacca, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees in the opinion expressed by Colonel Hendley that the system serves to keep off serious diseases, and that it should be given a thorough trial in all the asylums.

7. The number of injuries and accidents rose from 17 to 24. Three of these ended fatally. In all these cases judicial enquiries were held, but none of the asylum staff were found to blame. There was also a case of suicide in the Cuttack Asylum where a lunatic hanged himself against the bar of a window in his cell. There were two escapes—one from Patna and the other from Berhampore. In both instances the lunatics were recaptured and the warders in fault punished.

8. The income and expenditure of the asylums for the past two years are shown below :—

9. The decrease of Rs. 4,486 in the total expenditure occurred chiefly under the heads of "Diet," "Rates and Taxes," and "Public Works Charges," and is attributed in the case of diet to lower price of food-grains; in that of rates and taxes to a reduction of Rs. 1,469, which occurred at Dullunda owing to there being no arrears to pay in 1899.

10. The gross cost of each lunatic in the different asylums for the past two years, and the cost per head of average strength, are given in the following table:—

11. The number of admissions to the European asylum at Bhawanipur increased from 13 to 17, while the re-admissions fell from 5 to 2. Including 35 patients who remained at the close of last year, the total number of inmates was 54 against 53 in 1898. Of these 5 were discharged cured, 7 made over to friends, 1 despatched to Europe, and 4 died, leaving 37 in confinement at the close of the year. Two of the persons admitted and one of those re-admitted were criminal lunatics. The daily average strength was 36·49 against 37 in the previous year, and the number of admissions to hospital was 6 against 5 in 1898. The rate of mortality on the daily average strength rose from 5·40 to 10·96. It is, however, said that two of the patients who died were over fifty years of age, and that one of them had been in the asylum for sixteen years. The total expenditure decreased from Rs. 20,884 to Rs. 20,452, while the receipts from paying patients rose from Rs. 12,446 to Rs. 14,585.

12. The question of establishing a Central Lunatic Asylum in Bengal, which has been under consideration for the last five years, has now been definitely settled. It has been decided that the asylum should be located at Berhampore, which is the best situation available in point of health and convenience, and that only the asylums at Dullunda, Patna and Berhampore should be combined, leaving those at Bhawanipur, Dacca and Cuttack where they are. The necessary alterations in the Berhampore Asylum will be commenced this year. Arrangements will also be made for training Civil Hospital Assistants recruited for Government service in the treatment of mental diseases. It is proposed to send those men immediately on recruitment to the asylums to undergo a training for two months in the treatment of insanity. The Hospital Assistants recruited from the Campbell Medical School at Sealdah and Temple Medical School at Patna will be sent to the Central Asylum at Berhampore, and those recruited from the Dacca and Cuttack Schools to the asylums at those places.

13. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Colonel Hendley for his interesting report and to the Superintendents for their efficient management of the asylums during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

FINAL REPORT ON THE OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1899-1900.

THE following is published for general information.

F. A. SLACK,

The 17th May 1900. Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1899-1900.

Explanatory.—This report furnishes estimates of the area and outturn of all oilseeds (rabi and bhadoi) grown in these provinces. The first statement appended to the report gives returns of the area and outturn, as received from District Officers, and the second furnishes an estimate of the gross outturn of all the oilseed crops taken together.

2. Character of the season.—The rainfall in September was general, except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where it was much in defect In October it was deficient everywhere, except in East Bengal and Orissa where it was excessive. In November and December there was little or no rain, excepting a few light showers in the Darjeeling hills, and in parts of the Chittagong Division. In January the fall was below the average everywhere, except in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, where it was much in excess, and was accompained by hail. In February there was general rain in Lower Bengal, but only a small fall in Bihar, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur. In March the rain was general and fairly well-distributed over the province.

From the above, it will be seen that the season was not favourable to the cultivation of oilseeds. Want of rain was felt in many districts at the time of sowing, while an excess about this time in others interfered with the proper germination of the seeds. The rain in January was found useful in a few districts, but was in others accompained by hail which did much damage.

3. Area sown.—The normal area under all kinds of oilseeds is estimated at 4,101,300 acres, the area sown this year at 3,636,000 acres, and the area sown last year at 4,091,900 acres. It will thus be seen that the area this year falls short of the normal, and of last year's area by about 11 per cent. The contraction in area, as remarked in the first forecast, issued in February, is obviously due to the unfavourable character of the weather during the sowing season, and is especially noticeable in the districts of Hazaribagh and Ranchi.

4. Character of the crop.—The estimates of percentage outturn now received differ very slightly from those given in the preliminary forecast published by this Department in February last. The estimate then made for the Province need not therefore be revised. The outturn of all kinds of oilseeds for the year 1899-1900 stands at 83 per cent. of a normal crop against 95 per cent. the corresponding outturn for the previous year. Irregular and badly distributed rain generally throughout the Province, and hail in some districts, are the cause of the low outturn.

5. Gross outturn.—Assuming, as in previous years, 6 maunds per acre to be the average produce of linseed, mustard and rapeseed, and $4\frac{1}{4}$ maunds per acre as that of til and other oilseeds, the gross outturn of the oilseed crops in these provinces during the year under report amounts to 621,500 tons against 859,000 tons estimated to have been produced in the previous year. The falling of is chiefly under the heads of "rapeseed and mustard" and of "other oilseeds" which appear to have suffered more from the unfavourable climatic conditions of the year than either til or linseed.

Asst. Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

INDIAN OCEAN—MALDIVE ISLANDS.

Malé approach—Amended particulars of sandbanks, &c.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 214 of 1900) that information, dated 3rd March 1900, has been received from Captain J. G. M. Field, H.M.S. Marathon, respecting the descriptions of certain sandbanks in the approach to Malé:—

1. The sandbank to the north-westward of Fureenahfurhi has no bushes or any kind of vegetation on it; it is very small, and composed of white sand, which shows up well in the sun; it is only about one foot above high water, and has an encircling reef.

Approximate position, lat. 4° 15′ 30″ N., long. 73° 30′ 30″ E.

2. The shoal in approximately lat. 4° 13′ 15″ N, long. 73° 28′ 15″ E., is a small but densely wooded island.
3. The island in approximately lat. 4° 12′ N., long. 73° 28′ 30″ E., is not an island, but forms part of the reef, which is a complete circle entirely submerged.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Maldive islands, No. 66b: Also, West Coast Hindustan Pilot, 1898, page 332.

AFRICA, EAST COAST—PUNGUE RIVER ENTRANCE.

Buoyage, channels, &c.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 216 of 1900) that the following information respecting the buoyage and channels, Pungue river entrance, is derived from a report, dated 24th February 1900, received from Captain W. S. Rees, H.M.S. Thetis:—

No. 5 buoy. This buoy was found to be then situated with the south extreme of Massique point bearing N. 29° W., distant 2¼ miles, and point Joa tower N. 45° E.

Approximate position, lat. 19° 55′ 30″ S., long. 34° 49′ 0″ E.

The Captain of the port of Beira has also given information, dated 10th February 1900, that on 1st June 1900 the buoyage will be changed to a uniform system as follows:—

Buoys on the starboard side of the channel in entering will be coloured red, and numbered from seaward Nos. 2, 6, 8; buoys on the port side of the channel will be black, and numbered Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5, and 9. The colour only, not the shape or topmark, is the distinctive characteristic showing on which side the buoy should be passed.

In February 1900, there were, after passing No. 6 buoy, two navigable channels to the anchorage, the western of the two passing close to Massique point and the coast to the northward being the deeper and more intricate. The eastern channel which lies between Nos. 5 and 7 buoys was, however, the one generally used. In it the depth is about 20 feet at high water. The note on the Chart has, therefore, been amended.

CAUTION.—As the banks are liable to change, local knowledge is necessary before attempting to enter.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1899.

The following is published for general information.

F. A. SLACK,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 26th May 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 581T.—R.

READ—

Letter No. 192A., dated the 19th February 1900, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting the Report of the Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys on surveys, and of the Director of Land Records on the settlements, in Bengal, for the year ending 30th September 1899.

The reports.

THE report of the Director of Land Records was received by the Board on the 19th January, and the joint reports were submitted to Government with the Board's review on the 22nd February 1900.

Charge and inspection.

2. Captain R. T. Crichton was in charge of the survey operations up to the 26th April 1899, when he went on furlough, and was succeeded by Captain C. W. H. Symonds. Mr. P. C. Lyon held the office of Director of Land Records throughout the year. It is not reported what time Captain Crichton spent on tour; his successor was out for 16 days between the 26th April and the 30th September 1899. Mr. Lyon spent 159 days on tour, compared with 147 days in the previous year.

3. The following table shows the general outturn and cost of survey and settlement work in the past and three previous years :—

Outturn and cost.

Year.	Traverse survey.	Skeleton boundary survey.	Topographical survey.	Cadastral survey.	Record-writing.	Cost of survey.	Cost of settlement.	Total cost.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

1896-97	908	.....	410	845	845	2,20,163	11,45,019	13,65,181
1897-98	661	.....	35	1,302	1,302	2,73,094	9 66,824	12,40,918
1898-99	1,727	... ..	217*	1,208	1,331	2,52,031	8,72,718	11,24,799

Note.—The figures given above as to cadastral survey and record-writing in 1897-98 include 2 square miles of city survey in the Samastipur Municipality, and those for 1898-99 include 6 square miles of similar work in the Darbhanga and Chapra Municipalities.
* Includes 95 square miles on the 2 inches = 1 mile scale in the north-west corner of Champaran.

During the year under report the survey programme laid down was exceeded except in respect of topographical survey.

Cost-rates, traverse and topographical survey.

4. The cost-rates of the more important traverse and topographical surveys were as follows:—

Division.	District.	Traverse survey.	Topographical survey.
		Rs.	Rs.
Patna	Saran ...	36	13†
	Champaran ...	100
	Darbhanga ...	34	...
Bhagalpur ...	Sonthal Parganas ...	45	...

† Of 56·83 square miles on the 16 inches to the mile scale in the Gogra, Ganges, and Gandak diaras.

Of these, the operations in Champaran consisted of the traverse and topographical survey of an area of 95 square miles in North Champaran, and the high rate of cost appears to be due to the small area dealt with and the unhealthiness of the climate.

In 1897-98 the cost of the traverse survey in Saran was Rs. 108·04 per square mile, but the area traversed was small, being only 51 square miles, as compared with 264 square miles in 1898-99, and, as the traverse section was employed in Saran at the commencement of the season, the cost of the move from the recess quarters and the pay of the establishment for October 1897 went to swell the cost of the operations in the season of 1897-98. The cost-rate of traverse survey in the Sonthal Parganas has been high, owing partly to the nature of the country, which is to a great extent covered with low-lying hills and ravines, with no actual village sites but hamlets scattered over the high lands, and to the fact that in Tappa Manihari the progress of the work was delayed considerably by the wanton destruction of the theodolite stations.

Cost-rates, cadastral survey, and record-writing.

5. The largest areas cadastrally surveyed were in the districts of Saran and Darbhanga, and while they were about equal to the areas dealt with in those districts in the previous year, the cost-rates, as shown in the table below, were on the whole substantially less than in 1897-98 :—

District.	Areas dealt with.		Cost-rate.
			Cadastral survey.		Record-writing.		Total.
	1897-98.	1898-99	1897-98	1898-99.	1897-98.	1898-99.	1897-98.	1898-99.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Sq. m.	Sq. m.	Rs	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Saran ...	555	548	85·89	72	104·29	59	190·18	131
Darbhanga	733	684	71·86	64	78·32	84	153·18	148

In both seasons the average size of the field in Saran was the same, viz., ·3 of an acre. In Darbhanga the average size of the field was ·42 in 1897-98, while in 1898-99 it was ·38 of an acre. Including the municipal areas surveyed, the total area cadastrally surveyed in the year under report was 1,298 square miles, and the total cost of cadastral survey and record-writing was Rs. 2,02,292, giving an average cost rate of Rs. 156 per square mile. The corresponding cost-rate in 1897-98 worked out to Rs. 182 per square mile. The great divergence in the cost of record-writing in Saran and in Darbhanga deserves some explanation.

Changes in procedure, and attitude of the people.

6. No material alteration was made in the general procedure during the year under report. As regards minor details, it is reported that a new form of notice was introduced tentatively in North Bihar at the instance of Mr. T. W. Babonau, Sub-Assistant Superintendent of Survey, in order to improve the attendance of landlords and raiyats. It was appreciated by both raiyats and zamindars and reduced very considerably the number of those who did not attend. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that the success of this arrangement, which should, as proposed, be adopted in all Bengal surveys in future, goes to show that the previous non-attendance of parties was frequently due to ignorance, rather than to wilful negligence; and that their attitude on the introduction of the new notice form was consistent with their eagerness to obtain their parcha slips and evinced the keen interest they are said to have taken in the work, both in Saran and Darbhanga, especially at the khanapuri stage.

It was frequently found that the zamindars attempted to have lands really cultivated by raiyats recorded as in their own cultivating possession. When there was reason to suspect that this was being done, Inspectors were ordered to have separately mapped all fields within blocks surrounded by main ails or boundaries in cases in which zamindars claimed the blocks as khudkasht. With the exception of the villages belonging to the Darbhanga Raj, it was found that several zamindars in the district of Darbhanga prevented their raiyats from coming forward to point out their lands which they then claimed should be entered as zirat. After the passing of the order above referred to and the imposition of a fine of Rs. 500 on one zamindar, little or no trouble was experienced.

Settlement of minor disputes by kanungos during khanapuri.

7. The system of having minor disputes settled by kanungos in the course of record writing, which was introduced in 1897-98, was continued during the year under report. There were three kanungos with the survey camp in Saran and four with that in Darbhanga, who settled most of the very numerous interior disputes that arose during khanapuri. With a view to render more efficient the working of these kanungos with the survey establishment, certain rules have recently been framed by the Settlement Officer of North Bihar defining the powers of the former and their relations with the latter establishment, which, it is hoped, will prove of much benefit. The following extract is taken from the Settlement Officer's report on the operations in the district of Darbhanga:—

"With a view to testing the value and accuracy of the decision of internal disputes by khanapuri kanungos, a note of the orders objected to and revised at attestation was kept in each attestation camp. The figures are not given in tabular form, as the return was not prescribed until the middle of the season, and was not kept in a uniform manner by all the camps, but the following abstract has been carefully compiled and may be accepted as approximately accurate:—Out of 41,536 orders passed by khanapuri kanungos, only 3,982, or 9 per cent, were objected to at attestation; 2,252, or 5 per cent., were altered by the attestation officer, 1,902 as wrong in points of fact or law, and 350 on technical grounds. These results are, I think, highly satisfactory. It may at first sight appear somewhat remarkable that 56 per cent. of the orders objected to should require revision, but it must be remembered that they form only a very small proportion of the total number of orders passed, and that most of them were difficult cases in which there was large room for difference of opinion. All the cases in which the attestation officer thought it necessary to reverse the kanungo's decision were under the rules referred to me as Assistant Settlement Officer in charge for final orders, and in no case did I find that a kanungo was seriously to blame for a wrong decision, or that he had not some grounds for the conclusion at which he had arrived. The truth is that a very large number of the internal disputes filed at khanapuri, where there is nothing to pay, are of a frivolous character, and will never reappear if they are decided promptly on the spot. We want a cheap agency to decide these cases, and this, I think, we have found in the institution of khanapuri kanungos. The more important disputes will of course crop up again at attestation and under section 103A, and it is not surprising that an attestation officer who can examine documentary evidence in his court at his leisure should often, in important and difficult cases, find it necessary to differ with the khanapuri kanungo, who passes orders summarily while standing in the field, though the latter method is no doubt the most suitable for deciding petty disputes of a comparatively unimportant nature. I am confident that as our kanungos gain more experience, it will be found that the proportion of their decisions which require revision at attestation will diminish, and this return which I propose to have kept this year in an amplified form will form a useful check on the work of each officer."

The opinion of the Survey Officers was, however, scarcely so satisfactory. It is very probable that with added experience these officers will improve.

8. The progress of the survey in each district in North Bihar is shown in the table below:—

(a) Include topographical survey.
(b) Including Saran.
(c) Includes 28 square miles of Majhauli Ward's estate, and excludes 11 square miles of river areas actually surveyed, but which, owing to the midstream boundary being to the North-Western Provinces.
N. B.—The figures for Saran for the year 1898-99 do not include topographical survey of 61 diara villages, with an aggregate area of 56·63 square miles. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 719, or Rs. 13 per square mile.

During the year under report the survey of the entire district of Saran was brought to a close, the area of the district being found to be 2,620 square miles.

The survey of the districts of Muzaffarpur and Champaran had been completed previously, the work since done in the former district being revision or diara surveys of small areas; while in Champaran the work in progress is the topographical survey of a jungly tract in the north of the district which was excluded from the cadastral survey and about 80 miles of which remained to be surveyed at the close of the year.

Survey of private estates in the Sonthal Parganas.

9. In the Sonthal Parganas the professional Survey Department has been entrusted with the traverse survey only of the estates brought under settlement, the field survey being in the hands of the Settlement staff. The original proposal was to survey 1,855 villages comprising an aggregate area of 616 square miles, and the cost of the traverse survey was estimated by the Director of Land Records at Rs. 40 per square mile, or Rs. 25,000 in round numbers for the whole area. On an application made by this Government, the Government of India sanctioned the payment of the estimated cost from the Imperial revenues. Subsequently 56 more villages, with an aggregate area of 14·8 square miles, were notified by Government for survey and settlement. The report now before Government shows that the total area traversed is 726 square miles and the total cost Rs. 32,693, or Rs. 45 per square mile. But in compliance with an application made by this Government upon a revised estimate submitted through the Director of Land Records and the Board, the Government of India have sanctioned an allotment of only Rs. 18,921 to meet the cost of the traverse survey of these estates. The Lieutenant-Governor does not understand why, when the actual expenditure was Rs. 32,693, the amount shown in the revised estimate referred to was only Rs. 18,921, and will await an explanation in this matter.

Settlement.

10. The passing of the Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act, III (B.C.) of 1898, which came into force on the 2nd November 1898, effected a very important change in the settlement procedure. The Settlement Officer of North Bihar writes as follows on this subject:—

"Briefly put, it enables us to pass an entire thana or any given area through each stage of the work at one time. Under the old Act, we had to wait a month after attestation for applications for the settlement of fair rents to be filed. If none were filed, we proceeded to draft publish, but it often happened that applications were filed in half the villages in a camp and not in the other half. This meant that the whole area had to be kept pending until all the fair-rent cases were settled. Even after we had got all the villages draft published, a few scattered section 106 cases might delay final publication and prevent us from beginning recovery of costs. Thus under the old Act it invariably took us four years to complete operations, including recovery of costs, in any given area, and the work was very often spread over five seasons. Under the Amendment Act, however, as I shall explain, we ought in ordinary circumstances to complete all stages of the work in three seasons. We now draft publish within a few days of the completion of attestation, in itself no mean advantage, as our experience this year has shown us what a much keener interest is taken in draft publication carried out while the record is still fresh in the minds of the people, than when it is effected, as formerly, weeks and often months after the conclusion of attestation. We get all the objections under section 103A filed within a month of draft publication, and we can put a special set of officers on to deal with them. We can complete the records and finally publish them immediately after the objections are disposed of, and the whole area is then ready for recovery.

The following should now be our normal programme of work in any given area:—

First year—
Field season	...	Cadastral survey and preliminary record-writing.
Recess	...	Preparation of the draft record by the Survey Department.
Second year—
Field season	...	Attestation and draft publication.
Recess	...	Disposal of objections under section 103A, completion of the records, and final publication.
Third year—
	...	Recovery of costs and disposal of case-work under sections 105 and 106 after final publication.

Nor is the clear saving of a year which is thus effected the only gain. The work itself is more expeditiously and satisfactorily carried through. When an officer, for example, has only section 103A cases to dispose of, he can arrange his programme much better and get through his work much faster than formerly, when he had to try summary objections in one village, settle fair rents in another, and decide disputes in a third, and there were necessarily days which he had to spend in travelling long distances or on which he found himself with little or no work to do. Much time is also saved in final publication, as the kanungo can now work steadily through his area instead of taking up isolated villages as the records are completed in office."

The experience so far obtained of the working of the remaining amendments of the Act has been small, and scarcely permits of a final appreciation of their effect.

The rules for record-writing and attestation in North Bihar were revised in the course of the year, so as to bring them into accord with the amending Act.

The following paragraphs show the progress made in settlement work.

North Bihar.

11. The post of Settlement Officer of North Bihar was held by Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, I.C.S., till the 12th July 1899, when, after completing the operations in the districts of Muzaffarpur and Champaran, and submitting his final reports thereon, he went on furlough, and was succeeded by Mr. J. H. Kerr, I.C.S., who had previously held subordinate charge of the operations in Champaran and Darbhanga.

The following statement shows the work done year by year in each district in North Bihar from the commencement of the settlement proceedings up to the close of the past settlement year:—

Before the close of the year the settlement records of the districts of Muzaffarpur and Champaran were made over to the respective Collectorates. The settlement offices were finally closed, and the only work remaining to be done is the recovery of a portion of the costs. This is now in progress under the supervision of the Collectors concerned.

12. Mr. H. Coupland, I.C.S., was in subordinate charge of the operations in this district throughout the year, except for a month's privilege leave, during which Maulvi Ghulam Ghous carried on the current duties of the office. The attestation programme for the year was fully carried out. The boundary disputes instituted during the year numbered 434, of which all but 4 were disposed of. Only 35 appeals were preferred against the decisions of the Assistant Settlement Officers, and the orders of the lower court were maintained in all but one case. As usual the diara villages on the Gogra and Gandak rivers furnished the most difficult boundary disputes. The attestation work, which embraced nearly 12 lakhs of plots, appears to have been free from abnormal difficulties; but the absence of large zamindaris similar to the Hatwa Raj, and the consequent inability to utilise properly prepared accounts, caused no lack of minor worries. The estates of the Chainpur Babus presented typical difficulties inherent in the co-proprietary system, and in the failure to keep, or to produce, genuine accounts. Of the 199,678 holdings attested 2·5 per cent. were found to be held by proprietors, ·4 per cent. by raiyats at fixed rates, 78 per cent. by raiyats with occupancy rights, 3 per cent. by non-occupancy raiyats, and 9 per cent. by rent-free-holders. The objections under section 103A of the new Act were unusually numerous, the number filed during the year being 24,798 as compared with 9,031 (under section 105 of the Act of 1885) in the previous year. This is attributed to the provisions of the amending Act of 1898, under which draft publication takes place immediately after attestation, instead of, as under the old Act, after the disposal of fair-rent cases. The Director of Land Records observes:—

Saran.

"On the whole I think that the increase should be looked upon as satisfactory and indicating a greater interest in the proceedings on the part of the persons affected by them, and greater care in their scrutiny of our papers. The trial of these objections brings to light many inaccuracies in the record which might otherwise have escaped observation, and the proportion of frivolous cases filed is not so great as to seriously detract from that advantage."

There would, however, appear to be something in the opinion, quoted elsewhere in the report, that the shortening of the period within which objection can be taken to the record has multiplied these cases by leaving less to the influence of time in promoting reflection and negotiation and consequent mutual concession. Fifteen appeals were filed against the orders passed in these cases, of which 4 were decided, the decision of the Assistant Settlement Officer being upheld in 3 and modified in 1. For the settlement of fair rents only 31 cases were instituted during the year, and none of these referred to the area attested in 1898-99. The Director of Land Records observes that the small number of applications made by native landlords for a legal enhancement of the rents of their raiyats is as noticeable in Saran as it was in Muzaffarpur. It is stated that out of a total of 360 appeals instituted before the Special Judge against the decisions passed in fair-rent cases, 331 have been disposed of, the Assistant Settlement Officer's decisions being upheld in 102 cases, slightly modified in 147 cases, and reversed in 33 cases, 8 cases being compromised and the rest remanded for re-trial. Under section 106, 914 disputes were decided during year. The number of appeals to the Special Judge against these decisions instituted since the beginning of the operations, during which 1,240 cases in all have been disposed of by the settlement staff, was 94 only, 41 of which were decided, resulting in the Assistant Settlement Officer's decision being upheld in 28 cases and reversed in 8, while 3 cases were compromised and 2 returned for re-trial.

13. The settlement operations in Darbhanga were under the subordinate charge of Mr. J. H. Kerr, the present Settlement Officer of North Bihar, until March 1899, when he went on privilege leave, and was succeeded by Mr. W. S. Adie, I.C.S.; and the latter was succeeded in August 1899 by Mr. W. R. Gourlay, I.C.S., who remained in charge until the close of the year.

Darbhanga.

The programme of supervision of the initial record-writing and settlement of boundary disputes in 680 square miles was fully carried out. Only 10 out of 709 boundary disputes instituted during the year remained to be decided. In 113 cases appeals were preferred and decided, the decision of the Settlement

Officer being upheld in 76 cases, modified in 5 and reversed in 1. The remaining 31 cases were remanded for re-enquiry. The outturn of attestation work apparently fell short of the programme (746 square miles) by 28 square miles. Of the total number of holdings attested, 82 per cent. were found to be held by raiyats with occupancy rights, ·5 per cent. by non-occupancy raiyats, about 6 per cent. by proprietors and 3 per cent. by rent-free-holders. The area in which work was proceeding embraced part of the Darbhanga Raj estates, wherein the system of management has for many years been very thorough; and progress was thereby much facilitated. In the extensive zamindari of Rai Ganga Prasad however, not only was little help derived from estate papers, which were in great confusion, but even such as were produced were, it is regrettable to observe, not of a reliable character. From the report of the Settlement Officer it would appear that the raiyats of this proprietor and of Ganeshwar Singh, of Padri, have hitherto been treated with a degree of harshness which has amply justified the preparation of a record of their rights. As in Saran there were few enhancements of rent; the average size of fields was found to be very small (·38 of an acre); and the number of cases under section 103A enormously increased compared with the previous year. It would appear that as a whole the operations in this district were conducted with a very high measure of success.

Recovery of costs.

14. The recovery of costs of the operations was in progress in the districts of Muzaffarpur, Champaran, and Saran. As regard Darbhanga, orders apportioning the costs were passed in May 1899. With regard to thanas Dalsingsarai, Samastipur and Warisnagar, the total cost was estimated at $9\frac{3}{4}$ annas per acre, of which $2\frac{1}{2}$ annas will be paid by Government, and $4\frac{1}{4}$ annas will be recovered from the landlords, and 3 annas from the raiyats. Computation was begun in this district in July, 534 villages covering 296 square miles being completed before the end of September 1899, and the work of recovery, commenced since the close of the year, is now in progress.

The following table shows the results of the recovery work in the three other districts:—

* In Muzaffarpur and Champaran the work of recovery of costs was in the hands of the district staff, and apparently no separate expenditure was incurred on this account.

The heavy balance shown in the case of Champaran is almost entirely due from the proprietors of the Bettiah and Ramnagar Raj Estates. The Bettiah Raj has arranged to pay its dues in instalments, and certificates are being issued for the amounts due from the Ramnagar Raj and other landlords. As in previous years the realisations from the tenants were remarkably good, as much as 98·81 per cent. of the amount due by raiyats having been collected in Saran.

Maintenance of records.

15. The question how the Land Records Maintenance Act, III (B.C.) of 1895, has worked, and what steps, if any, should be taken for the maintenance of the settlement records in future, is separately under the consideration of Government.

Orissa

16. Mr. S. L. Maddox, I.C.S., was in charge of the Orissa Settlement throughout the year.

The Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act, III (B.C.) of 1898, was extended to Orissa in November 1898; but the operations were too far advanced for its provisions to have much effect on the progress made in the temporarily-settled estates, although they enabled the Settlement Officer to wind up the work in the permanently-settled areas more expeditiously.

The following table exhibits the work done during the year:—

With the exception of the permanently-settled areas of Aul and Derabisi, the work in Orissa has been completed, some small items which remained over after 30th September 1899 having been done since the close of the year. The work in Aul and Derabisi has been undertaken by the Collector of Cuttack.

The result of the settlement of fair-rents in the temporarily-settled area during the year was to increase the rents of kharida jamabandi tenures by 48 per cent. of nisfi (half-rent) baziafti tenures by 190 per cent., of kamil (full rent) baziafti tenures by 63 per cent., and of raiyati holdings by 7 per cent.

The assessment of revenue in the temporarily-settled area was completed and the new revenue brought into force. In a large number of cases the assessments still require the confirmation of higher revenue authorities; but in accordance with the terms of the engagements given by the proprietors, the new revenue is being realised subject to such modifications as may be made by the confirming authorities, and it is considered unlikely that the orders to be passed in the pending cases will result in any considerable alteration of the revenue assessed. The following table shows the results of the assessment:—

Of the total of 6,350 estates, kabuliyats by the close of the year had been taken for 6,284 estates. The Director of Land Records reports that only six estates are recusant, of which five are insignificant, and the only one of importance is the Kotdesh Estate in Puri, which has been bought by three different sets of purchasers, to all of whom the former proprietors were seriously indebted. It is stated that the new proprietors cannot come to any working agreement among themselves, and that as the estate is very large, the old revenue being Rs. 81,000 and the new Rs. 1,04,000, there seems no prospect of effecting a settlement. The Collector of the district has taken over the papers of the estate. With this exception the new assessment of revenue has practically been accepted in all cases, and this is a strong testimony to the consideration with which it has been made. The final report on the settlement will shortly be in the hands of Government.

Chittagong

17. The settlement of Chittagong had practically been completed in March 1898, and nothing but office work and the computation and recovery of the costs of the operations in the permanently-settled estates remained to be done in the year under report. Good progress was made in the classification and copying of the settlement records, and it was expected that this work would be completed before the 31st March 1900. Final orders as to the apportionment of the costs have been issued; but no progress was made towards their recovery in the year under report.

18. All important work connected with the settlement of the estates of the Raja of Hill Tippera in the districts of Tippera and Noakhali was completed by the middle of July 1899, when the Settlement Officer, Mr. J. G. Cumming, I.C.S., reverted to general duty, and the Collector of the district took charge of what remained to be done. The general result of the settlement, so far as the Tippera Raj is concerned, is that the Raj has secured an increase in rental, amounting to Rs. 90,206, of which Rs. 31,781 have been obtained from the tenure-holders and Rs. 58,425 from the khas raiyats. The recovery of a share of the costs of the operations from the tenure-holders and raiyats was continued during the year. The total computed demand is Rs. 3,19,245, out of which Rs. 2,24,501, or about 71 per cent., were collected up to the close of the year. The progress made is satisfactory.

Tippera.

19. The settlement of certain private estates in the Sonthal Parganas on the application and at the expense of the proprietors is being made by Mr. H. McPherson, I.C.S., who joined in November 1898. Mr. E. F. Berkeley, the officer in charge of the traverse survey, was appointed Assistant Settlement Officer, and placed in charge of the field survey, in addition to his own duties, under the direct control of the Settlement Officer. As it was considered desirable to employ residents of the district as amins, it was necessary first to train them. Accordingly a survey training school was opened, and besides 112 Sonthal amins, 80 non-Sonthal amins, and five kanungos, the five Assistant Settlement Officers went through a course of training there. Some of the amins, however, soon left their employment, and the work was greatly retarded, especially at the end of the season, by the absence of a sufficient number of trained men. Rules for the conduct of the survey and preliminary record-writing, and for the attestation of records and settlement of rents were drawn up. The area under settlement comprised 1,911 villages, of which 778 villages, covering 341 square miles, were cadastrally surveyed, and preliminary records for 742 villages were written. A very large number of internal disputes and 481 of the 512 boundary disputes instituted were decided; and the records of 12 villages were experimentally attested; but the last named work will probably have to be done over again under the rules as recently revised. The cost during the year, exclusive of traverse survey, amounted to Rs. 80,259. Considering the delay at the commencement of the operations, the introduction of a new system of survey and settlement, and the difficulties found in training a subordinate staff, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Director of Land Records that the progress made is satisfactory.

Private estates in the Sonthal Parganas.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to the Board of Revenue for their careful supervision of the work of the Survey and Settlement Departments. Sir John Woodburn has on previous occasions expressed his appreciation of the excellent work done by Mr. Lyon, and he has much pleasure in endorsing the remarks of the Board in paragraph 32 of their present review. His Honour's acknowledgments are due also to Captain R. T. Crichton and Captain C. W. H. Symonds for their excellent administration of the Survey Department during the year.

Services of Officers.

The remarks of the Director of Land Records on the conduct of his subordinates, contained in paragraph 63 of his report, and those of the Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys in paragraph 60 of the Survey Report, have been read with pleasure by the Lieutenant Governor. The former will be communicated to the Appointment Department, and the latter to the Deputy Surveyor-General in charge, Revenue Branch, Survey of India.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it, with copies of the two reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACK,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula +0·030.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; t, thunder; <, lightning; p, passing temporary showers; ↗, strong wind.

N.B.—In the column "Miles recorded" the movement of wind from 8 A.M. of the day for which it is shown to 8 A.M. of the following day is given.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Dum-Dum Rifle Range.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked :—

"Has the attention of the Government been called to the case of an accidental death of a lad who was hit by a stray bullet in the vicinity of the rifle range near the Dum-Dum Cantonment?

"In answer to a question which I asked in connection with a similar case of accidental death near the same rifle range, the Government was pleased to say that 'a proposal for the re-alignment of the range so as to guard against all possibility of danger to the villagers was already under the consideration of the Military Department, and the necessity for completing the works by an early date would be brought to the notice of that Department.'

"Will the Government be pleased to state whether the works referred to in the above reply of the Government have been completed? If not, when will they be completed? And, if they have been completed, whether the Government considers them as satisfactory in view of the accident to which I have referred."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied :—

"The attention of Government has been called to the case to which the Hon'ble Member is believed to refer. On the 24th January a lad named Sheikh Azad Ali was struck by a stray bullet while in the fields behind the Dum-Dum rifle range, and died almost immediately. The people of the neighbourhood had been warned by the police and by beat of drum not to go near the rifle range, as firing would take place on the date in question. The deceased with his father unfortunately disregarded this warning.

"As regards the second part of the question, the reply of the Government of India has not yet been received."

Mr. Lloyd's Case.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked :—

"Has the attention of the Government been called to a case of assault committed by a Sub-Deputy Magistrate of Chaibassa, Mr. Lloyd, upon a highly respectable pleader, Babu Rakhal Chandra Chatterjee, B.L.? Is it the case that Mr. Lloyd belaboured this gentleman with a stick, and that when he was called before the Deputy Commissioner he feigned madness? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what notice has been taken by the Government of this conduct on the part of Mr. Lloyd?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied :—

"Mr. Lloyd did, under misapprehension, strike the pleader with his cane. An enquiry was held by the Deputy Commissioner, and the pleader desired that the matter should be carried no further. The desire was generous, and the Lieutenant-Governor considered no action necessary beyond the transfer of Mr. Lloyd from Chaibassa."

Special Constables and punitive Police in Dinapore.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked :—

"Is the Government aware that the establishment of a punitive police and the enlistment of special constables at Dinapore have excited much adverse criticism? Is it necessary to have both? Will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances under which it became necessary to adopt these measures?"

The Hon'ble Mr Baker replied :—

"The measures which form the subject of the question were rendered necessary by the riotous conduct of a large number of people in Dinapore, who, on the 27th February last, broke out into forcible resistance to the operations of the local officers, used violence towards the Cantonment Magistrate and police, and eventually burnt down both the segregation camps. The riot was of a serious character, and necessitated the calling out of the troops.

"Special constables were enrolled by the District Magistrate (who has power to do so without reference to higher authority), because some of the upper classes are believed to have practically instigated their proceedings.

"It is not now necessary to have both special constables and punitive police, and the former have now been withdrawn."

Proceedings of Mr. Maguire.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said :—

"I have the honour to ask whether the attention of the Government has been called to certain proceedings of Mr. Maguire, Deputy Commissioner of Manbhum, in connection with the mining lease in which some differences arose between Messrs. Bird and Company and the East India Coal Company ?

"Is it the case that Mr. Maguire deliberately and illegally set aside, in his executive capacity, and not as a Court of appeal, the judicial finding of the Sub-divisional Officer, Mr. Garrett, that he described the order as unjustifiable, and that he subsequently procured the transfer of Mr. Garrett, on the ground that he did not seem to be able to control Mr. Smith, the Manager of the East India Coal Company, although that officer had done nothing but his duty?

"Is it the case that Mr. Maguire, as Manager of the Raja of Kathras, recorded a memorandum stating that, notwithstanding the judicial finding of the Sub-divisional Officer to the contrary, the East India Coal Company were not in any sort of legal possession, and directed that Messrs. Bird and Company should be put in possession, that a copy of this memorandum recorded by him as Manager was sent to himself as Magistrate, that as Magistrate he proceeded to give effect to his orders as Manager, and Police-officers were stationed to prevent the East India Coal Company from proceeding with their mining operations, that a complaint was subsequently made against the servants of the East India Coal Company for trespass, which was dismissed by the Sub-divisional Officer of Raniganj, to whom, owing to the proceedings of Mr. Maguire, the case had been transfered by the order of the High Court, and yet, subsequent to this order, Messrs. Bird and Company, acting under the direction of Mr. Maguire, entered upon the coal mines and took wrongful possession of them, although the Board of Revenue had expressed the strongest disapproval of the orders purporting to be passed by Mr. Maguire as Manager?

"Is it the case that the High Court severely censured Mr. Maguire for his proceedings in this case, in the following terms :—

'The arbitrary character of the orders passed in favour of Messrs. Bird and Company, and the abuse of his authority as District Magistrate by the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Maguire, in persisting in his endeavours to give possession to his own lessees, Messrs. Bird and Company, regardless of the opposition on behalf of the East India Coal Company, who were judicially found to be in possession on the 20th March, are very lamentable, not only so far as they affect the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Maguire, personally, but so far as they injuriously affect private rights, which, in this case, we are powerless to restore.'

"Will the Government be pleased to state whether it approves of the proceedings of Mr. Maguire referred to above? If not, will the Government kindly state, for the information of the Council and the public, what orders, if any, it has passed to mark its disapprobation of the proceedings of Mr. Maguire ?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied :—

"The attention of the Government has been called to these proceedings, and the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur has already been asked to report on the matter. The Hon'ble Member's questions will be answered when that report has been received and considered by the Lieutenant-Governor."

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1900-1901.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER laid on the table the Financial Statement for 1900-1901. He said:—

"In the ordinary course this Statement will come up for discussion at the next meeting of this Council on Saturday next. I will take this opportunity of asking that any Hon'ble Member who may wish to ask for any information or explanation or to raise any points of comment, will be good enough, if he possibly can, to give me notice not later than the morning of Wednesday next. It is impossible for me to carry a great mass of details in my head: and it will be convenient for me if I have sufficient time to get any information which Hon'ble Members may require."

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON THE BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1900-1901.

PART I.—General Review.

ACCOUNTS OF 1898-99.

IN the statement which was laid before the Council on the 8th April, 1899, it was assumed that the year 1898-99 had opened with a credit balance of Rs. 9,22,000, and had closed with a balance of Rs. 34,37,000; that the total amount available for expenditure during the year was Rs. 4,86,39,000 and that of this sum Rs. 4,52,02,000 had been spent. The actual result proves to have been worse than this estimate by Rs. 3,21,137. The amount actually available for expenditure was Rs. 4,85,63,523, and the amount actually expended during the year amounted to Rs 4,54,47,660, thus leaving a closing balance of Rs. 31,15,863. This reduction in the balance was chiefly due to smaller collection of Land Revenue, and larger expenditure under Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department especially owing to earthquake damages.

REVISED ESTIMATE, 1899-1900.

2. The budget estimate for 1899-1900, as passed by the Government of India, accepted Rs. 34,37,000 as the opening balance, and provided for receipts aggregating Rs. 4,64,08,000 and an expenditure of Rs. 4,79,08,000, so that the year should close with a balance of Rs. 19,37,000. The revised estimate now passed provides for a total revenue of Rs. 4,71,07,000, and an expenditure of Rs. 4,67,17,000, with an opening balance of Rs. 31,16,000. The net result is a surplus of Rs. 3,90,000 against a deficit of Rs. 15,00,000 anticipated last year, giving a net betterment of Rs. 18,90,000.

3. On the receipt side the revenue is expected to show an increase of Rs. 6,99,000, of which Rs. 3,37,000 is under Stamps and Rs. 2,50,000 under Excise, owing to general prosperity; Rs. 77,000 under Forests due partly to sleeper operations in the Tista and Buxa Divisions, and partly to the sale of larger quantities of firewood and charcoal from the Darjeeling Depôt; Rs. 60,000 under Jails due to larger issues of Jail manufactures; and Rs. 99,000 under Irrigation—Major Works, chiefly in the Sone Canals. Against these increases there are decreases of Rs. 32,000 under Provincial Rates, Rs. 55,000 under Registration, and Rs. 49,000 in Miscellaneous receipts of the Police Department.

4. The net decrease of expenditure is Rs. 11,91,000. Of this Rs. 99,000 occurred under Courts of Law, owing partly to savings under Salaries and Process-serving Establishments, partly to some of the Law Officers having received officiating instead of full pay for part of the year, and partly to two temporary vacancies in the High Court not having been filled up. Rupees 1,21,000 occurred under Jails, owing to smaller outlay on raw materials; Rs. 2,05,000 under Police, in consequence of large savings under Salaries of the Calcutta and District Police Forces; Rs. 45,000 under Marine chiefly for smaller outlay on stores, &c., Rs. 97,000 under Education, due to savings in salaries, in boarding and other charges of the Sibpur Engineering College, and the Eden Hostel, and in the establishments of net grant schools; and Rs. 2,04,000 under Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation, of which 53,000 is due to a write-back of capital expenditure in the Orissa Coast Canal, and 1½ lakhs is due to smaller outlay on agricultural and drainage works in consequence of the transfer of a corresponding sum to Civil Works for expenditure on the special repairs in Darjeeling occasioned by the cyclone. These total up to Rs. 7,71,000. The explanation of the remainder of the total decrease, which amounts to Rs. 4,20,000, is as follows. Just before the last budget was presented, the Government of India made a lump grant of 17 lakhs to the Local Government mainly in view of past and future expenditure on famine relief and plague. Of this, 3 lakhs were employed in raising the closing balance of the year towards the prescribed minimum of 20 lakhs; and the remainder, 14 lakhs (which was shown in the budget provisionally under 45—Civil Works by Civil Department), was distributed in the form of supplementary grants to different departments, as explained in paragraph 5 of last year's Financial Statement. These supplementary grants included items aggregating Rs. 7,60,000 for plague charges and grants to local authorities, and Rs. 4,50,000 to the Public Works Department. The expenditure on account of plague measures has fortunately fallen short of the provision made, and there is a saving of Rs. 2,20,000 on this account. The Public Works Department have not been able to utilize fully the total grants given to them and show a saving of about Rs. 1,20,000. Lastly, under the head of Contributions to Incorporated Local Funds, there has been a saving of Rs. 82,000. The provision under this head includes a reserve for unforeseen grants that may be required during the year, and cannot be forecasted exactly.

BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1900-1901.

5. The budget estimate for 1900-1901, as now passed adopts Rs. 35,06,000 as the opening balance, and provides for receipts aggregating Rs. 4,69,74,000 and expenditure of Rs. 4,79,82,000 including Rs. 4,40,000 on Famine Relief, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 24,98,000. Compared with the budget estimate for 1899-1900, the total receipts for 1900-1901, show an increase of Rs. 5,66,000, while, as compared with the revised estimate, there is a decrease of Rs. 1,33,000. The estimates for next year are based on the latest available actuals of the current year. Provision has been made for the normal expansion of revenue under the heads of Provincial Rates, Assessed Taxes and Registration. On the expenditure side the total grant is Rs. 4,79,82,000 against Rs. 4,79,08,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. The budget is explained more fully in the following paragraphs.

PART II.—Detailed remarks on the Budget for 1900-1901.

RECEIPTS.

6. Land Revenue.—The total collections under Land Revenue in 1898-99 amounted to Rs. 4,04,47,854, and the estimate for 1900-1901, as passed by the Government of India, based on the latest actuals is Rs. 4,09,00,000, which it also the revised estimate for 1899-1900. The estimate for 1900-1901 includes Rs. 3,75,000 for recoveries on account of the Bihar Survey and Settlemens charges, against Rs. 7,24,042, the actuals of 1898-1899, and Rs. 3,75,000 provided for in the revised estimate for 1899-1900.

7. The adjustments between Imperial and Provincial will probably result in a net transfer of Rs. 18,05,000 to Imperial, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Fixed contribution to Imperial Revenues under the terms of the Contract	14,19,000
Add—Payable to Imperial Revenues—
For transfer of the South Lushai administration to Assam	3,75,000
Compensation for loss to the excise revenue of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh consequent on the importation of Shahjahanpur rum in bond to Bengal ...	6,000
Contribution for Dr. Stein's deputation for Archæological researches	5,000
Total sum to be transferred to Imperial ...	18,05,000

8. The estimated Provincial share of Land Revenue is arrived at as follows:—

	Rs.
Gross Land Revenue	4,09,00,000
Deduct 12 per cent. on collections from Government estates (Provincial)	5,89,000
Deduct recoveries of Bihar Survey and Settlement charges (Imperial)	3,75,000
Total deduction ...	9,64,000
Net amount divisible between Imperial and Provincial Funds	3,99,36,000
Provincial share of above (one-fourth)	99,84,000
Deduct on account of adjustments as shown above ...	—18,05,000
Net ...	81,79,000
Add 12 per cent. on collections from Government estates ...	5,89,000
Total Provincial share ...	87,68,000

9. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1899-1900 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 1,77,50,000. The actuals in 1898-99 amounted to Rs. 1,73,81,080, and the latest returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first ten months of 1899-1900 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 7,11,000. In view of these figures, both the revised estimate for 1899-1900 and the estimate for 1900-1901 have been placed at Rs. 1,82,00,000. The Provincial share is three fourths of this sum, and amounts to Rs. 1,36,50,000.

10. Excise.—The budget estimate of the total revenue under this head for 1899-1900 was Rs. 1,35,00,000 against Rs. 1,34,27,055, the actuals of 1898-99. The Comptroller-General's latest statement shows that the receipts during the first ten months of 1899-1900 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 4,81,000. Assuming that the growth of this branch of the revenue may be checked in Chota Nagpur and Puri where the crops have been poor, the total receipts for the year will probably not fall short of Rs. 1,40,00,000 which has been adopted both as the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and the estimate for 1900-1901. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 70,00,000.

11. Provincial Rates.—The budget estimate of total receipts from Provincial Rates for 1899-1900 was Rs. 47,97,000. The actuals of 1898-99 under Public Works Cess amounted to Rs. 45,07,157, and under General Rate for management of private estates to Rs. 2,02,704, while the collections in the first ten months of 1898-99 show an increase of Rs. 77,000 under the former head and a decrease of Rs. 32,000 under the latter, as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of these figures, the revised estimate for the total of Provincial Rates has been placed at Rs. 47,65,000 and the estimate for 1900-1901 at Rs. 48,00,000. An increase in Cess is expected in the districts of Dacca and Faridpur on the completion of revaluations in those districts.

12. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income tax for 1899-1900 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 51,50,000. The actual collections in 1898-99 amounted to Rs. 50,90,916, and the latest returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first ten months of 1898-99 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 97,000. The revised estimate for 1899-1900 has been passed for Rs. 52,00,000, and the estimate for 1900-1901 has been placed at Rs. 52,86,000. The Provincial share (one-half) is Rs. 26,43,000.

13. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1900-1901 are estimated at Rs. 10,49,000, against Rs. 11,15,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900. The decrease is due to the transfer, with effect from the beginning of 1900-1901, of a portion of the Sonthal Parganas Protected Forests in the Saoria tract of the Rajmahal subdivision from the Forest Department to the Civil authorities, in consequence of which the revenue derived from this portion of the forests will be credited under Land Revenue. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 5,24,000.

14. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1899-1900 was Rs. 15,50,000 against Rs. 15,80,164, the actuals of 1897-98, and Rs. 14,75,009, the actuals of 1898-99. The receipts in 1897-98 were the highest on record, and were due to famine, which caused an abnormal increase in the number of registrations. The revised estimate for 1899-1900 has been placed at Rs. 14,40,000 and the estimate for 1900-1901 at Rs. 14,80,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 7,20,000 and Rs. 7,40,000 respectively.

15. Interest.—The estimate of loans for 1900-1901, as passed by the Government of India provides for a return of Rs. 3,96,000 under Interest, thus:—

Interest on—	Rs.
Advances to cultivators	56,000
Drainage and embankment advances	88,000
Loans to landholders	13,000
Loans to municipal and District Boards ...	1,75,000
Government securities of the Education Department	14,000
Miscellaneous accounts	50,000
Total ...	3,96,000

16. Jails.—The proceeds of Jail Manufactures showed a steady increase from 1893-94, but received a check in 1898-99. In view of the actual receipts of 1897-98 amounting to Rs. 10,26,570 the estimate for 1900-1901 has been passed for Rs. 10,23,000.

17. Police.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 2,11,000 against Rs. 2,19,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 2,43,006, the actuals of 1898-99. In 1898-99 there was a large demand for Police from Railway Companies.

18. Marine.—The budget estimate for 1899-1900 was Rs. 11,00,000, which has been raised to Rs. 11,10,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is mainly under Pilotage Receipts in Calcutta, which fluctuate with the tonnage of vessels visiting and leaving the port. The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 11,32,000.

19. Education.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 7,00,000, against Rs. 6,90,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 6,65,622, the actuals of 1898-99. The increase is due to larger receipts expected from the Eden Hindu Hostel.

20. Medical.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 2,01,000, against Rs. 2,02,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 1,61,733, the actuals of 1898-99. In 1898-99 the contribution of the Calcutta Municipality for the maintenance of the Campbell Hospital was not credited till after the close of the year, and the receipts from Lunatic Asylums were exceptionally low.

21. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The total receipts for 1900-1901 are estimated at Rs. 2,04,000 against Rs. 1,96,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 2,00,990, the actuals of 1898-99. The increase is chiefly under Public Gardens and is expected to accrue from the sale of stone for building purposes from the Birch Hill Park in Darjeeling.

22. Miscellaneous.—The receipts under this head are essentially fluctuating. The estimate for 1900-1901, based on past actuals, has been placed at Rs. 7,04,000 against Rs. 6,87,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900.

23. Irrigation Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1899-1900 was Rs. 17,01,000, and the revised estimate is taken at Rs. 18,00,000; the reason of the increase is that the receipts from the Midnapore and Sone Canals are expected to be better than the budget estimate. The actual receipts during 1898-99 were Rs. 18,53,877, of which Rs. 13,08,952 was from water rates only. The budget estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 17,18,000.

24. Minor Works and Navigation, in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate of receipts for 1900-1901 is Rs. 6,39,000 against Rs. 6,25,243, the actuals of 1898-99. An increase is expected in Nadia rivers.

25. Civil Works.—The estimate of receipts by the Public Works Department is Rs. 1,73,000 against Rs. 1,93,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. The falling off is due to an expected decrease in the profits from the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, owing to the heavy damage done to the line by the cyclone of September last. The estimate of receipts by the Civil Department is Rs. 2,88,000 against Rs. 2,83,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. An increase is expected by the local officers from ferry settlements.

EXPENDITURE.

26. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1900-1901 is estimated at Rs. 1,83,000, against Rs. 1,78,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 1,87,937, the actuals of 1898-99. The actuals for 1898-99 included a special refund of Provincial Rates to the Narhan Estate in the district of Darbhanga in respect of the revenue-free lands belonging to it. The estimate for next year includes a special provision of Rs. 11,000 for refund of mesne profits on account of drift timber, to Rani Amriteswar Debi of Baikantopur Estate.

27. Assignments and Compensations.—The actual expenditure in 1898-99 amounted to Rs. 1,22,788 only and left large arrears to be paid. The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 2,00,000 which provides for the payment of arrears.

28. Land Revenue.—The estimate of expenditure for 1900-1901 amounts to Rs. 40,06,000, against Rs. 39,28,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 40,56,000 the revised estimate for the current year, as shown below:—

	1899-1900.		Estimate, 1900-01.
	Budget.	Revised.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Charges of District Administration	30,27,000	31,00,000	31,68,000
(2) Management of Government estates	5,04,000	5,00,000	5,00,000
(3) Survey and Settlement ...	3,07,000	3,73,000	2,45,000
(4) Land Records and Agriculture ...	90,000	83,000	93,000
Total ...	39,28,000	40,56,000	40,06,000

The increase under (1) is due to larger provision made under salaries and establishment for the creation of an eighth grade of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors for a considerable increase in the higher grades of the Provincial Service, and for 73 Assistant Magistrates against 61 in 1899-1900. A provision of Rs. 25,000 has also been made for the reproduction of village maps of Orissa and Chittagong and for certain thanawari maps.

29. Stamps.—The estimate of expenditure for 1900-1901 amounts to Rs. 6,77,000, against Rs. 6,92,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. The decrease is chiefly under Stamp paper supplied from Central Stores, the estimate under which is Rs. 3,29,000 against Rs. 3,50,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. The Provincial share (three-fourths) is Rs. 5,08,000.

30. Provincial Rates.—The total grant for 1900-1901 is Rs. 1,52,000 against Rs. 1,31,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, and Rs. 43,732, the actuals of 1898-99. It has been decided that one-third of the actual cost of collecting both Road and Public Works Cesses, instead of a fixed sum as formerly, shall be paid from Provincial Revenues with effect from the 1st April, 1899, and this explains the increase in expenditure under this head.

31. Forests.—The budget grant for 1900-1901 is Rs. 5,89,000, against Rs. 5,60,000, the estimate for 1899-1900. The budget includes Rs. 11,000 for sleeper operations in the Buxa and Teesta Divisions: Rs. 19,000 for half the cost of a new steamer to replace S. S. Cygnet for the Sunderbuns Division, and Rs. 17,000 for a survey in the Singhbhum Division.

32. Registration.—The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 9,09,000 against Rs. 9,28,000, the budget estimate for 1899-1900. The decrease is in proportion to the estimated decrease in receipts.

33. General Administration.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1899-1900 was originally estimated at Rs. 16,95,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 17,25,000. The increase is distributed among several heads as shown in Appendix B. The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 17,05,000, to provide for larger expenditure under Civil Offices of Account and Audit.

34. Law and Justice.—Courts of Law.—The budget estimate under this head for 1899-1900 was Rs. 90,74,000, but the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 89,75,000, for the reasons explained in paragraph 4 above. The estimate for 1900-1901 has been passed for Rs. 91,70,000, which includes provision for the increased rates of pay sanctioned for the Judges of the High Court. Larger provision has also been made for the salaries of additional Assistant Magistrates and for the creation of an eighth grade of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors comprising 74 appointments. It should be explained that one-half of these charges are shown under "Land Revenue," and the remaining half under this head.

35. Jails.—The estimate under this head for 1899-1900 was Rs. 24,41,000, but the actuals of the first nine months indicate that the grant for the purchase of raw materials will not be fully utilised. The revised estimate has accordingly been placed at Rs. 23,20,000. The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 23,60,000.

36. Police.—The following table compares the estimates of expenditure under this head:—

	Actuals, 1898-99.	1899-1900.		Estimate, 1900-1901.
		Budget.	Revised.
1	2	3	4	5
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Presidency Police	7,75,384	8,19,000	7,65,000	8,26,600
Municipal Police	45,274	49,000	47,000	50,000
Superintendence	1,68,420	1,58,000	1,54,000	1,58,000
District Executive Force ...	47,23,637	48,12,000	46,90,000	48,48,600
Village Police	19,179	39,000	19,000	46,000
Special Police	1,50,502	1,44,500	1,43,000	1,46,000
Railway Police	1,36,078	1,37,000	1,37,000	1,54,500
Cattle-pounds	3,084	4,000	4,000	3,300
Refunds	1,072	2,500	1,000	1,000
Total ...	60,22,630	61,65,000	59,60,000	62,34,000

The actuals for the first nine months of 1899-1900 indicate that there wil be savings under Presidency Police owing to the sanction of the Secretary of State to the re-organisation of the Police Force having been received late in the year; and also under salary charges of District Executive Force which were over-estimated in the budget. The revised estimate of total expenditure has been passed for Rs. 59,60,000 against Rs. 61,65,000, the budget grant for 1899-1900. The estimate for 1900-1901 amounts to Rs. 62,34,000. Under Presidency Police provision has been made for the re-organisation of the police, as recently sanctioned by the Secretary of State, at a cost of Rs. 75,402.1 Under District Executive Force provision has been made for the substitution of Sub-Inspectors for head-constables as investigating officers in accordance with the recommendation of the Police Commission. Under Railway Police the increased charges are due to additional police force sanctioned for new railways.

37. Marine.—The estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 9,61,000 against Rs. 9,66,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1899-1900. The decrease is under Repairs.

38. Education.—The total expenditure for 1900-1901 has been estimated at Rs. 29,80,000 against Rs. 29,47,000, the sanctioned grant for 1899 1900. Provision has been made for a new training college for teachers in connection with the Kurseong Boarding School and for a cooking class in the Kurseong Girls' School; for larger grants for the training of teachers and stipends to pupil-teachers; and for Engineering and Survey Schools; while the allotment for grants-in-aid has been raised from Rs. 6,10,000 to Rs. 6,40,000. On the other hand there is a reduction in salaries, and supplies and services, in Arts Colleges.

39. Medical.—The original budget grant for 1899-1900 was Rs. 19,65,000, but as explained in paragraph 39 of the last Financial Statement the budget was supplemented by an additional grant of Rs. 7,60,000 for preventive measures against plague and grants-in-aid of local fund expenditure on

BILL TO AMEND BENGAL ACT I OF 1869 (CRUELTY TO ANIMALS).

The Hon'ble Mr. Slack moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Bengal Act I of 1869 (an Act for the prevention of cruelty to animals) be taken into consideration, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee. He said:—

"When introducing the Bill, I fully explained the necessity for legislation, and the very limited object for which it was resorted to. Since the publication of the Bill there has not been, so far as I am aware, any sign of opposition or hostile criticism to its provisions, which shows that, in the opinion of the public, it satisfies a long-felt want. The Report of the Select Committee, by whom the recommendations of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were most carefully considered, has been for some time in the hands of Hon'ble Members, and to the changes and additions therein proposed, which will, I think, make the amending Act of much greater benefit than it would have been in the form it was introduced, the sanction of the Government of India has been received. The reasons for these alterations and additions are fully set forth in the Report, and as I cannot add to them, it would be needlessly taking up the time of the Council for me to repeat them. I would now move that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya moved that in section 1, for the proposed definition of the word "animal," the following be substituted, namely:—

'In this Act, the word "animal" means any organised or living being other than man, either domestic or captured, and endowed with sensation and power of voluntary motion.'

He said:—"The definition which it is proposed to repeal runs as follows:—

'The word "animal" shall be taken to mean any domestic or tamed quadruped, or any domestic or tamed bird.'

"That is a definition in the proper sense of the term, that is to say, it tends to explain what is meant by the word 'animal' in the Act. This is intended to be supplanted by what is called a definition taken from Act XI of 1890. That definition stands thus—'In this Act the word animal means any domestic or captured animal.' This definition, if it can at all be called a definition, has this particular quality, that it does not at all define what an animal is. It purports to define it, but simply says that the term 'animal' means an animal, domestic or captured. It is pointed out in the Report of the Select Committee that there was a discussion on this definition in the well-known case of Tulsi Bewa or Soshi Bewa, where the question was raised whether a crab came within the definition of 'animal.' There the discussion arose, not on the Bengal Act which the Council is now amending, but on the Act of the Government of India from which we propose to draw our definition.

In that case the question was raised whether a crab was an animal at all. It was argued elaborately that a crab was not an animal at all, because it was not proved to possess mind or intelligence. One of the learned Judges who heard the case gave a definition which I have adopted. I am bound to mention that it has been pointed out to me by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill that the definition given by the High Court was liable to objection on the ground that it was too wide, that, in fact, it might be made applicable to dead animals, and therefore I am quite prepared to omit the words 'organised or' from the proposed definition. But, even to the definition so modified, my hon'ble friend may, perhaps, object that it is too wide, and would include trifling cases of which I shall give one illustration. A man wants to fish; he takes a worm, hooks it and goes to fish; he may be brought up under the Act, but the answer is that even without this definition he would be liable. If a worm is an animal, a captured worm would be an animal within the meaning of the Act. If the words 'organised or' are omitted, my definition will not be wider than that contained in the Bill. On the other hand this definition has the merit of being a real definition. Therefore I move with your permission that the words 'organised or' be omitted, and that the motion as thus amended be put."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACK said :—"I am unable to accept this definition. It must either be taken as a whole, or not at all. It is put forward with the authority of a definition laid down by the Hon'ble the Judges of the High Court, but it seems to me inadvisable, even with the omission of the words 'organised or,' to introduce a definition so wide as this, as it would enable cases to be brought which possibly would place the members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in an undesirable position. The definition in the Bill may not be so good as it might be, but I am unable to give one that is more perfect."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said :—"This is more or less a matter for lawyers, but still more or less it is one on which a person may have an opinion of his own We have before us practically three definitions: fiirst there is the definition of the Government of India Act which is embodied in the Bill; then there is the definition of the learned Judges of the High Court which my hon'ble friend, the mover of the amendment, has followed; then there is my friend's own definition, because he now modifies the definition of the High Court. We have therefore the definition of the Government of India Act which my friend objects is too wide, and we have the definition of the High Court which my friend wants us to accept, but which he modifies now. The question is whether we shall accept the definition of the High Court or the definition in the Government of India Act. With reference to the former I have this objection to offer. The High Court Judges say that the word 'animal' is not defined in the definition of the Government of India Act; in the definition given by the High Court, however, the word 'animal' is defined. My hon'ble friend, who is so thoroughly conversant with law and logic, must be acquainted with this fact, that there are things sometimes so absolutely simple as to defy the shrewdest efforts of definers. The word 'animal' is one of these. Then my friend says that the word 'animal,' according to the definition of the Government of India Act, does not include a crab, because the High Court Judges assumed that a crab had no mind. How could any body say that a crab has no mind? Some body may hold that a crab does possess a mind, although it may not give any outward manifestation of it. It certainly understands, it moves and acts under certain instincts. It is able to feel, and that is an outward manifestation of a sentient mind. The ground therefore upon which the definition of the High Court is based does not commend itself to my mind; and, even if we accept that definition, the ground is cut away from under our feet, because my hon'ble friend does not accept it in its entirety. Then are we to accept the definition of the Government of India? I am not always a follower of the Government of India, but in a matter like this, where no contentious principle is involved, and in which the Government of India must have consulted its expert advisers, I think we should be wise to accept the definition of the Government of India in preference to the very wide definition of my hon'ble friend. These are the grounds upon which I shall vote against the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. WOODROFFE said:—"I think the amendment is one which ought not to receive the acceptance of the Council It is I think desirable that the definition contained in the Act for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of the Government of India should be retained. It would, I fear, give rise to serious difficulty if we had a definition in our Act different from that in the Act of the Government of India, an Act which may at any moment be extended in all or some of its parts to these Provinces."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA in reply said:—"There seems to be some misconception in this matter. We legislate and the High Court interprets. The Government of India has given a definition of 'animal' in Act XI of 1890 and the High Court has interpreted it; therefore it cannot be said that the High Court have given a new definition. As long as that interpretation has not been set aside it must be accepted as good law. On the other hand if the interpretation of the High Court goes too far, then we are entitled to modify it. I understand the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill to say that it does go too far; therefore, I have asked permission to modify my amendment, and the definition proposed by me in its restricted form ought to prove acceptable to him."

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN suggested the amending of the definition in the Bill by the substitution of the word "includes" for the word "means"; so that it will run:—the word "animal" includes any domestic or captured animal.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER remarked that that would include other animals besides those that are domestic or captured. The object of the Act is to confine it to these two classes of animals only.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA's motion was then put without the words "organised or," and was lost.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion standing in his name that in section 2, after section 5B, the following section be inserted, namely:—

"5C. If any person kills any animal in an unnecessarily cruel manner, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with both:

Penalty for killing animals with unnecessary cruelty anywhere.

Provided that nothing in this Act shall render it an offence to kill any animal in a manner required by the religion or religious rites and usages of any race, sect, tribe or class."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA also, by leave of the Council, withdrew the motion standing in his name that in section 2, after section 5C, the following section be inserted, namely:—

"5D. (1) If a Magistrate of the first class, Subdivisional Magistrate, Commissioner of Police or District Superintendent of Police, upon information in writing and after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, has reason to believe that an offence against section 5, section 5A or section 5C is being or is about to be or has been committed in any place, he may either himself enter and search or by his warrant authorize any police officer above the rank of a constable (named in such warrant) to enter and search the place.

Search-warrants.

(2) The provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating to searches under that Code shall, so far as those provisions can be made applicable, apply to a search under sub-section (1)."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA moved that in section 2, after section 5D, the following section be inserted, namely:—

"5E. A prosecution for an offence against this Act shall not be instituted after the expiration of three months from the date of the commission of the offence."

Limitation of prosecutions.

He said:—

"This is taken from section 9 of Act XI of 1890 and the corresponding English Act, where the period of limitation is one month. I do not think such complaints ought to be brought into Court. Such things ought not to be allowed to hang over a man's head for months."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACK moved that the Bill as amended be passed. He said:—

"I trust that under its provisions, which will now be made substantive law, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be able to greatly ameliorate the sufferings of dumb animals."

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was then passed.

THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL BILL, 1900.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER moved for leave to introduce a Bill to continue and validate the appointments of certain functionaries of the Corporation of Calcutta.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE took a preliminary objection under Rule 32 of the Rules of the Council for the Conduct of Business which provided that no such motion shall be made until after a copy of the Statement of Objects and Reasons has been furnished to each Member. Any Member may object to the motion unless copies have been furnished to him at least seven days previously, and such objection shall prevail unless the President, in exercise of his discretion, allow the motion to be made. He had only that morning seen a copy of this Bill, and he had not had time to consider it, and having regard to the very important nature of the Act of which this Bill is an amendment, it appeared to him that it should not be brought before the Council in this hurried way.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said that under Rule 55 of the Rules the President for sufficient reasons, and whether upon the application of a Member or otherwise, may suspend any of the foregoing rules for a particular purpose.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT asked whether after reading the Bill the Hon'ble Member thought there was any reasonable objection against proceeding with it?

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said that it was a strain upon the constitution to proceed with the Bill now. He would like to have His Honour's ruling upon the objection which he had taken.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am sorry that the Council has had to be troubled with the Bill which is unexpectedly before it. I was myself under the innocent belief—a belief which was shared by the Member in charge of the Bill which afterwards became the Calcutta Municipal Act—that matters of this kind were covered by the General Clauses Act which we passed last year. I was under the impression that one of the express reasons for which we passed the General Clauses Act was exactly to cover cases of this kind. In that belief we were supported by certain legal advisers at the time, and there is still a legal dispute whether the present Bill is or is not necessary. The final and decisive opinion in a legal matter of this kind is that which is furnished to us by our hon'ble colleague, the Advocate-General. By his opinion we must now be guided. But the Hon'ble Member who has made this protest is unable to say that the proposals made in this Bill are in any sense unreasonable. The Hon'ble Member is also aware that on no occasion at any time during the time I have had the honour of presiding in the Council have I hurried any measure of any kind whatever. The Bill we passed this morning is an instance that we have never hurried a measure. But this is legislation which is necessary to correct in the Calcutta Municipal Act—a mere technical mistake, which took place innocently and is a mere legal informality. Under these circumstances, as it is necessary to give validity to the proceedings of the officers of the Calcutta Corporation, and in the absence of any reasonable objections on the part of the Hon'ble Member, I avail myself of the discretion given to me by the Rules, and declare that further notice is not necessary in this matter.

The Hon'ble Mr. Baker said:—"The Bill was circulated last night and is in the hands of Members. It is extremely brief, containing only two operative clauses, and is of a purely formal and technical character. It makes no change whatever in any substantive provision of the law, and its sole object is to overcome two technical legal difficulties which have within the last two or three days been brought to our notice.

"I will explain each of these separately. The first of them relates to the continuance of the appointments of the whole municipal establishment, from the Vice-Chairman downwards, who have been appointed under the old Act.

"In section 2 of the old Act of 1888, there is a clause which declares that among other things all appointments made under former Acts shall be deemed to have been made under the new Act. In section 2 of the Act passed last year there is a corresponding clause: but in that clause the words 'appointments made' are omitted. The reason for making this change was that by section 8 (c) of the Bengal General Clauses Act, passed last year, it was provided generally and once for all that the repeal of any enactment, unless a different intention appears, shall not 'affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred under any enactment so repealed.' The Secretary of the Council, who is an expert draftsman, considered that this provision in the General Clauses Act saved all appointments made under the former Act, and that it was unnecessary (and therefore inexpedient) to refer to them in the special saving clause inserted in the new Municipal Act. He informs me that this view is consistently taken in the Acts of the Government of India, and that the practice is taken from the corresponding practice in England. This is manifestly a purely legal question, as to which non-lawyers are not qualified to express any opinion. The view was not challenged by any Member of the Select Committee or of the Council itself. It may be that the point was not noticed; but whatever the reason may be, the fact remains that no reference was made to the matter by any of the learned lawyers or unlearned laymen who took part in the discussions on the Bill.

"A few days ago, however,—last Monday in fact—my attention was called to an article in the Reis and Rayyet, in which, among other things, it was pointed out that the appointments of the municipal staff were not saved by the saving clause, and it was argued that their appointments would cease on the commencement of the new Act. It did not seem to me that there was much force in the arguments used, and the Secretary whom I consulted adhered to his former view that these appointments were saved by the General Clauses Act. To be on the safe side, however, I caused a reference to be made to the Advocate-General, and the Hon'ble Mr. Woodroffe gave it as his opinion that these appointments were not saved, that Government could appoint the Chairman and Deputy Chairman in advance of the new Act coming into force, but that as regards the Vice-Chairman and the rest of the Municipal officers and servants, the only way out of the difficulty was to pass a short Act to continue their appointments. I have the text of the opinion here, and will read it if desired; but that is the substance.

"As this was a very serious matter, Government thought it prudent to obtain a second legal opinion, and accordingly a reference was made to Sir Griffith Evans. That eminent lawyer concurred with the Advocate-General both as to the appointments not being saved and as to the remedy to be applied.

"In these circumstances, there was no course open to Government but to accept these opinions and to act on the advice given. The first operative section, section 2 of the Bill now before the Council, is designed to give effect to this view. It has been framed in consultation with the Advocate-General, and is in his opinion effective for the purpose.

"It is true that an Act of the Local Council has no validity until it is published with the consent of the Governor General, but the draft has been so framed that when the publication is made, it will take effect from the 1st April, i.e., from the commencement of the new Act. And steps are being taken to apply for the Viceroy's assent as quickly as possible, so that the transition period may be of the shortest duration.

"I need hardly dwell on the necessity of the measure It is out of the question that the whole municipal machinery should be stopped, even for a day. It is impossible to stop the conservancy, the water-supply, the street lighting, and the watering and cleaning of the streets. The work must in any event go on as before, the establishments must remain at their posts and continue to work; and the present measure is intended to give them legal authority to do so.

"I now pass to the second of the two points with which the Bill deals. This relates to the appointments of Commissioners made by the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, and the Port Trust. And in respect of this matter I must regretfully admit my personal responsibility; for the difficulty could have been got over without legislation if I had discovered it earlier. I only discovered it a few days ago, when I came to prepare the draft Notification gazetting these appointments of Commissioners, and it was then too late to remedy the omission, except by legislation I am ready to accept whatever measure of blame attaches to this omission.

"The difficulty is this: Section 8 (3) of the new Act provides that the Local Government shall make rules to regulate the appointment of Commissioners by these three bodies, section 58 (1) limits the operation of these rules merely to the manner of convening the meetings at which they are to be chosen, and section 25 of the General Clauses Act saves all rules made under the former Act.

"Now, as the Council are aware, it was our intention to make no change in respect of these Commissioners, and in fact we did make no change beyond designating them 'appointed' instead of 'elected.' And I took it for granted that the appointments would be made under the old rules which, as I have explained, are saved by the General Clauses Act.

"But when I came to draft the Gazette Notification, I found that no rules had ever been framed under the Act of 1888. When that Act was passed, the Government decided that it was not necessary to frame rules, and they contented themselves with issuing certain instructions to the three commercial bodies for the conduct of their elections; and the elections have been conducted under those instructions ever since. I may mention that these instructions correspond very closely to the provisions of section 58 (1) of the new Act, to which I have already referred.

"The effect of the absence of any existing rules was that no valid appointments could be made by the three commercial bodies, until fresh rules had been made under section 8 (3) of the new Act.

"Had I discovered this defect sooner, it would have been open to Government, by section 24 of the General Clauses Act, to frame such rules at once, and in that case it would not have been necessary to legislate. But the defect only came to my knowledge a few days ago, when it was too late to follow this course. I very greatly regret that this should have been the case.

"We cannot delay the validating of these appointments, because until the commercial representatives are appointed, it would be certainly inexpedient and probably illegal to proceed to constitute the General Committee, and as that is the executive authority of the Municipality, it must be brought into existence with the least possible delay.

"On this point also the Advocate-General has been consulted, and he concurs both in the necessity for legislation and in the form of the measure.

"These are the objects of the Bill and the reasons why I regard it as of pressing urgency."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"After the remarks, which I have heard from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I am bound to say that the tenour of those remarks disarms criticism and puts a complexion of a different character upon the matter, because the Hon'ble Member throws himself into the breach and takes all the blame upon himself. But apart from the personal aspect of the question I think the introduction of such an amending measure, even before the Calcutta Municipal Bill has become the law of the land, is a striking instance of the hurry with which that Bill has been rushed through at the final stages of its consideration. I am well aware of the consideration which Your Honour extended to the suggestions we were allowed to make from our places here. But when a flaw has been now found in a Bill of such magnitude and importance as the Calcutta Municipal Bill which has been considered from day to day for over a fortnight and from 11 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening, I am bound to say that under such circumstances this legislation cannot be of a satisfactory character, and other flaws are bound to have crept in. I do not know how many more mistakes will appear when that Bill is put into the crucible of actual operation. I hope it will not fall to pieces like a house of cards, but all the same the fact that you are compelled at this early stage, before the Bill has become law, to introduce an amending measure shows that there were grave defects in the Bill, much graver than was anticipated, which will only be disclosed when the Bill comes into force. We are not prophets, but not even the most sagacious amongst us had the remotest idea that the anticipations we indulged in were likely to arise so soon. This is the first amending measure, and I am certain that other amending measures will be brought forward, and that they will increase in number and volume, until the Calcutta Municipal Bill of the last session of this Council is succeeded by a law which will bring back the municipal constitution of Calcutta to its old form. I have no objection to offer to this particular Bill, because I find that it is necessary to correct a flaw in the Bill which was recently passed by this Council; but the fact that this amending measure has been found necessary affords evidence of the hurry with which the Calcutta Municipal Bill has been passed."

The Hon'ble Mr. Oldham said:—"I for one cannot concur in the propriety or justice of the remarks which have been made so far as this instance is concerned. The Hon'ble Member spoke of it as an instance of the way in which the Calcutta Municipal Bill was hurried through the Council in its final stage. I remember perfectly well that this particular clause came before us in Select Committee so far back as in December, 1898. It was then explained to us by the Secretary, who was our expert adviser in legal matters, that having regard to the General Clauses Act, which had then been recently passed, the safeguard which was now sought to be provided could be dispensed with. If a period of fourteen months was not long enough to discover and rectify errors of this sort, I do not know what time my hon'ble friend would consider sufficient. I do not think the deduction he draws from this instance will apply."

The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said:—"I do not know whether we are in order in speaking at the present stage of the Bill now before the Council. I understand that the motion is for leave to introduce a Bill and subsequently to move that the Bill be passed through all its stages at this meeting of the Council. If I am in order I desire to say a few words I had intended to speak in the second motion on the agenda in connection with this Bill, namely, on the motion that the Bill be taken into consideration. On a previous occasion my hon'ble friend to my right (Babu Surendranath Banerjee) was called sharply to order when he desired to discuss the Calcutta Municipal Bill when it was being introduced in Council. I think the Government is not in an enviable position in having to pass an amending Act before the original Act has come into force. But if the matter were not brought up now, and the flaw which is found to exist were not remedied at the present stage, the confusion which would ensue would be more chaotic than my imagination can picture. All the officers who might venture to go on the premises of the Municipal Office after to-day would be trespassers, and as the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has said, the affairs of the Municipality would be brought to a deadlock. I confess that when my attention was drawn to the article in the periodical mentioned by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, it was the first intimation I had of this omission in the law. I then gave my attention to it, and the conclusion to which I have come is, that the officers now in the employ of the Municipality would certainly cease to exist, as such municipal officers, with the expiry of the Act which comes to its end to-day. I thought that possibly this was the one change in the whole constitution which the Government had given to the Corporation with which I was in agreement. I thought that possibly the Government intended to make a clean sweep of all the executive officers of the Municipality and to give to the new Corporation a free hand to eradicate those whom they might think to be weak spots in the administration. I was buoyed up with that hope until this morning, and it is one more matter of regret to me to find that the new Corporation would not be starting under such happy auspices as I should like to see. But as the Government have no such intention I am glad we are saved the terrible confusion which would have arisen, because the confusion would not be counterbalanced by the advantage the new Corporation would have had if they were allowed to make free choice of their officers.

"My hon'ble friend the Member in charge of the Bill has made one reference which forces me to reply on what he has said. He has referred to this matter not having been touched upon by any of the lawyers in this Council who took part in the discussions on the Calcutta Municipal Bill. With regard to this I would remind the Hon'ble Member that we, the ordinary Members of the Council, are not here as the legal advisers of the Government, and I would remind the Council how I, on more than one occasion, ventured respectfully to suggest how undesirable it was that there was no Crown lawyer, no legal adviser of the Crown, in this Council. I feared then, by instinct as it were, the Council not being, as I thought, rightly constituted, in the absence of the law officer of the Crown, and I expressed my fear, that there would be necessity for fresh legislation before this Bill came into force. This was not a prophecy after the event, for His Honour will remember that I expressed this fear to him when the original Bill was before the Council, and my fear has been realised in an extraordinary way. And I may be permitted to say that I think we have been deprived of the services of a law officer of the Crown for too long a period, and I trust that in the interests of the public we will not suffer from the same disadvantage again. I think that it will be a great disadvantage if at any future time we have not that assistance which we expect from the learned Advocate-General as the law officer of the Crown.

"With reference to the point as to the assistance which the legal members in this Council may be expected to give, I would ask Your Honour and the Hon'ble Members to remember that I ventured respectfully to beg for some little time, since I had only very lately joined the Council, in order that I might be able to give such help as lay in my power by an examination of the changes which were proposed in the law, but I was not permitted to have the time which I desired. My offer was most cordially made with the desire to do what I could to assist the Council, but it was not accepted, and I was unable to give the assistance I would have been glad to give. Therefore, on my part, I would disclaim any responsibility, if any is supposed to be on Members of this Council who are not members of this Government. I came to the conclusion, after having my attention drawn to this particular matter, that it must have been in some measure intentional on the part of the Government, because in the original Bill which the Hon'ble Member in charge has since altered, this particular proviso was inserted. It dropped out, I am not aware how, for I do not find any explanation of it in the Select Committee's report. The matter as far as I was concerned was hurried on, and I was unable to make any suggestions independent of the general principles of the Bill; and in examining the subject it must be seen that the new law makes this vast difference in the constitution of the Corporation that the Chairman is exalted to the position of supreme power in the Corporation. He has united in himself the triune functions of three co ordinate bodies, and the Vice-Chairman is placed in a position now in which he cannot be of the great service he has been in the past, and in every single particular, the constitution has been changed, and changed to such a degree, that it will be indeed a straining of the law to say that under the General Clauses Act the old officers can be continued under the new Act. I quite agree that the changes made are of a kind that should make us cautious in accepting that 'a contrary intention,' such as is contemplated in the General Clauses Act, does not appear, and I must say I agree with Sir Griffith Evans in his opinion that, if the Corporation continued working with the same officers as they had before the passing of the Act, without proper action being taken for their continuance, they would be in a very awkward position in the event of an application in a Court of Law. In spite of what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. O'dham, I must endorse what was said by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee with regard to the Calcutta Municipal Bill having been rushed through the Council in its final stages. We were kept here, day after day, in the worst period of the year, without regard to our humble protests and of the disadvantages under which we were placed, but Your Honour, with a most self-sacrificing disposition, was willing to undergo every discomfort in the most trying season of the year, in order that the Bill might be passed into law on the earliest opportunity. I failed, at the time, to see the necessity for the great urgency on account of which the Bill was pressed on, and events have only shown that there was really no real urgency. As for the necessity for the new law, one reason given was that the Corporation were incapable of meeting an emergency. But if we look at what was done at the outbreak of the plague, and the time before the Corporation was deprived of the help of some of its most active and efficient members by the resignation of twenty-eight Commissioners in a body, they will see good reason to think otherwise. Those Commissioners did good work and I missed them more than I can say in that body, and the work of the Corporation, as much as lay in the power of Commissioners to do, was well done. The places vacated by those who have resigned have been filled almost entirely by the nominees of the Government and from the class they have said they most desire. If the work before done was inefficient and unsatisfactory, in the present crisis of the plague I would have expected to see increased activity and a marked improvement, but as a matter of fact no steps are being taken to cope with the emergency. As far as the work of the Corporation is concerned, I cannot see what there was to induce the Government to hurry the Council to get this new Act passed.

"For my part I have always been most willing to give such help as I could before the event. In legislation, as I have said before, there are no rewards or punishments; there are consequences, and I do not think it wise not to readily accept any help in this Council that may be offered. I would much rather be of help before a Bill is passed than be in the position of a critic after a Bill is passed. With these observations I support the Bill."

The Motion was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR BAKER applied to the President to suspend the Rules of business to admit of the Bill being passed at the present sitting.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"As the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has said nothing in regard to one matter to which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar referred, I desire on the part of the Government to explain to the Hon'ble Member that I am quite certain the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill had no intention whatever of deprecating offers of assistance from legal members of the Council in the discussion of the Calcutta Municipal Bill. On the contrary he, as well as I myself, appreciate to the full the very cordial assistance and the very valuable assistance we received from those Hon'ble Members. The only object the Hon'ble Mr. Baker, as well as I myself, had in referring to the absence of the detection of this flaw was to show that it furnishes some justification to the Government that even acute, intelligent legal gentlemen who gave their cordial assistance in this matter had failed to detect the flaw which has now been remedied."

The Motion was put and agreed to and the Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER also moved that the Bill be taken into consideration.

The Hon'ble Mr. Woodroffe said :—I desire to say a very few words on this motion, and it occurs to me that this is the proper time to make them. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill seems to me to take too much blame to himself. The matter is one which might well have escaped attention, and I am consequently unable to appreciate the observation of the Hon'ble Member who spoke of the unenviable position of the Government. The Government of Bengal like any other Government in the world, is not infallible. I am glad to hear that the opinion which I ventured to give has been corroborated by a member of my profession whose valuable advice no man rates higher than I do, and I will only venture to observe, with reference to what fell from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill in respect of the advice given by the Secretary, that the opinion I gave does not involve any criticism on the General Clauses Act. In considering the General Clauses Act, it is always necessary to remember that every one of the definitions given in that Act are subject to the qualification 'unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,' and here there is that repugnancy in the subject and context. It appears to me that the Corporation which is now constituted is different from that which existed before. If it was the intention of the Government that matters should not be brought to a deadlock, that there was to be continuity of administration under the new constitution, then certainly in the case of the majority of officers, the only manner in which that result is attainable, is by the introduction and passing of this Bill. Furthermore it is to be observed that clause 25 of the General Clauses Act only speaks of Notifications issued under a repealed enactment, and I venture to think that by that is meant not Notifications that the appointments have been made by the Municipality, but Notifications operative per se. If they are operative by virtue of the Notification then they are well within the meaning of the General Clauses Act. It would I think be a very great misfortune if, owing to any mistaken view of the law, there should be brought about such a state of chaos as to some Members seem a matter of but little moment, and I can only express my satisfaction that the Government has seen fit to prevent its occurrence."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Baker also moved that the Bill be passed. He said:—

"After what has been said, especially by the learned Advocate-General, it is unnecessary for me to take up the time of the Council with any further remarks."

The Hon'ble Mr. Oldham said:—"I shall take up only three minutes in reminding the Council of an instance very pertinent to the present matter, of how a legal flaw may remain undetected until the last moment. In the first Calcutta Municipal Act, and in the Act which superseded it, it was provided that the affairs of the town should be managed by a body called the Town Council and now called the General Committee. But it was only in September last that it was discovered that no provision existed enabling the Commissioners to fill up vacancies in that body as they occurred. By the recent resignation of 28 Commissioners the General Committee lost more than half its members and became almost paralyzed from the difficulty of obtaining a quorum. For that reason alone there was urgent necessity for amending the Municipal Act. I think this is an instance in point."

The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar observed that what the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham had just mentioned as a flaw in the old Calcutta Municipal Act was discovered many years ago. The resignations of the members who left the General Committee were sent in some time after the decision was arrived at to proceed with the Bill so urgently.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 7th April, 1900.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Proceedings of the Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked :—

"Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the proceedings of the Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri, which have been published in the newspapers in connection with the enquiry into certain cases of bad livelihood under section 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code?

"Is it the case that the Deputy Commissioner made over to Mr. Foster, Joint-Magistrate, several cases of bad livelihood, although the latter was not legally empowered by the Government to try those cases, and although there were two Deputy Magistrates at Jalpaiguri, who were empowered to try such cases?

"Is it the case that, having made over these cases to the Joint-Magistrate, the Deputy Commissioner applied to the Government to vest the Joint-Magistrate with power to try such cases, and although the Government refused to vest the officer with this power, the cases were kept on the file of the Joint-Magistrate, who passed orders thereon, some of the prisoners being sent to jail on failing to find security; and that subsequently, when appeals were preferred against the order of the Joint-Magistrate, the Deputy Commissioner rejected the appeals, although he must have known that the orders of the Joint-Magistrate were illegal and passed without jurisdiction?

"Is it the case that, as regards one of the prisoners who was too ill to appear in Court and was detained in hajat, the evidence was taken by the Joint-Magistrate, in his absence, and the order was passed against him in jail, that he appealed to the Deputy Commissioner against this order, that the appeal was rejected and the man died in jail?

"Is it the case that the Judge called for the records in these cases, and that, subsequent thereto, the Deputy Commissioner drew up proceedings under section 124, Criminal Procedure Code, regarding the prisoners as no longer dangerous to the community, and that he released them, although only a short time ago he had rejected the appeals preferred by these prisoners.

"If these proceedings have been brought to the notice of the Government, will the Government be pleased to state what orders, if any, the Government has passed to mark its disapproval of such proceedings?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied :—

"The attention of the Lieutenant-Governor has been drawn to this matter, and the Commissioner has been asked for a report. When this has been received and considered by the Lieutenant-Governor the questions of the Hon'ble Member will be answered."

Filling up of vacancy in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes.

The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen said :—

"A vacancy having occurred in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes by the elevation of Mr. Handley to the High Court, will the Government be pleased to take into consideration the recognised claims of the Provincial Judicial Service, for filling up the vacancy: and will the Government consider it proper and necessary to consult the High Court, before making the appointment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied :—

"The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that members of the Subordinate Judicial Service are eligible for a seat in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, and that they have been appointed to that Court from time to time. Their claims have not been forgotten on the present occasion, but the Lieutenant-Governor has decided to appoint a member of the Calcutta Bar who has already officiated several times in the Court."

Burning of Plague-infected clothing.

The Hon'ble Raja Ranajit Sinha Bahadur, of Nashipur, said:—

"Is it a fact that the clothes of persons who die of plague or other infectious diseases in Calcutta are burnt in or near the street by kerosine oil, which becomes a nuisance to passers-by and creates panic in the minds of the public, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to order to stop the practice and to make other arrangements for burning the clothes in a secluded place?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Baker replied:—

"The effects of persons who have died of, or been infected by, plague are burnt when of no value, and the burning is ordinarily done on the spot, or as near it as a suitable place can be found. But if the articles are to be carried away to a distance to be burnt, there is a two-fold risk: that they may spread infection on the way, and also that, as has happened in more than one instance, they may be stolen and become the centres of new outbreaks.

"The Health Officer has been instructed to make every possible effort to have such articles burnt in the least public manner possible; but if the public are to be protected from very real dangers, it is most inexpedient that such articles should be taken to any considerable distance."

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1900-1901.

The Hon'ble Mr. Baker moved for the discussion of the Bengal Financial Statement for 1900-1901.

The Hon'ble Raja Shashi Shakhareswar Roy Bahadur, of Tahirpur, said:—"Only a few words I have got to say and that is in connection with the increment which has been made in the provision for primary education. Considering the resources now available to the Government for encouraging primary education, the increased provision made in the Financial Statement is not an unfair one, and although we are thankful for it, I think the need of the country in this direction requires a far larger outlay to produce any tangible effect upon the vast illiterate agricultural population.

"Belonging as I do to a class the first and foremost duty of which consists in providing their tenants with elementary education, I feel myself a little embarrassed when I ask the Government to discharge a duty which is incumbent upon them to do. But Sir, when the physicians' case is worse than their patients, they cannot but look to a higher party for remedy. In this matter of spreading primary education as the Government is always fully alive and more interested than any of us could pretend to be, it is not at all necessary for me here to say much in its support. What I beg to lay before Your Honor is that any attempt made by the Government in the matter of affording cheap and practical education suited to the requirements of the great agricultural population will always be gratefully acknowledged not only by the poor and helpless ryots themselves, but also by the large body of zemindars who are fully aware that their prosperity is closely blended with that of their ryots.

"The means to achieve this end, it is true, it is very difficult to suggest, as neither the expense on higher education could be curtailed nor the creation of any new source of income by the imposition of any fresh direct taxes upon the people is possible under the present state of circumstances. But I think, Sir, it is possible to make perceptable progress not only in the matter of primary education of the people, but also in the matter of village sanitation by securing the active co-operation and help of the zemindars and the village people, and this could be done, in my humble opinion, by reviving in some modified form the old village panchayet system of this country."

The Hon'ble Raja Ranajit Sinha Bahadur, of Nashipur, said:—"Your Honour,—Last year at the time of discussion of the Financial Statement I expressed a hope that the year would end favourably, and I am glad to find that my expectation has been realised to a certain extent, though not in full. We all know how the famine is causing havoc in other parts of the Empire, so we are fortunate in that respect, though there may be scarcity in some parts of Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions. Plague, Sir, I am sorry to say, has not left us as yet; so in face of its existence and of the scarcity in some parts of the Province, the budget as prepared by my hon'ble friend the Financial Secretary cannot but be considered satisfactory, and he is to be congratulated for the same. No doubt there has been an encroachment on our opening balance to meet the deficit of Rs. 1,00,800, but it is not disappointing when we find that it was done, not to meet any recurrent expenditure, but to meet extraordinary expenses on account of plague, famine and cyclone. I should take this opportunity of expressing our heartfelt thanks to Your Honour for the Circular published in the last week's Gazette regarding bifurcation of studies in high schools, which aims at commercial, industrial and practical education in Bengal, and which opens new fields for our countrymen to earn their livelihood.

"Sir, there are technical schools scattered hither and thither in some parts of Bengal, but for want of sufficient funds and encouragement, they are lying useless. The indigenous arts and industries of our country are gradually becoming extinct, and they cannot flourish, specially in this country, without State encouragement. I am fully alive to the fact that Your Honour takes a special interest in technical education, and so I beg that some grants in-aid be sanctioned for such technical schools which, after necessary enquiries, are considered to be deserving of such aid from Your Honour's Government.

"Turning towards the head Police, I am glad to notice that provision has been made to give effect to the recommendations of the Police Commission by substituting Sub-Inspectors for head constables in investigating crimes. Sir, may I be permitted to suggest one improvement in the matter of conducting prosecutions of police cases in subordinate criminal courts? At present the Sub-Inspectors are employed to conduct such prosecutions, and get special extra allowances in addition to their pay for the same. As far as my experience goes, I think these men seldom possess sufficient knowledge in criminal law, and specially in the Evidence Act, and the result is that many guilty persons escape punishment. If the local pleaders or mukhtears be appointed for the purpose, the cases will be better conducted, and at the same time there will be no additional expenditure on that account, as in that case no extra allowance need be paid to Court Sub-Inspectors.

"Then, Sir, I find the income of our Law Courts is steadily increasing. If the actual collections in 1898-99 be compared with the figure put down in the revised estimate for 1899-1900, it will be found that there was an increase of Rs. 6,59,033 in the sale of court-fees alone; so in my humble opinion some improvement in the working machinery of our Civil Courts should be made. There is one universal complaint against the present system of process-serving in the Civil Court. The parties are put to much harassment and unnecessary expense by having the summonses served through the peons, who generally do not bear a very good reputation. It would be more convenient and at the same time less expensive if summonses could be served through the Post Office, and if this system be given a trial in some districts, I am sure it will prove successful.

"Then, Sir, the question of proper adjustment of the collection charges for Public Works and Road Cesses between the Government and the local bodies was a matter of criticism long since; and though, as a matter of equity, one-half of the charges should have been borne by Provincial revenues; we are, however, thankful to Your Honour for deciding to pay one-third of the actual cost of collecting both the cesses instead of the fixed sum hitherto paid. May I be permitted to suggest that the District Boards should be instructed to set apart the savings thus effected exclusively for the purpose of water-supply in addition to their annual grant for the same? It has already been brought to Your Honour's notice how intense becomes the sufferings of the people, specially those living in the interior, on account of the scarcity of water during the hot season. We are grateful to Your Honour for the kind assurance given by the Hon'ble Mr. Baker on your behalf, in reply to my question of 20th December last, that Your Honour has entire sympathy with our desire that a pure supply of drinking water should be provided throughout the country, and we find that Rs. 10,000 was granted last year to the Bhagalpur Municipality for sinking wells, and so I am sure that the day is not very far distant when our cherished hopes will be realised and the long felt want of the people removed.

"Then, Sir, turning towards the head 'Public Works,' I find Rs. 15,000 has been provided for building Munsifs' quarters, and if something be done every year in that direction, I am sure in the course of a few years the grievances of Munsifs in that respect will be completely removed. Sir, with Your Honour's permission I should like to bring one matter to Your Honour's notice for favourable consideration. The Honorary Magistrates are doing useful service, but very little attention is paid to their legitimate comforts. Generally, where a Bench is situated at a subdivision or any outlying place, the worst part in the whole building is set apart for the Bench Court, and even then no proper accommodation is made. Sir, formerly no Honorary Magistrate used to be vested with a higher power than a Magistrate of the third class, and none was ever allowed to sit singly, and so they used to sit together as a Bench to try petty cases only, and had not to attend more than once a month, but now-a-days the case is different. There are very few Benches where some of the members are not authorised to sit singly or vested with first class or second class powers, and so they have to attend oftener and work like Stipendiary Magistrates, and so they feel much inconvenience for want of proper accommodation. I appeal to Your Honour on their behalf in this matter.

"The question of giving increments to the ministerial officers of the Government has been a matter of discussion long since. The two Financial Secretaries to the Government admitted the necessity of increasing their pay by 12½ per cent., but unfortunately nothing can be done as yet in that direction. To-day with Your Honour's permission I should add another class of Government servants to that list—I mean the ungraded officers of the Education Department. These men have to work for years together, and sometimes even for their whole life, on the same pay, without any prospect of promotion or increment; so after a few years' service they become disheartened and disappointed, and I am afraid the education of the beginners suffers at their hands. They are generally left unnoticed whenever there occurs any vacancy in any graded appointment; men from outside are generally recruited to it, and their claims are very seldom considered; so I hope this matter will receive favourable consideration at Your Honour's hands."

The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya said:—"Sir, I have no desire to detain the Council with a minute or exhaustive criticism of the Financial Statement which has been laid before us. It may be conceded that the resources of the Financial Secretary are taxed to the utmost when he is called upon to find ways and means in a year of exceptional difficulty, in which we have to face the effects of the appalling catastrophe which befell Darjeeling in September last, the effect of the terrible pestilence which has now unfortunately spread through various districts of the Province and perhaps also the effects of a famine which may prove an unwelcome visitor in spite of all that human prudence and human foresight can do. That under circumstances like these, the Hon'ble Member has found it possible to present so satisfactory a statement, is a matter for congratulation; and I shall content myself with offering a few remarks upon one or two heads of the Budget which deal with subjects in which I take a special interest, I mean the heads of Education and Law and Justice.

"First, as regards Education, I take the liberty to invite the attention of Your Honour's Government to the fact that in recent years, there has been a steady and marked decrease in the amount annually devoted to the maintenance of Government Arts Colleges. Neglecting fractions of a thousand, the amount spent in the official year 1896-97 upon Government Arts Colleges was five lacs twenty-four thousand rupees. In 1897-98 the amount was five lacs twelve thousand, in the year following it was four lacs ninety-four thousand, and in the year which has just closed it came down to four lacs seventy-five thousand. It is instructive to examine in detail the figures for the year which has just closed and the year which is just beginning. For the year 1899-1900 the Budget estimate was five lacs twenty-eight thousand, being six thousand in excess of the Budget estimate and forty-eight thousand in excess of the revised estimate for the preceding year. It was explained last year that this increase was intended to provide for the purchase of instruments for the astronomical observatory at the Presidency College. A reference to the present Financial Statement, however, shows that the revised estimate for the year which has just closed is less than the Budget estimate by fifty-three thousand rupees and is less than the revised estimate for the preceding year by five thousand rupees. It is manifest, therefore, that the increase in expenditure, which was contemplated last year as rendered necessary by the astronomical Observatory at the Presidency College, has not been incurred. If the Observatory has not yet been fitted up, it would be important to know why no provision has been made for it in the present Budget. If it has already been equipped, this could only have been done by substantial reduction elsewhere, and I have grave doubts if this could have been possible without a corresponding reduction in efficiency. Again if we take the estimate for the official year which has just begun, we find that the amount set apart for the maintenance of Government Arts Colleges, is five lacs thirty thousand, which exceeds by two thousand, the estimated amount for the preceding year; but as the figure for the present year includes a sum of forty-six thousand rupees for the maintenance of the Eden Hindu, and the Elliott Madrassa Hostels which in previous years was included under a separate heading called 'Miscellaneous,' it is clear that the estimated amount for the present year is less than the estimated amount for the preceding year by fully Rs. 44,000. It is explained that a reduction of Rs. 28,000 will be made under the heading of 'Salaries and Supplies' of Arts Colleges. It is not explained, however, in what manner the further reduction of Rs. 16,000 will operate. But if this steady decrease in the amount annually spent for the maintenance of Government Arts Colleges is somewhat startling, it is a matter for surprise that the income derivable from fees in those Colleges, has, during these very years, steadily increased. In 1896-97 the increase from fees was Rs. 1,67,000, in 1897-98 the amount was Rs. 1,78,000, in the year following, it was Rs. 1,88,000, while the year which has just closed shows an income of Rs. 2,13,000, and if the estimate for the year which has just begun can be relied upon, it is expected that the figure will be fully maintained.

"I hope I have made it abundantly clear to you by an examination of the figures for the last five years that the income derivable from fees in Government Arts Colleges has steadily increased, while the amount spent for their maintenance has been steadily diminished. I should grievously fail in my duty if I had any desire to conceal the fact that this circumstance has been the source of the deepest regret to me as also to every educated Indian who has learnt to value and appreciate the advantages of high education. I am no prophet, but I can almost anticipate the answer of my hon'ble friend the Education Secretary. It will be pointed out that the Government has been steadily encouraging primary and secondary education and that the people have in a great measure, taken the cause of high education, as they ought to do, in their own hands. As to the first point, I may say at once that I yield to none in my appreciation of the duty of the Government to educate the masses, but I cannot overlook that it is equally the duty of the Government to offer all possible facilities for the high education of such portions of the community as may be qualified to receive its advantages. The position which I venture to take up is, I need hardly point out, amply sustained by the great Education Despatch of 1854. As regards the second point, I have heard a great deal in recent years about the establishment of Colleges throughout the country, by private munificence and under private management. I rejoice to think that these institutions have unquestionably popularised high education throughout these provinces, and I yield to none in my admiration for the wealthy and educated gentlemen who have taken part in this great movement. Their enterprise and self-sacrifice have been justly extolled both by Government and by the public, but no amount of rhetoric will blind me to the fact that their resources are necessarily limited. The foremost amongst the aristocracy of these provinces have held aloof from this movement, and I am not aware of a single private institution whose permanence is assured or which can boast of an endowment in any way comparable to what the Colleges of Oxford and Cambridge can show. It would be idle, indeed it would be unfair, to compare our private institutions, either from the point of view of their efficiency or of their stability, with an institution which the Government, if it chooses, may easily maintain. Indeed in order that these institutions might be supplied with a thoroughly efficient staff, we must have at least one model College, where education is imparted at the highest possible standard by the best available men. I cannot admit that the time has come when the Government can safely weaken the cause of high education, and I have, therefore, noticed with the deepest concern this policy of retrenchment; retrenchment necessarily implies the employment of inferior agency or of competent persons upon inadequate salary; in either event, the result must be unsatisfactory. I speak so strongly upon the subject because I feel strongly upon it. In education if nowhere else, we must avail ourselves of the services of the very best men. My views may be called unpatriotic, they may even be condemned as heretical, but I make no secret whatever that if I had to appoint a Professor in any of our Colleges, I would without hesitation take the ablest man, be he Native or European, and give him an adequate remuneration. But if you make your other departments more attractive than the Education Department, if you hold out better prospects in the Judicial and Executive branches of your service, you cannot expect to have the best talent in the Education Department. I trust, therefore, that the time has come when this policy of retrenchment will be carried no further—I am not asking for a reversal of the policy and that there will be at least one College in the province which will be maintained at the highest attainable standard without any attempt made to cripple it by reductions under the head of 'Salaries and Supplies.'

"But, Sir, if I have ventured to criticise without reserve this policy of retrenchment in the matter of high education, I must discharge another duty of a more pleasing character; it would be ingratitude on my part not to thank Your Honour for the establishment of post-graduate scholarships for the encouragement of original research by the graduates of my University. It is a source of gratification to me that the University had, at my instance, taken steps in a similar direction when it made the Studentship founded by the munificence of Mr. Premchand Raychand of Bombay, tenable only upon condition of continued devotion to original research. The success of the scheme then adopted by the Senate has been now assured by the establishment of the scholarships to which I have just referred, and I trust the time is not far distant when, with an increasing number of workers in the field of original research, similar scholarships will be endowed by my wealthy countrymen in the manner so clearly indicated by the Government of Bengal.

"I have detained you too long with a discussion of matters educational and my intended observations upon the head of 'Law and Justice' must be necessarily brief. Indeed I shall confine myself to one point, reserving for another occasion the question of the salary of Judicial Officers and their house accommodation. The only point I wish to deal with relates to what is described as the Pleadership Examination. I find that the receipts for this examination are very much in excess of the charges incurred. If you take the Budget estimate for the present year you find that the receipts expected are Rs. 53,000 and the charges only Rs. 16,000, If you take the actuals for the three preceding years you will find that the net profit to Government from this item alone has been Rs. 82,000. I confess that I cannot reconcile myself to the idea that it is dignified for the Government of Bengal to make a profit out of these examinations. The candidates who appear at these examinations come mostly from the middle classes of the community, and many of them are poor; the fees charged are, as appears from the figures I have just quoted, needlessly and perhaps often oppressively high; a reduction seems to be possible, and I trust the matter will receive the consideration of the Government."

The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen said:—"A Financial Statement which has been prepared by able and experienced experts is one which ought and does command our respect. The Budget estimate for 1900-1901 which starts with an opening balance of 35 lakhs and which shows receipts to the amount of Rs. 4,70,00,000, and an expenditure of Rs. 4,80,00,000, leaving a closing balance of about 25 lakhs, no doubt is a very satisfactory statement. It shows a statement which is both satisfactory and popular. The Government has not to struggle to find funds to meet the cost of the administration; there is no necessity for the imposition of any new tax; no attempt has been made to curtail any expenses which are considered necessary for the good administration of the province; and in this respect the Government has to be congratulated on its financial position. On an occasion like this when there is an invitation to discuss the Budget estimate, I would fail in my duty if I did not take advantage of the opportunity to make suggestions which I think it necessary to make and which ought to be considered by the Government and which might eventually lead the Government to prepare revised estimates.

"First, then, with regard to Stamps, I find the revenue from this source estimated to amount to Rs. 46,75,000, three-fourths of which goes to the Provincial Revenues as receipts from non-judicial stamps. The new Stamp Act of 1899 has come into operation from July last. Under this Act stamps on leases are ten times higher than what they were under the Act previously in force. The stamp for a lease by which a rent of Rs. 100 is reserved used to be Re. 1, but now stamp fee of Rs. 10 has to be paid, an increase of tenfold; therefore I venture to think that the revenue under the head of 'Stamps' has been underestimated.

"With regard to the revenue derivable from Excise I find that 140 lakhs have been estimated from the sale of liquor, of which one-half is the Provincial share. An increase in the revenue is anticipated, and from an explanatory note I find that the increase is said to be due 'to better settlement.' If the principle of raising a maximum of revenue from a minimum of consumption is to be considered the correct principle to be followed in raising revenue from the sale of intoxicating drugs and alcohol, I respectfully submit that that principle has not been followed. In the last Resolution of the Government in respect of the Excise Administration for 1898 exact figures have been given, and from them you will find a consumption of 530,000 gallons in 1898-99 as compared with 442,000 gallons in 1897-98, and showing an increase of about 20 per cent. in the consumption. This is certainly to be deprecated. The Government does not desire a larger consumption of liquor, not only from a moral point of view, but for other considerations as well; therefore you should make as much revenue as is practicable by as little consumption of alcohol as is possible. The explanatory remark that the increase is due to better settlement is an inducement to the officers who have to administer the law in the mufassal districts, to increase the revenue. I therefore cannot approve of that remark, nor do I think any increase of revenue ought to be taken into account under this head.

"Then under the head of 'Provincial Rates,' up to this time a certain sum was paid from Provincial Revenues towards the cost of collection of both the Road and Public Works Cesses. We feel thankful to the Government for having now decided to pay in future one-third of the actual cost of collection; we feel thankful, but we are not satisfied, for there is no reason why it should not be one-half instead of one-third. The matter was taken into consideration by the Members of the Board of Revenue, but they did not go far enough. Half and half would have given satisfaction; still we are thankful to the Government for what has been done. With regard to this also I think the statement in the Budget that an increase in Cess is expected in the districts of Dacca and Faridpur on the completion of re-valutions in those districts is objectionable, for it will operate as an inducement to the officers to increase the assessments. They will consider themselves bound to give effect to that expectation: they will look upon it as a sort of order.

"Then with regard to the Income-tax there is an explanatory note that there is a progressive increase in these receipts, and therefore an increased amount is taken into consideration, and the Collectors and Deputy Collectors in charge will consider themselves bound to show such progressive increase. I submit that the existing revenue ought to have been taken into account, and an increase ought not to be shown in the estimates.

"I have a few remarks to make with regard to Jails. The receipts from Jail manufactures are shown as amounting to Rs. 10,23,000 and the cost of raw materials as Rs. 7,55,000, leaving a net profit of Rs. 2,58,000; or in other words the value of the prisoners' labour and skill amounts to Rs. 2,58,000. If this revenue is obtained from the labour of the prisoners I think a little more money may be given for their diet. Fish in Bengal is a sort of staple food; and as I have the honour of being a visitor of the Jail in my district, I take considerable interest in the welfare of the prisoners, and I think the food given to the prisoners is not sufficient. I do not complain of the quantity of rice and dâl being insufficient, but a little fish ought to be given, and this might conveniently be given out of the profits derived by the Government from the labour of the prisoners, which this year amounts to Rs 2,58,000.

"On the subject of Education my hon'ble friend Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya has made certain observations which we all value. Retrenchment in regard to high education we cannot agree to. For primary and secondary education as much money as can be allotted should certainly be given. I do not consider it necessary to repeat the observations which have already been made, and therefore I shall say no more on this point.

"Under the head of 'Law and Justice' sufficient details are not given with regard to the charges on account of the Civil and Sessions Courts, and we are therefore placed at a disadvantage. I think a little more money ought to be allotted for strengthening the ministerial establishment of the Munsifs, especially when they are attached to mufassal chowkies. In a mufassal chowky ordinarily there are not less than some 3,000 original suits and as many execution of decree, cases. It is not possible for the few officers now in the establishment to work off all these 6,000 cases in a year. These officers work in the morning until 9 o'clock; then they take a hasty meal and attend Court and return from Court in the evening, and they work again from evening until 9 or 10 at night. They are interdicted from carrying records to their homes, but I fear the rule is violated, and they are obliged to take papers home to assist them in writing out the processes. In some cases the muharrirs of pleaders are called upon to write out papers, and they do it to expedite business. But notwithstanding this the ministerial officers work very hard, and their case ought to be taken into consideration. The addition of one muharrir to each chowky would be sufficient for the present.

"Under the head of 'Civil Works' there is a grant of Rs. 15,000 for the residences of Munsifs. This matter has been referred to by the Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur, who thinks the allotment sufficient. But I am not satisfied with it. If for the improvement of the General Hospital and to make good the damages which occurred from what is known as the Darjeeling disaster four lakhs can be afforded, I think a little more money might be given for the residences of Munsifs, who have in many instances to live in common huts. Those who have been to the places inhabited by some Munsifs know what hardships they have to endure. In a few places habitable houses are procurable, but in most places no houses can be got. I submit that more money, say Rs. 50,000, should be allotted for building habitations for Munsifs wherever they are most needed.

"Lastly, with regard to Provincial Navigation Works—the works in connection with the Nadia rivers, which include three rivers, one of which is the Bhagirathi.

"The other day I had the honour of asking a question regarding the improvement of the entrance to the Bhagirathi: the answer given to me on that occasion was a hopeful one, and I expected that some provision would be made this year for the improvement of the entrance to this river and for making the channel navigable throughout the year. In the answer the deterioration of the Nadia rivers was admitted; also that the Government was fully aware of the deterioration of these rivers, and that it had been attracting the attention of the Government for years. I was also given to understand that the Government was fully alive to the necessity of keeping the Bhagirathi navigable throughout the year, and it was also recognised by the Government that on sanitary grounds it was desirable to have as large a discharge as possible in these rivers during the dry months. A statement was also laid on the table showing the revenue derived from the tolls on these rivers for the last ten years, and the expenditure incurred upon them during the same period. The statement showed that during the last four years the expenditure exceeded the receipts, but taking the ten years' revenue and expenditure there was a surplus of about three lakhs. I expected, after having received that answer on behalf of the Government, that some provision would be made for improving the entrance to the Bhagirathi river and for improving its channel. Your Honour has seen this river from its entrance to the place where it is called the Hooghly, a distance of over a hundred miles. There are villages on both banks of the river the inhabitants of which use the water for drinking and domestic purposes. I do not wish to introduce sentimental considerations and the sacred aspect of the case in this discussion: that might be looked upon as the purely religious aspect of the matter. But purely on administrative grounds I lay the case before Your Honour. For over a length of four miles from the entrance there are only three inches of water. Large shoals have come into existence within the last four years. The very fact of a diminution of revenue shows that the channel has become less and less navigable. It might be said that the revenue has been affected by the railways; but I venture to submit that the traffic has not been taken away by the railways to such an extent as to materially decrease the revenue. But, apart from the merely commercial view of the matter, I appeal to Your Honour's Government from a purely administrative point of view. The Government has always shown considerable anxiety in securing good drinking-water for village populations and to improve the sanitation of villages. From the way in which the Bhagirathi is silting up, I think it will silt up to a very large extent within the next few years. There will be no continuous stream; no depth of water for a hundred miles together; already aquatic plants are springing up in the bed of the river; the soil will become marshy and become a nursery for malarial diseases and pestilences of some sort or other. The health of the people will become affected; they will not have any drinking water, and the port of Calcutta itself will be affected. If there be no proper discharge in the Bhagirathi in the dry season the port of Calcutta must become seriously affected: it cannot remain as it is. It was only the other day that the water-works of Berhampore were opened, but they will soon be of no utility. Owing to want of sufficient quantity of water brought about by the deterioration of the river, the suction-pipe had to be extended. There was a sufficient supply this year, but in a few years there will not be any supply at all if the present state of things goes on. There being a diminution in the volume as well as the velocity of the stream, the shoals become greater and greater, and in a short time a much larger amount of silt must accumulate, and when the pestilence appears the Government will have to spend lakhs and lakhs of rupees to deal with it. Is it not therefore desirable that this state of things, which is sure to occur very shortly, should be prevented? Is it not preventible? I submit it is. It is a practical problem. Your Honour's Government stated the other day by the mouth of the Hon'ble Mr. Buckley that a large dredger was expected by the Port Commissioners, and that that dredger might be used to clear the silt which has accumulated, no doubt at a heavy cost. Suppose even a lakh has to be spent for working the dredger for three months—September, October and November—when the river commences to fall after the rainy season. Is not that desirable? Is it not necessary that the Government should spend that amount and take proper measures to prevent the occurrence of such a disaster. If the river becomes navigable throughout the year and the improvement be effected from a commercial point of view, the revenue will increase proportionately. But independently of that consideration I submit that, having regard to the sanitation of the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, Burdwan and Hooghly, and the providing of a sufficient supply of good drinking water, there is absolute necessity to take effective measures, after such consultation with the expert advisers of the Government as may be necessary to prevent the silting up of the channel There has been a suggestion recently made by an Engineer to cut out a new channel. I am not an expert and do not pretend to form any opinion on such matters, but I would respectfully suggest the use of the dredger in the first instance. I fully appreciate the force of the observation which has been made that the changes which are taking place in the deltaic tracts will soon result in the silting up of the channel, if not in ten years, in twenty, thirty or fifty years, or it may be in a century. Men must die some day, but is that any reason why medicine should not be taken when the necessity arises? I earnestly submit that the Government should take such measures as they might think proper in order to prevent as far as practicable the silting up of this channel."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"I am sure the attention of Hon'ble Members has been called to a remarkable article which appeared in the Pioneer in the course of this week. The writer has evidently been impressed by the unique demonstrations of loyalty which the Boer War has elicited among all classes of the community in all parts of India, and impressed by these demonstrations, he formulates the policy, born of Imperialistic ideas, which ought to guide the Government of India in its relations with the people of this country. The writer says with great force and truth that the difficulties of Indian administration can only be minimized by conciliating the people and conciliating public opinion in regard to its various administrative measures. The invitation of the Government of this Province to discuss the Budget from a popular point of view is an open attempt to focus the expression of public opinion on the various items in the Budget, with a view to action in the future. No doubt the Budget which is laid before us has already been settled by the Government of India, and anything we might say is not likely to lead to any modification, for it was in that view I suggested on a former occasion that the Budget should be laid before this Council before it was submitted to the Government of India. But there were difficulties in the way, and the suggestion was not accepted. All the same, I am not prepared to admit that our discussions are purely of an academic character. Our suggestions might prove of use in framing future Budgets, and whatever we may say may fructify for good in regard to the future.

"We have before us in this Budget the accounts of three years. We have the actuals of 1898-99, the revised estimates of 1899-1900, and we have the budget estimates of 1900-1901. With regard to the first of these the cash balance is less by two lakhs, and this was due to shorter collections under the head of Land Revenue and larger expenditure on Public Works. I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Financial Department will tell us what was the amount of short collections of Land Revenue, and that he will also give us some explanation as to the details of the expenditure on Public Works. With regard to the revised estimates for 1899-1900, the financial position shows a betterment by 19 lakhs of rupees. This is due partly to increase of revenue and partly to reduction of expenditure. The two most noticeable heads of increase are Excise and Stamps. My hon'ble friend Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has referred to these important questions. We have been furnished with an explanation under the head of Excise. While the Executive Government view with satisfaction any increase in the Excise Revenue, all public men in India view with suspicion any great expansion of Revenue from Excise. My hon'ble friend the Financial Secretary says that the growth of the Excise Revenue is due to the growing prosperity of the people; that has been the invariable answer which has been given by Chancellors of the Exchequer in all parts of the world to account for the expansion of the Excise Revenue. Well, Sir, we are told there is a growth of prosperity among he people. I am one of the people; I live among the people; I rejoice in their joys; I sympathise with their sorrows. The middle-class man is truly in a bad way with the prevalence of plague and malaria. What with his fixed income, the rise in the cost of provisions and labour, he is hardly far removed from bankruptcy. and if he has a number of daughters to get married, then only the intervention of the Divine Providence can save him from irretrievable ruin. I do not see any trace of prosperity. I do not wish to enter into the larger consideration whether under British rule there has been an accession or a diminution of prosperity among the people. That is not relevant to the issues before us. All the same, I say most distinctly—and I am sure my hon'ble friends of the middle classes who are here, as well as those of the nobility who are present, will agree with me—that there are no traces of prosperity among the middle classes who constitute the backbone of the community. If we are not prepared to accept the view of my hon'ble friend, his figures disclose a mournful situation. There has been an increase in the consumption of liquor, but no increase in the prosperity of the people. I do not know what the answer of the Hon'ble Member will be to the disclosures which have been made by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen. Possibly he will say that there has been an increase in the population, but surely there cannot have been such an increase of population in one year as to justify an increased consumption to the extent of one-third? There has been a sensible increase in the revenue from distilleries and outstills. The figures in page 13 show an increase of 13 lakhs of rupees from the revenue under this head. I hope the Hon'ble Member will be able to give us the assurance that there has been no increase in the number of distilleries and outstills. And I venture to suggest whether it will not be desirable to open a new column to show the number of outstills licensed from year to year and the fees derived from them.

"The next point to which I desire to call attention is with reference to the receipt side of the revised estimates of 1899-1900, namely, the fees realised from the sale of Stamps. My hon'ble friend Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has already referred to this matter. There has been a large increase; what does that mean? It means an increase of litigation. Litigation may enrich the Government, but it impoverishes the people. I cannot think of any section or class of the people whom litigation can benefit, save that distinguished profession which is so largely represented in this Council,—all the same, litigation is morally and financially disastrous to the people of those Provinces. It is one of those things which we have learned from English influences. It is repugnant to our own instincts. Arbitration was the ancient mode of settling disputes. It is as old as the hills and is graven deep on the instincts of the people. I was surprised at the omission of my hon'ble friend, the Raja of Tahirpur, to refer to this important matter. I thought he was an enthusiast in this matter, and I wish he would bring to bear on this subject the zeal which he so conspicuously displays in connection with his pet scheme of the Rajkumar College. This matter was referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Toynbee in the recent debates in the Imperial Legislative Council. He said it would be the duty of Government to foster a system of settlement of disputes, the effect of which would be to put an end to litigation and to create Arbitration Courts. My friend, Mr. N. K. Bose, when he was Magistrate of Noakhali, started Arbitration Courts with admirable results; they were the subjects of praise from the Government. There was a talk the other day of establishing a Sub-Divisional Court in Barrackpore, where I live. I discussed the matter with the Hon'ble Mr. Bolton and set my face strenuously against it. It would benefit no one but the pleaders; the people should be left to their own unaided instincts to settle their disputes with the help of the leading members of their community. It would be a good thing if, before laying down the reins of your great office, Your Honour did some thing to establish these Arbitration Courts which would enable the poorer sections of the community to avoid resorting to expensive and harassing litigation, and to settle their disputes among themselves.

"There is one other matter with regard to the revised estimates of 1899-1900 to which I wish to refer,—I mean Jail manufactures, which show a steady tendency to increase. I hope these manufactures do not stand in competition with private enterprise. And I join my hon'ble friend Babu Boikanta Nath Sen in his appeal for a little fish to be given to the prisoners. My own conviction is—I hope I may be wrong—that the prisoners do not get all that is paid for; that they get only a percentage of it, and that being so, it would be well to give them a little fish in addition to the prescribed dietary which they do not fully receive. European prisoners get their meat; why should not Bengalis get their fish? It is a staple article of food in these Provinces, and the deprivation of it is much felt.

"Coming to the Budget estimates of 1900-1901, I desire to refer to the increase in the land revenue of 4½ lakhs mentioned in page 12. I want to ask whether the increase is due to the over-assessment of land? We in Bengal enjoy the inestimable blessing of a permanent settlement of the land revenue, and I hope that the Government of India in its wisdom may see its way to extend the benefits of the permanent settlement in a modified form to other provinces. I ask whether the increase of land revenue to the extent of 4½ lakhs represents the result of re-assessments and over-assessments which have been made?

"Then under the head of Assessed Taxes my hon'ble friend Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has already made certain suggestions. I desire to call attention to the item of penalties. The actuals for 1898-99 were Rs. 22,836; and in the revised estimates of 1899-1900 and the Budget estimates of 1900-1901 it is increased to Rs. 25,000. When the estimates for penalties are increased there is always a desire on the part of the departments concerned to work up to them by inflicting heavier fines. Too exorbitant penalties should not be inflicted in cases of this sort: there ought to be no incentive to do so. Then with regard to the collection of the Income-Tax, a considerable increase has been estimated for. Have you any data for raising the receipts so high notwithstanding the present state of the country?

"Then I come to interest on loans to municipal and other bodies. That shows an increase from Rs. 1,42,000 to Rs. 1,75,000. Have you provided for the grant of larger loans to Municipalities and District Boards? I hope the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will be able to give me an answer in the affirmative. I ventured to suggest on a former occasion that steps should be taken to provide the riparian municipalities with effective drainage It will not be in the power of these Municipalities to take steps in that direction without considerable assistance from the Government, and if my hon'ble friend will give the assurance that larger loans are to be given to local bodies, and among others to the riparian municipalities as I have suggested, I shall be satisfied.

"Then I turn to the receipts from the Midnapore Canal, where there is a falling off in the estimate from Rs. 2,33,000, the actuals for 1898-99, to Rs. 2,02,000, the Budget estimate for this year, but there is no explanation given. In the case of the Orissa Coast Canal we have the same thing; there is a falling off from Rs. 75,000, the actuals of 1898-99, to Rs. 50,000, the Budget estimate for this year, a falling off of several thousands.

"Now I come to the expenditure side of the Budget. Land Revenue is the first item to which I shall refer. Under the head of 'Charges of District Administration' the explanation as to the increase is that it is for larger provision under 'Salaries and Establishments' which are specified. That will explain the increase in the year 1900-1901, namely, from Rs. 30,49,000, the actuals of 1898-99, and Rs. 30,27,000, the Budget estimate of 1899-1900, to Rs. 31,68,000 in 1900-1901; but it will not explain the increase from Rs. 31,00,000, the revised estimate for 1899-1900, to Rs. 31,68,000, the Budget estimate for 1900-1901, and I solicit an explanation. Then under the head of 'Management of Government Estates' we have an increase of expenditure from Rs. 4,70,000 to Rs. 5,00,000, but there is no explanation given. Under the head of 'Land Records and Agriculture' the revised estimate of 1899-1900 is Rs. 83,000 and the Budget estimate of 1900-1901 is Rs. 93,000. The explanation is that there were savings under salaries in 1898-99. That would explain the figure Rs. 83,000, but it will not explain the increase to Rs. 93,000.

"Then I come to Stamps. There is increase from Rs. 78,000, the actuals for 1898-99, to Rs. 83,000, the revised estimate of 1899-1900, and to Rs. 86,000, the Budget estimate for 1900-1901, and it is explained that the increase is partly for increments in the salary of the Superintendent. Under the head of 'Charges for the sale of general stamps,' it is stated that there has been a shrinkage in the sale of general stamps, but yet the charges have increased. This requires explanation.

"Under the head of Customs, the Collector's establishment has increased, the Appraising establishment has increased, the Preventive establishment has increased. In fact the whole of the Collector's establishments show an increase, and the same observation applies to salaries under the head of Forests. Whenever there is an increase in salaries, I submit careful explanations are necessary; but unfortunately in most cases explanations are not given.

"Then coming to General Administration, there is an increase under the head of Civil Secretariats, and the explanation is that it is an increase in the grant for Contingencies, but there is no further explanation given.

"Then I come to Law and Justice. I shall not take up the time of the Council with many remarks on this head, because a great deal has already been said with regard to this part of the Budget. As for the grant of Rs. 15,000 for the residences of Munsifs, I should like to know whether any houses have been erected during the year which has just expired. On previous occasions Budget estimates were framed under this head, but they were not given effect to. Under the head of Jails, the charge for superintendence has increased. Then again no explanation is given with regard to the increased estimate for contingent charges under this head, which has risen from Rs. 36,000, the actuals for 1898-99, to Rs. 41,000, the revised estimate of 1899-1900, and to Rs. 42,000, the Budget estimate for 1900-1901. I desire to remark that contingencies cover a multitude of sins; it is therefore necessary to give details, and it is dangerous to budget a large sum under a vague and indefinite head like this. It used to be done in the Calcutta Corporation when I was a member of that body, but the Commissioners would insist upon details. I think it is a matter which calls for reform.

"Under Police you have under the head of District Executive Force this explanation—'Provision made for the gradual substitution of Sub-Inspectors for Head Constables in accordance with the recommendation of the Police Commission' I desire to ask a question or two in connection with this matter The Police Commission made their recommendations, and suggested the improvement of the status and emoluments of Head Constables, Sub-Inspectors, and Inspectors. Sir Charles Elliott's Government did not accept the whole of these recommendations, although the Commission was an exceptionally strong one, and was presided over by a very experienced officer, Mr. Beames. After a most exhaustive enquiry they made certain recommendations the effect of which would have been to improve the status of Head Constables, Sub-Inspectors, and Inspectors. Sir Charles Elliott modified those proposals very considerably; he would on no account consent to improve the status of the Inspectors which he thought sufficiently good. I ask, Sir, whether in the exercise of your discretion Your Honour's Government are prepared to accept the recommendations of the Police Commission so far as the pay and position of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors are concerned. Public opinion would strongly support Your Honour's Government if you accepted the recommendations of the Police Commission. If you want to improve the efficiency of the police it is not necessary to improve the position of the constable. If you increase the pay of the constable by one rupee, he will make a proportionate addition to the fee which he formerly used to extort. But the improvement of the pay and position of Inspectors is necessary. Unless honest and competent men are appointed Inspectors the status of the police will remain as it is. Look at the dakaities which so frequently occur in the 24-Parganas. Three dakaities recently took place in Barrackpore in the houses of the Civil Surgeon, the Assistant Surgeon, and another medical man Dakaits seem to favour Doctors. None of these dakaits have been caught, but if there was a police worth the name things of this kind could not occur. You have no proper agency for the detection of crime, and unless you improve the position of your expert agency, viz., the Inspectors, there will be no improvement. I therefore make an earnest appeal to Your Honour to carry out the recommendations of the Police Commission in this matter.

"Now I come to the question of Education. My hon'ble friend Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya has referred at some length to this subject, and I will not repeat what he has said. The allotment for grants-in-aid has been increased owing to a suggestion which was made on the last occasion. I quite agree with my hon'ble friend that the time has not yet come when the Government can withdraw with safety from the field of higher education. Private colleges are still in an infant state. I speak with a full sense of my responsibility as the proprietor of a great private college, and I do not think the Government can, consistently with the public interests, withdraw from its support to high education or impair the efficiency of the Presidency College. That College ought to be preserved as a model college, and it is so in many respects. It is strong in the department of science, and its efficiency ought to be maintained.

"Having made these observations on the general question of Education, I now desire to raise a note of dissent with regard to the proposed scheme of the bifurcation of studies which has been recommended in a recently published Resolution of the Government. I am in strong sympathy with the desire of the Government to solve the problem of all problems, viz., the bread-problem.

Here are our graduates who are glad to take up any work for the small pittance of Rs. 20 or Rs. 25 a month. The object of this Resolution is to put bread into their mouths, and from that point of view I am strongly in sympathy with the proposal of the Government, but my fears lie in another direction, for the effect might be to impair the interest of high education. A scheme such as this was formulated some years ago and was laid before the Syndicate of the University, but after mature consideration it was abandoned. Your Honour has practically revived that scheme. The only apprehension I have, as I have said before, is that it may have the effect of injuring the interests of high education which I am certain Your Honour's Government is anxious to promote. The position of the Government and of the educated community in this country is this—we want high education, but we also want technical education: the one should not trench upon the other; each should minister to the wants of the other, and they should co-operate each to promote the interest of the other. That I take to be the attitude of the Government and of enlightened public opinion with regard to public education. It is because I am apprehensive that the proposed system of bifurcation of studies may have the effect of injuriously affecting the interests of high education that I now refer to the matter. I hope that my anticipations may not be realised. I have a suggestion to make in this connection, and I hope my hon'ble friend, the Secretary in the Educational Department, will accept it. I would strongly suggest that shorthand ought to be included in the B Course. We know how dreadfully we are reported in this Council; those who make speeches have to pay a penalty for making them. During the passing of the Calcutta Municipal Bill we sat for fifteen days; I should gladly have sat for another fifteen days, if the duty of correcting the proofs had been withdrawn from me. It is a matter of the first importance that we should be provided with an efficient body of shorthand writers. In Madras and in Bombay you have most efficient shorthand writers. But in Calcutta we suffer from this want. I appeal to my hon'ble friend to consider this suggestion. In this connection I cannot but deplore the curtailment of the prospects of employment for our countrymen in the higher branches of the Engineering Department. Roorkee is closed against us; the Sibpur Engineering College passes two Indian apprentice engineers in three years. It does not even supply a single recruit every year, and now a ruling has just been issued by the Secretary of State the effect of which is to limit the supply from Cooper's Hill to two Indians, no matter how many might qualify. The Government of Bengal may do its best; but when the avenues to distinction are closed, you will not be able to attract the best men in the country to the technical studies. When the Medical College was started, what was done? The Indian who first dissected a dead body was made a hero. His portrait adorns the theatre of the Medical College. You do not present to us these opportunities of distinction, and therefore you cannot expect our best men to join the technical schools. It is not in human nature to do so. I have made these remarks in the hope that you may do something in that direction—that the higher appointments in the Engineering Department may still be open to us.

"There are one or two other matters to which I shall call attention in a hurried manner. First as to Stationery and Printing. The expenditure on account of Government presses is steadily increasing, and then as to printing at private presses, are tenders called for before any work is given out? It is a matter of the first importance that tenders should be called for, and that the public should have an opportunity of competing and submitting tenders. Then as to 'Miscellaneous and unforeseen charges,' there is a sort of logical contradiction in providing for charges which are unforeseen. How can you provide for charges which you cannot and do not foresee? What is the basis on which this provision is made? One word more as to Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department. The establishment charges under this head have largely increased, but there is no explanation for the increase.

"These are all the remarks I have to make on the Budget, and in conclusion I have to congratulate the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Financial Department on the prosperity budget which he has presented to the Council, and which embodies a policy of sympathy and friendliness towards the people of this country."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I have a few remarks to make in answer to the observations which have been made by Hon'ble Members in connection with the departments of the Secretariat which are under my control, and I shall give as far as in me lies the information which has been sought by the questions which have been asked. These departments fall under four heads of the Budget, namely, Registration, Law and Justice, Police, and Jails. I first propose to deal with the requisitions for information on particular points, especially with regard to some which do not explain themselves and with regard to which some more detailed information seems necessary. First then as to Registration. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee observed that no explanation has been given of an increase of Rs. 40,000 in the revised estimate of 1899-1900 and in the budget estimate of the current year. The answer is a very simple one, and it is that the increase represents the probable ordinary development of registration which is gradually being better appreciated and more largely used year by year. The increase of Rs. 40,000 in an estimate of Rs. 14,40,000 represents only 2·7 per cent.

"The Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur has referred to the question of ministerial establishments, and both he and another Hon'ble Member expressed the hope that the estimate would be increased and the pay of ministerial officers be raised. This, as Your Honour is aware, and as many Hon'ble Members are aware, is a very old question, and it has been referred to from time to time in this Council. The Lieutenant-Governor has admitted that it is a serious question, and that nothing but a want of funds has prevented its being taken up hitherto; there is no doubt that before many years are passed it will have to be faced, and some concessions made, not only in the direction of increased establishments, but also in the direction of higher pay, regard being had to the increased cost of living and the general advance in the standard of comfort.

"The next suggestion which has been made is that Civil Court processes should be served through the post. This is not the first time that this suggestion has been made. In the time of Sir Charles Elliott the High Court was approached on the question of the service of civil processes through the post office, but they were unable to accept that suggestion. The Court stated several weighty reasons why effect could not be given to the proposal, and amongst them they pointed out that in the case of the service of processes by post it would be most difficult for a dâk peon to discover the whereabouts of the addressee; whereas under the present system the parties or their agents give effectual assistance to the court peons in serving process, but that assistance would be wanting if the service is to be made by the ordinary dâk peon. For the present, therefore, this matter has been finally settled, and there is little prospect of its being brought forward again.

"More than one Hon'ble Member referred to the question of the accommodation provided for the Benches of Honorary Magistrates. It is universally admitted that gentlemen who give their time and labour to the service of the State deserve every reasonable consideration in the matter of accommodation. But either the experience of the Members who referred to the subject has been unfortunate, or mine has been exceptionally fortunate. I have not found that Benches of Honorary Magistrates have been thrust away into the worst rooms of an office building. On the contrary, I have found, in that part of the Province with which I have been chiefly connected, that the Magistrate of the district himself usually puts his Court at the disposal of the Bench. At any rate the Hon'ble Member who has made the complaint may rest assured that the matter will receive every consideration at the hands of the Government.

"On the subject of Arbitration Courts, it had been my intention to speak, but the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, who has taken considerable interest in the matter and is fully conversant with the subject, has undertaken to reply to the remarks which have been made about them.

"Attention has also been drawn to the question of Jail manufactures, and the hope was expressed that they do not enter into competition with private enterprise. The standing orders of the Government of India are very clear and decided in this matter, and as far as possible manufactures in Jails are in no way allowed to compete with private trade; three-fourths of articles manufactured in Jails are in fact made for the purposes of the Government and are intended to supply the wants of some of its spending departments. Tents, blankets and articles of clothing for the military, chaukidars and police form a large proportion of Jail manufactures. And so far from the sum which has been set down as profits from Jail labour being net receipts, I am able to state that taking the value of each convict's labour in the year and the amount of expenditure incurred in feeding, housing and watching him, the Government steadily loses Rs. 12-5 upon every convict during the year. The costs of manufacture are also very large, and when you add to that all other charges and costs, the profits dwindle to a very small sum.

"The question of prisoners' diet has also been referred to with much pathos by one or two of the speakers. This question has long engaged the attention of the Jail authorities, and many years ago it was settled what should be the proper diet of prisoners, a rate and standard which have stood the test of long experience. Moreover, it is well known that as a rule prisoners, far from losing weight in Jail, actually increase in weight. No doubt during the first month or two incarceration has very often a bad effect, but in the case of long-term prisoners their weight usually goes up, and they go out of Jail in better health than when they entered it. It was at one time thought that there was perhaps some relation between the health of a Jail and the cost of diet in it, but it has now been found that this is not so, and orders were issued not long ago that the statement prepared annually to show the facts should be abandoned as useless and misleading. There is also no relation between the cost of diet and the profits of Jail manufactures. It is impossible to urge that because a Jail has worked with profit in one year the diet of the prisoners should be increased in the next. The argument is altogether fallacious, and cannot be pressed to a conclusion.

"Lastly, some remarks have been made with reference to the head of Law and Justice: questions were asked as to the disposal of the surplus receipts from fees for Pleadership examinations, and it was suggested that the Government should surrender some of the handsome receipts from this source. It is hardly necessary for me to repeat that no department of the Government can be treated in this way; that receipts and expenditure cannot be ear-marked; and that the receipts from each separate department must be thrown into one general pool to meet the general expenditure. Moreover, I did not gather from any Hon'ble Member that he thought there are too few pleaders in Bengal and that the fees should be reduced to an extent which would enable the poorer classes to enter themselves for examination. If that were done, the number of persons who would compete would certainly be larger, and the result would be failure to pass and great disappointment to many of them, or if they did pass they would share the fate of those who are Pleaders in name alone and would swell the numbers of those who fail to make a living by their practice.

"The last question to which I need refer deals with the recommendations of the Police Commission. I was told before I entered the Council room this morning that I should be asked to state what had been done to carry out the recommendations of that Commission. I received that announcement with consternation, for to answer it in full would have taken up much time: it was with much relief that I found that the enquiry really was only whether some thing cannot be done to improve the status of Police Inspectors. The total extra cost of the measures adopted by the Government in carrying out such of the recommendations of the Police Commission as it determined to adopt amounts to Rs. 7,72,000, spread over a period of ten years, and the tenth year (1902-1903) will see all those measures carried out. When that has been done and we have the funds, I have no doubt that Your Honour will again take up the remaining suggestions, and give the question of improving the pay and position of Police Inspectors due consideration. Many of the existing Inspectors are men of high character and attainment, and it will be a great advantage to the country if anything can be done to raise their position and emoluments so as to attract an even better class of men to these responsible appointments."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACK said:—"The departments in my charge are those of Education, Land Revenue, and Forests, and I propose as far as it is in my power to supply the information which has been asked for and to discuss the suggestions which have been made in respect of those subjects. Every one will admit that the grant for primary education is not as much as we should like it to be, but I understand that the Hon'ble the Raja of Tahirpur does not suggest that the Government is in a position to do all that is desirable in this direction. The Hon'ble Member, however, proposes a means for the attainment of that object, viz., that the old panchayet system should be revived. I am not in a position at present to discuss how that system can be revived, or how, if it can be done, it will assist the Hon'ble Raja in attaining his object. If he will be good enough to draw up a scheme embodying his ideas, it will, I have no doubt, be most carefully considered by Government.

"With regard to the subject of technical schools, to which the Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur has alluded, the present policy is that the bulk of the necessary cost should be provided by the local body at whose instance a technical school is established, though in some instances small grants have been made by the Government to schools supported by allotments made by District Boards and other local bodies.

"The Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur has said a great deal with respect to the prospects of the ungraded officers of the Education Department, whom he describes as being in a very hopeless state. I find that yearly lists are supplied to the Director of Public Instruction by his subordinate officers showing which of these officers are entitled to promotion to the graded service, and the bulk of the lowest grade of that service is filled up from the officers in the ungraded list, so that to say that the state of these officers is hopeless is not according to the actual state of facts.

"Then we have had a very startling picture drawn by the Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya, who condemns the steady retrenchment which he says has been going on from year to year with reference to education in Arts Colleges.

"What I understood him to say is that he considers the policy of retrenchment interferes with the efficiency of the Government Arts Colleges. That is a contention which I am sorry I cannot admit, because almost in the same breath he draws attention to the great increase in the fees received at these Colleges. If the policy of the retrenchment of which the Hon'ble Member complains is causing the Government Arts Colleges to become inefficient, it can hardly be expected that the parents of students would continue to send their children to the Government Colleges and not to one or other of the several excellent private colleges that now exist. Instead of there having been any real retrenchment, it will be seen that in the year 1900-1901 the number of Professors will be greater than in the year which has passed. The decrease in expenditure, to which the Hon'ble Member adverts, is not of a nature to affect the efficiency of the Government Colleges. It is caused partly by the substitution of officers of the Provincial for those of the Imperial service. Occasionally in some years there is another cause that influences expenditure, viz., the absence on leave or for other causes of officers on high pay, their places being temporarily filled by officers drawing much lower salaries. An instance in point is that of Mr. Rowe, whose absence on leave resulted in a monthly saving of Rs. 1,350.

"As to the proposed system of the bifurcation of studies the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee seemed to think that it will interfere with the progress of high education. If the Hon'ble Member meant that in the future the number of B.A's. and M.A's. will not be so great as it now is, owing to the existence of causes not merely literary, he is no doubt correct, but how this will adversely affect high education I am at a loss to understand. In spite, however, of his fear, the Hon'ble Member proposes that shorthand should be taught. That is a proposal which has already been discussed by Government, by whom it was not considered essential; but should it be considered advisable hereafter to introduce shorthand classes among the other practical subjects of study prescribed, I have no doubt it will be done. These are all the remarks which I think it necessary to refer to on the subject of education.

"Then the same Hon'ble Member asked why in 1898-99 the collection of land revenue fell below the estimate. The deficiency is due partly to remissions made on account of the damages done by the cyclone which visited the district of Chittagong, and partly, so I consider, to the probability that in certain Collectorates large amounts were not brought into account until after the year had closed, and therefore did not appear in the accounts for that year. If future enquiries show that I am not correct in what I have stated, I will inform the Hon'ble Member later on.

"The Hon'ble Member also wanted to know how much was due to over-assessments and how much to revision of settlements. With regard to the former I can supply no information, as none is forthcoming. Concerning the latter I may mention that of the 4½ lakhs increase of revenue, Rs. 3,65,000 was due to revision of assessments in Orissa, and the rest to various Government estates which were revised.

"Concerning the small increase of Rs. 10,000 in salaries and land records, to which allusion has been made, I can only say that there is always a variation in this item which depends on the number of officers appointed to carry out land registration.

"The same Hon'ble Member drew attention to an increase of expenditure under the head of Forests. I may explain that last year several of the higher paid officers were either on deputation or on leave, and their places were filled by others on smaller pay, and it was decided by Government that the Budget under discussion should provide, not merely for the normal establishment, but also for the addition which lately has been asked for owing to the increase that has taken place in the work due to the expansion of the area under the Forest Department."

The Hon'ble Mr. BAKER said:—"Before replying to the various remarks that have been made on the Financial Statement, I desire to acknowledge the fair and courteous manner in which Hon'ble Members have dealt with it. The discussions have been as discursive as usual, and range over almost the whole field of Provincial administration. The suggestions and comments that have been made have been varied and numerous, and leave scarcely any department of the Government untouched. These suggestions are not all equally valuable or practical. That is only what might have been expected. But there is, I think, one characteristic which is common to them all. I mean the evident desire of every Hon'ble Member who has spoken to do his duty by the Government and the public, to offer to the Government the utmost assistance in his power by drawing attention to matters that may require further clearing up, by indicating points in which the Provincial revenues are in need of further development, or are developing along dangerous lines, and by suggesting directions in which a more liberal scale of expenditure is called for in the public interest. Among all the suggestions and comments that have been made to-day, there is not one which is marked by a desire to carp or cavil, to embarass the Government, or to criticise merely for the sake of finding fault. All without exception are helpful, friendly, and well intentioned. This characteristic is no new thing. It is in strict accordance with the past traditions of this Council; and it goes far to justify the foresight of those Statesmen who decided eight years ago that the Provincial Budget should be subjected to discussion in the Legislative Council.

"I will give one illustration of the advantages which may be expected from these discussions. It arises out of a suggestion made by an Hon'ble Member on the present occasion. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee intimated to me that he desired an explanation of the difference between the revised estimate and the budget estimate of the year which has just expired under the head of General Administration, and also with reference to some sub-heads under the head of Law and Justice, Civil and Sessions Courts, and, I think, Criminal Courts. When I came to prepare the explanations wanted, I found that the information in my office, although it gives in a general way the substance of what is required, does not give it in complete detail. The Accountant-General, upon whom the responsibility rests for preparing the revised estimate, furnishes us with the details of the minor heads, but does not give us the particulars which go lower down. It is therefore not always possible to give explanations of increases or decreases as between the revised estimate and the budget estimate of the year. I think that is not wholly satisfactory, and I am arranging to get from the Accountant-General in future the details of the revised estimates to enable us to answer enquiries of this kind on future occasions. Not only will this enable us to answer questions that may be put on occasions like the present, but it will give us a clear knowledge of the exact position of Provincial affairs when we are preparing the Budget of the coming year.

"I shall now refer to some of the points which have been raised by Hon'ble Members, excluding those which have been dealt with by the Chief Secretary and the Hon'ble Mr. Slack.

"The Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur has referred once more to the importance of improving the water-supply in the mufassal, and has urged Government to assist the District Boards for that purpose. This question is a hardy annual; it comes up every year in the course of the Budget debate. This may be partly due to the fact that the Budget is presented at the beginning of the hot weather, when the necessity for good water is most felt—just as complaints in the papers about the defects of the Calcutta supply are more common at that time than at any other, though the supply is as good then as at any other time. The Hon'ble Raja is aware that the Government fully sympathises with his desire to see every village provided with a proper supply of wells and tanks. Orders were issued in 1896 that every District Board should spend at least Rs. 5,000 a year on water-supply, and I have from time to time given figures to show what has been done. In 1898-99 District Boards excavated 83 tanks and 388 wells at a cost of Rs. 76,000, and improved 1,214 old ones at a cost of Rs. 55,000, the total expenditure being Rs. 1,31,000. This was exclusive of large sums expended annually by municipalities in the construction and maintenance of regular water-works and the sinking and excavation and improvement of wells and tanks. But the notion that the Government can by any action on its part provide the people with an adequate supply of good water is an absolute chimera. Nothing can be done except by the people themselves. Last year I pointed out that almost every village in Bengal possessed one or more suitable tanks or wells which, if properly looked after, would provide all that is required. In 1896 it was pointed out that in 1882 Government gave a grant of one lakh for water-supply in Nadia, yet it produced no material effect. What is wanted is that the zamindars and the villagers themselves should re-excavate and maintain existing tanks. A doctrine of self-help is usually distasteful; but in this vitally important matter there is no other possible remedy.

"Another point referred to by the Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur is as to the provision of residences for Munsifs, and I think the same point was taken by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, who is dissatisfied with the provision of Rs. 15,000 which we have been able to make for this purpose. It was also referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, who wanted to know what had been done with a similar provision of Rs. 15,000 made in last year's Budget. This is an old question which is not free from difficulty. On a former occasion a good deal of hesitation was felt as to whether Munsifs would really like to live in houses built for them for which they would have to pay rent. They cannot be expected to pay more than Rs. 20 or Rs. 25 a month by way of rent, which would restrict the capital cost of building residences for them to some Rs. 3,000 or Rs. 4,000, and it is exceedingly difficult to provide a suitable house at so small a cost. Something has been done in this direction, but very little. Last year it was proposed to build five of these residences—one at Satkania, two at Patuakhali, one at Jamalpur, and one at Bhola. At the first of these places difficulties arose about a site which it took a whole year to settle, and nothing was done beyond collecting materials. I hope the difficulties which have arisen about these residences will be overcome and that they will be completed without further delay. At Jamalpur the District Judge suggested a project, but the matter is still under consideration. At Bhola the arrangement proposed was to construct a new double munsifi, and to make over the old one to the Munsifs as their residence. The Munsifs, however, are opposed to this, and nothing has been done except the collection of materials, and some of the money has been given to the District Board. We have Rs. 15,000 this year for the same purpose, and we propose to construct one residence at Gumla, a new sub-division in the Ranchi district. The remainder of the money, some Rs. 10,000 or Rs. 11,000, will be spent in constructing other residences for Munsifs at places to be settled by the Judicial Department. I can hold out no hope that the grant for this purpose will be raised to Rs. 50,000, as the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee desires it should be. I admit that Rs. 15,000 is a small sum for such a purpose; but with our reduced grant for Public Works there is little chance of an increased allotment.

"The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, referring to the proceeds from Stamps, suggested that the revenue from non-judicial stamps was under-estimated. This is a matter of opinion. I hope the Hon'ble Member may prove to be right, but all I can say is that the estimate has been based on the figures of the past. I will explain our reasons for the estimate. The actual figures for each year since 1894-95 were as follows:—

'In 1894-95, Rs. 44,92,000; in 1895-96, Rs. 45,43,000; in 1896-97, Rs. 51,03,000; in 1897-98, Rs. 50,13,000; and in 1898-99, Rs. 44,70,000. For 1899-1900 the revised estimate is Rs 46,75,000, and for 1900-1901 the estimate is Rs. 46,75,000.'

"Now it will be seen that there was a large and sudden rise in 1896-97 and 1897-98. These were the famine years, when people had to sell and mortgage their property to an unhappily large extent, and that always leads to an increase of revenue from non-judicial stamps. When the effects of famine cease, the Stamp Revenue drops. These years were followed by two years of prosperity—1898-99 and 1899-1900; and in the first of these years the whole of the abnormal increase was swept away, and the general Stamp Receipts fell even below those of 1894-95. For next year we have taken the Budget at the same figure as the revised estimate for the past year. This may be too cautious, but it is a wise caution. Even allowing for the effect of the Stamp Law of last year, it will not be prudent to take a higher estimate; but if the Hon'ble Member proves right, I shall be the first to rejoice.

"The same Hon'ble Member referred to the subject of the Excise Revenue, and so also did the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee. Both these Hon'ble Members noticed the increase under the head of Excise of 2½ lakhs in the revised estimate of 1899-1900, and the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee expressed a very strong doubt whether the increase was really due to the greater prosperity of the people,—in fact he denied that it was so. The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen referred to some figures of consumption and compared the figures for 1898-99 with the previous year, and said there was an increase in the total consumption of 19 per cent. I am not sure whether the Hon'ble Member referred to the figures for distilleries only, or to distilleries and outstills together. The figures of the latter are of no value, because we have no knowledge of the consumption at outstills; they are obtained from the abkar's accounts, which are utterly unreliable. [The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen said:—"I did not refer to outstills. I referred to distilleries only."] In that case I may say that the figures in connection with distilleries alone are perfectly correct. In 1898-99 there was an increase of 19 per cent. as compared with the consumption of the previous year. He suggested in anticipation that I might attribute the increased consumption to increased population, and he doubted whether I could show an increase in the population to the extent of 19 per cent. I am not going to say anything of the kind. The sole reason for the increase in 1898-99 as compared with the previous year is that the year 1897-98 was the year of the great famine, when the Excise Revenue suffered more than any other branch of the revenue. If the Hon'ble Member will recollect, I said last year that, as compared with the previous year, there was a falling off of 6½ lakhs under Excise, wholly due to the famine. The Excise Commissioner in his last report said that the full effect of the famine resulted in a loss of 17¾ lakhs, spread over three years. According to Mr. Gupta's calculation the revenue in the ensuing year ought to have amounted to 149¾ lakhs, whereas according to the estimate now made it is only 140 lakhs. If the calculation of Mr. Gupta, who is a most experienced and capable Excise Officer, is correct, the revenue this year is 9¾ lakhs less than it would have been but for the famine. The Hon'ble Member also asked for information as to the number of distilleries and outstills, and he expressed the hope that there has been no increase in the numbers. The number of distilleries is 30, and it has been the same for some years past. But what I think he means is the number of distillery shops. The numbers for the years he has asked for were—in 1897-98, 1,193; in 1898-99, 1,186; in 1899-1900, 1,180; and in 1900-1901, 1,066, which shows that there has been a steady decrease in the number. One thousand and sixty-six represents the number of shops settled for the current year; it does not represent the total number sanctioned for the current year. The number of outstills also shows no signs of increase. In 1897-98 the number was 2,018; in 1898-99, 2,076; in 1899-1900, 2,016; and in the current year it is to be 1,918. I may mention that the total number of outstills and distillery shops in Bengal taken together is about one-half of the corresponding number in the North-Western Provinces.

"The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen referred to the estimates of receipts under the heads of Excise, Provincial Rates, and Assessed Taxes, and he expressed a doubt whether it is justifiable to show an increase under these heads, because it would afford an inducement to the officers engaged in those departments to work up to those figures. The same remark was made with regard to the estimate of penalties under Assessed Taxes. On these points I may say that we framed these estimates in a distinctly cautious manner. In the estimate of Excise Revenue we took exactly the figures of the revised estimate of 1899-1900. The revised estimate of the past year was 140 lakhs. We shall possibly get an increase, but we have not taken credit for it. Under the head of Provincial Rates the increase is only Rs. 6,500 under Public Works Cess. Under Assessed Taxes an increase of Rs. 86,000 is provided for, of which half a lakh represents the normal rate of increase, and Rs. 36,000 is a special item owing to the transfer to Calcutta of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway. If it is admitted that these estimates have been cautiously framed and that we may really expect to receive the sums shown in our estimate, does the Hon'ble Member really suggest that we should enter lower figures in order to discourage officers from doing their best to realise the revenues? When the Hon'ble Member frames his own municipal budget, he estimates the amount he expects to realise irrespective of the effect his estimates may have on the municipal establishments.

"The same Hon'ble Member addressed a very impassioned appeal to Your Honour to make a larger grant on account of the Nadia rivers, and he contended that the Government ought to provide funds for making the channel navigable throughout the year. I am not an Engineer, and I find it rather difficult to reply to the Hon'ble Member, but I have obtained some information from Mr. Horn. He points out in the first place that a part of the reduction in the expenditure is due to reduction in the establishments. Rupees 23,000 less has been estimated on this account than last year. Mr. Horn considers that any greater expenditure will be a mere waste of money under present conditions, and he advises that we should wait until we see what the working power of the large dredger ordered out by the Port Commissioners proves to be. If it is found likely to be successful, it is possible that it might be transferred to the Bhagirathi, and the chur which extends to a distance of four miles from the mouth of the river may be cleared away. The Hon'ble Member says the clearing away of the chur is urgently wanted on sanitary grounds, and that the Government ought not to grudge the money; that it might affect the success of the Berhampore water-works, and might even ultimately affect the Port of Calcutta. I can assure the Hon'ble Member that if there is any danger of such disastrous results, the Government will not grudge any money that may be found necessary to prevent such a catastrophe, even if it extended to many lakhs of rupees; but for the present we must be guided by our expert advisers."

"There is one point with reference to the head of Excise to which I have omitted to refer. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked that a column might be inserted showing the number of outstills and the receipts from them, distinguishing outstill liquor from distillery liquor. I may inform the Hon'ble Member that they are shown under the first minor head 'License and Distillery fees and duties,' which includes both. They are lumped together in this statement. With reference to the request of the Hon'ble Member to have these shown separately, I may say that we are not at liberty to alter any minor heads in the Budget; these are settled by the Government of India, and it is contrary to rule to make any changes. But the information the Hon'ble Member wants may reasonably be furnished, and I will undertake to introduce a separate entry distinguishing distillery liquor from outstill liquor.

"The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya referred to the fees and charges in connection with Pleadership examinations, and showed that the amount of fees received largely exceeded the expenditure." This point has been dealt with by my hon'ble friend the Chief Secretary. The course followed here is the same as that which is adopted in England. Fees to admit to examinations are, as a general rule, put high, so as to deter people from entering their names unless they have a real desire to pass the examination. If it were not so, the number of unsuccessful candidates would enormously increase, and useless work would be multiplied many times over. It is certainly desirable to keep out from the examination all those who have really no chance of passing.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee referred to the decrease under the head of 'Wharf rents.' This is a small matter. The total receipts this year are estimated at Rs. 9,000, while last year's estimate amounted to Rs. 12,000. I cannot say whether there will be a decrease. We framed this estimate on the basis of the average receipts of the previous three or four years.

"The Hon'ble Member also said that there was an increase in salaries in the Customs Department. There is no real increase. There is an increase under the head of 'Preventive Service' and also a large increase under the head of 'Allowances.' The increase in the Preventive establishment is due to Exchange Compensation, which was not formerly allowed to members of this establishment. Only last year final orders were passed by the Government of India admitting a certain number of these officers to the benefit of Exchange Compensation, which under the old rules the bulk of them did not get. This accounts for an increase of some Rs. 6,000. The increase under the head of 'Allowances' is due to our showing in the accounts the fees received for passing goods through the Custom House after office hours and on holidays. There has been no change in these; but until last year these receipts and the corresponding payments were not shown in the accounts at all

"Then under the head of 'Interest' the Hon'ble Member wished to know whether we are making provision for larger loans to Municipalities. In the original draft of the Budget we did provide for a large increase on account of loans to Municipalities and District Boards. But we propose and the Government of India dispose. The demands on the Government of India were so great that they are obliged to reduce our estimates from 6 lakhs to Rs. 2,75,000. We give 1½ lakhs to Darjeeling, Rs. 50,000 to Patna, Rs. 50,000 to Monghyr, and Rs. 25,000 to Bhagalpur.

"Then the Hon'ble Member referred to the receipts from Canals. The explanation I have obtained from the Public Works Department is that the receipts from both the Orissa and Midnapore Canals have been affected by the opening of the East Coast Railway, and that some falling off may be expected to occur.

"Another point which has been referred to is the increase in salaries under the head of 'Stamps.' The explanation is that the Superintendent of Stamps and Stationery receives an incremental salary, rising from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,500 per mensem. He will receive one increment next year.

"The whole increase of Rs. 3,000 in the Civil Secretariat is due to contingencies, mainly on account of telegrams. We are continually getting telegrams, and have to issue telegrams continually in connection with the plague.

"I think this covers all the points which have been raised by Hon'ble Members. But there is one matter which I am surprised to find no Hon'ble Member has referred to to-day and with regard to which I should like to say a few words. I refer to the provision which has been made on account of plague. Last year we were able to give to District Boards and Municipalities, who spent money on account of the plague, the sum of Rs. 5,60,000, being partly a refund of contributions made towards the maintenance of inspection camps, and partly in recoupment of expenditure they had incurred on local measures. Plague unfortunately is still with us, and not only have inspection camps which have been established to be maintained, but in consequence of the spread of plague throughout parts of the Patna district, and in the district of Monghyr, Municipalities and District Boards have had to incur larger expenditure than before. Last year in Your Honour's speech in this Council you explained why it was wise and expedient that local bodies should bear their share of the cost, and you pointed out that if this was not done those local bodies would not make provision for the rainy day which must come, and that when it did come, they would spend their money with the magnificent disdain of economy which always characterises those who put their fingers in some body else's pockets. They have hitherto discharged their duties in this matter with fairness and discretion. Patna has spent a large sum of money. The number of deaths there is represented by the large total of 15,000; establishments have been multiplied on an extensive scale, and the charges of the District Board have been extremely heavy. And so also, but in a less degree, it has been in the district of Saran, and to some extent also in Monghyr. We hope that there are some signs now of the plague decreasing, and that in another year it may pass away. On the other hand, in the rains there may be a recrudescence of plague; therefore we must be prepared to assist local bodies who may have incurred expenditure to prevent their resources being crippled. A sum of Rs. 2,85,000 has been provided under the head of 'Medical' on account of plague, Rs. 70,000 of which must go to meet charges which the Government will bear in any case on account of the pilgrim camp, on special plague establishment, and on the protection of the Port of Calcutta. That will leave the sum of about two lakhs available, which may either be devoted to remitting charges on account of inspection camps, or may be given as grants-in-aid to those local bodies which have suffered most. We have come to the conclusion that it is best not to distribute the money available to the several local bodies in the form of a refund of their contributions towards the Camps; and that it will be best utilized in giving assistance at the end of the year to those District Boards and Municipalities which have suffered most. We last year gave a grant of Rs. 30,000 to the Saran Municipality, and it is probable that we may have this year to give a grant to the District Board of Patna.

"In conclusion, I have to express my acknowledgments to Hon'ble Members who have given me and my fellow-Secretaries some notice of the points about which they intended to speak."

The Hon'ble Mr. Oldham said:—"As mentioned by the Hon'ble the Chief Secretary I undertook to reply about arbitration because of the way in which the question has been raised, and because I have had some special experience of the subject. It will be remembered that last year my hon'ble friend Raja Shashi Shakhareswar Roy read an extract from a report which, as Commissioner of Chittagong, I had written in 1893, describing the plan followed by Mr. N. K. Bose, who was then Magistrate of Noakhali, for utilising panchayats; and the Hon'ble Raja asked if the panchayati system of Bengal could not be restored in some such fashion. If he had continued the extract and read my criticisms on Mr. Bose's scheme some discussion might have been saved, for I pointed out that it had no intrinsic vitality, but altogether depended for its working on Mr. Bose himself. It was not a system of arbitration as that word is generally understood, but panchayats were used for sifting criminal complaints before they were formally entertained by the Courts, and thus the stipendiary Courts were saved a great deal of labour. But Mr. Bose thought that from this plan a fuller panchayati system might be developed and made use of throughout the Province. I knew that he might be safely left to work his scheme because he was my friend and trusted colleague, but when the very same year he was promoted from Noakhali, the truth of my anticipations regarding its character was proved sooner than I thought, for he was succeeded by another Statutory Civilian who, though just as full of interest and energy, took a different view about this matter, and Mr. Bose's plan speedily fell into complete disuse. Apart from this, the general answer given on the subject by Mr. Bolton last year still seems to be in every way effective. He acknowledged that the principle of arbitration was most attractive, as was the word itself, but he pointed to the practical difficulties in the way of any enforced general resort to it. There were mechanical difficulties connected with buildings and furniture and stationery— difficulties about establishments and the serving of processes; and about records, and the preservation of the principle of res judicata and the prevention of matters which had been decided being re-opened. I think he referred too to what may be called the invidious aspects of the case—the difficulty of finding disinterested persons in the villages to act as arbitrators, and the still greater difficulty of finding persons who were qualified to laboriously enter into an intricate case instead of acting on impressions, and able to write a judgment. Though the Hon'ble Raja remembers these arguments and has not revived his proposals, my hon'ble friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee, who has reproached him for not doing so, appears to have forgotten them. The question has now been revived here, because of my hon'ble colleague Mr. Toynbee's reference to it in the Imperial Council. But Mr. Toynbee did not propose any detailed scheme or use the word panchayat. He drew attention to the great drain upon the resources of the people of which the large amounts yielded by Court-fees were evidence, and hoped, as we all hope, that some means might be found, by affording facilities for arbitration or otherwise, for saving the people from some part of this drain. But as regards the establishment of panchayats for arbitration, if Mr. Bolton's arguments seem too abstract and academic to my hon'ble friend who so often expresses his preference for concrete instances, let me give him two concrete instances. You will remember, Sir, that in the year 1878 agrarian disturbances broke out in the Deccan which were so serious and protracted as to require the appointment of a Special Commission to enquire into their causes, and thereafter the enactment of special legislation for the protection and relief of the peasantry. Prominent among these measures were provisions for arbitration, and when in 1894, their working came to be reviewed, when Your Honour was in Council, it was found that they had been altogether inoperative, so much so that they have been allowed to drop out of the amended legislation on the subject. My second instance is much nearer home. In 1855 there was a bloody agrarian rebellion in Bengal, in the very heart and centre of the territories under the Lieutenant-Governor. For months it convulsed the extensive region which is the subject of Sir William Hunter's well-known book, 'The Annals of Rural Bengal,' and it was only put down by the use of a very large military force and after a heavy loss of life. It was then that Lord Dalhousie laid his masterful hands upon the area of disturbance. He pronounced that the causes were in civilised measures having been applied far too fast, and his remedy was to resort to one of these exceedingly reactionary measures against which my hon'ble friend so constantly protests; and in order to carry it out he had passed a short law which saved the peasantry of this region from the operation of the ordinary laws, and left them otherwise to be governed by rules framed by Government. One of these rules was to exclude the intervention of all pleaders and lawyers and another was to provide for arbitration. In 1896, after over forty years working of them, the results of these arbitration provisions were enquired into, and they were found to have absolutely failed because the people would not resort to them, and they could only be called successful when the arbitrators sat within the shadow of the Courts, and under the control of the Courts. Is that the kind of arbitration which is desired? To any one who reflects, the reasons for these failures and disappointments are not far to seek. Why should the people who in any case have to pay, be left to the decisions of interested fellow-villagers when they can obtain the judgments of more or less expert professional Judges, who are paid for giving them justice?

"The other questions referring to matters under my administration have been answered by Mr. Baker, but I wish to amplify the reply given as regards Excise in one respect. The brief explanation we noted for estimating our increased Excise revenue was the greater prosperity of the people, and my hon'ble friend, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, referring to this said 'I am one of the people, and I deny that their prosperity is increasing. On the contrary.' My hon'ble friend will acquit me of any desire to be sarcastic at his expense, but I seize on his words as a vivid illustration of a theme which I have often harped upon in the debates in this Council, and as shewing how narrow, how partial, how absolutely exclusive and how intensely aristocratic is the section or circle which is represented by those who claim to be Indian representatives. Who are the people? We were speaking of the millions of Bengal, my friend was speaking only of his own people. We admit and we deplore the increasing poverty of the middle classes, but when we speak of the people we do not mean only the high and cultured Aryans whose ancestors came to Bengal, whether as conquerors or missionaries, it is immaterial now to discuss, but also of the horny-handed sons of the soil who earn their living by the labour of their hands. These are not my hon'ble friend's people but they are the people of the country of his birth, and infinitely more in numbers. It is their prosperity which we count on as increasing, and it is increasing quite apart from the absence of famine. My hon'ble friend sought for corroboration from me in another point drawn from my experience of the Corporation, and I now am able to draw on the same source for evidence of what I say. He will remember that last year, before he and his 26 friends deserted us, we had in the Corporation to raise the pay of the carters and other menials, not because more pay was needed for their wants, but because they demanded it and were so well off that they would not serve unless they got it. This is a sample of the kind of increased prosperity on which our estimate is based, and also indicates who are the people whom we have in view."

THE HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"I have listened with interest to the very varied and many-sided discussion which has taken place to-day. As I listened, certain remarks which I made last year came back to my memory. In all this animated variety of suggestion, I have not once, except perhaps from my hon'ble friend, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, heard the still small voice of economy. That was a welcome voice for which I opened my ears last year. It was in vain, and I fear that it is not in Council that this voice will often be heard. Nevertheless, it has to be sought and found, and I know of no method so effective for the purpose as that of the decentralisation, upon which the Supreme Government has adjusted its relations with the Local Governments. To this I will presently refer; but meanwhile I have to acknowledge the manifold suggestions for higher expenditure, which have been presented to my Government in the debate of to-day. Sometimes the suggestions reiterate proposals that have been answered before. The memories of official answers are as short as the course of official researches is long. More often, perhaps, an Hon'ble Member hopes, like the importunate widow, to gain his end by much protesting. But for most of the recommendations I will frankly admit that there is much to be said, and if the Local Government had an indefinite balance, it would have the cheerful duty of an indefinite expenditure.

"Unfortunately, as Hon'ble Members know, that is just what the position of the Government is not. Its balances were swept away by famine. Famine had not been surmounted when there befell the worst earthquake of modern times. The earthquake reconstructions and repairs had not been finished, when there came plague. Plague has gravely increased and we have in addition to meet the heavy expenses entailed by the landslips of last autumn in the Darjeeling district. Not in my time will the Lieutenant-Governor have those ample balances which were the happy privilege of former times. The resources of the Province must be husbanded and expended with the greatest circumspection.

"As I said, many of the suggestions made by my hon'ble colleagues would be excellent suggestions if we had the money. We have not, and we must limit our expenditure to the most absolutely necessary items on our list. These, according to our judgment, have been stated to you in the Budget, and I have not observed that any suggestion has been made that one of the newer proposals is more important than and should have precedence of the Budget proposals.

"I said last year that I regarded feeder roads as of the first importance for the development of the Province, and as the complement of the railway lines which are rapidly spreading over it. To this policy we steadily adhere. Plague, threatenings of distress, and landslips have stopped the way, but if the provision which caution requires under these heads should prove to be in excess of requirements, the road schemes are ready to which the funds can be immediately diverted.

"In the construction of these I trust to receive effective help from some of the District Boards. Their finances have received substantial assistance by the aids to which the Financial Secretary has referred—the grant for plague expenditure and the adjustment of the expenses of cess collections. But I am ready to admit that the finances of some of them are straitened, and reconsideration of the Provincial Assignments is needed. To ensure a just reconsideration, you must know definitely what are the calls upon them, and how far they have fulfilled the duty of faithfully raising the full income which the law gives them. These details take longer to ascertain than I was prepared to believe, but when they are ready, the reconsideration of which I have spoken will be carefully given.

"I spoke of the virtues of decentralisation as an aid to economy. This is quite clearly the direction in which we must move in Bengal. Whether it is a local board or the head of a department that propounds a project, it makes a singular difference whether the propounder is trying to get all he dares from a central authority, or is making the most of what he has already got. These are the directions in which we have begun to proceed. If it were possible to apply the principle to this Council, I am not sure that many of the suggestions we have heard might not vanish unexpressed, and we should lose the interest of many eloquent addresses. The Council, however, serves a different purpose. It gives the valuable opportunity of the public statement of the desires of communities, big or small, and if the Government have larger claims on them, for which these must stand aside, they may rest assured that these representations are not unnoticed or unappreciated. I have to express, as the Hon'ble Mr. Baker did, my pleasure at the extreme courtesy and consideration with which this Budget has been discussed. The Council is adjourned sine die."

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

Prospectus for Admission.

THIS School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors: it owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60, of whom only 15 can be other than Beharis by race viz, natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar); but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar, in that order.

3. The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

(1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics.
(2) Careful training in Survey work.
(3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering.
(4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
(5) Workshop practice with hand tools and with machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings are in process of construction; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 2nd July 1900.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

(1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University in English and Mathematics.
(2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools.
(3) Students who have not passed either of these tests and who are otherwise eligible will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 6th and 7th July respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars:—

(a) Name, address and occupation of father or guardian

(c) A certificate of good moral character.

(d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).

(e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.

(f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re 1. An Amin student is taught Elementary Surveying with a corresponding amount of Mathematics and of Geometrical Drawing. He will not be admitted to the Workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of Elementary Surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class, may at his option leave the school with an Amin certificate.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences 2nd July 1900, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1900.

10. Every candidate for admission to the School must bring a certificate of good character from the Head of the Institution from which he has come.

11. All candidates for admission to the School should present themselves personally at the School on the 1st July.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 214 of 1900) that information, dated 3rd March 1900, has been received from Captain J. G. M. Field, H.M.S. Marathon, respecting the descriptions of certain sandbanks in the approach to Malé:—

1. The sandbank to the north-westward of Fureenahfurhi has no bushes or any kind of vegetation on it; it is very small, and composed of white sand, which shows up well in the sun; it is only about one foot above high water, and has an encircling reef.

AFRICA, EAST COAST—PUNGUE RIVER ENTRANCE.

Buoyage, channels, &c.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 216 of 1900) that the following information respecting the buoyage and channels, Pungue river entrance, is derived from a report, dated 24th February 1900, received from Captain W. S. Rees, H.M.S. Thetis :—

No. 5 buoy. This buoy was found to be then situated with the south extreme of Massique point bearing N. 29° W., distant 2¼ miles, and point Jea tower N. 45° E.

Approximate position, lat. 19° 55′ 30″ S., long. 34° 49′ 0″ E.

The Captain of the port of Beira has also given information, dated 10th February 1900 that on 1st June 1900 the buoyage will be changed to a uniform system as follows :—

Buoys on the starboard side of the channel in entering will be coloured red, and numbered from seaward Nos. 2, 6, 8 ; buoys on the port side of the channel will be black, and numbered Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5, and 9. The colour only, not the shape or topmark, is the distinctive characteristic showing on which side the buoy should be passed.

In February 1900, there were, after passing No. 6 buoy, two navigable channels to the anchorage, the western of the two passing close to Massique point and the coast to the northward being the deeper and more intricate. The eastern channel which lies between Nos. 5 and 7 buoys was, however, the one generally used. In it the depth is about 20 feet at high water. The note on the Chart has, therefore, been amended.

CAUTION.—As the banks are liable to change, local knowledge is necessary before attempting to enter.

The Lieutenant-Governor selects Babu Lalbihari Das, B.L., for the second appointment, and Mr. Samuel Chandra, B.A., for an extra appointment.

These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem, and if the report from the districts in which they are stationed is favourable, they will, after such period of probation as may seem advisable, be appointed to be Officiating Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, as vacancies occur. They will not be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will be passed posting these officers to districts.

5. The following are the two candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors—

Maulvi Abdul Bari, B.A.
Babu Baij Nath Sahai, B.A.

These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem at present, and, if they are satisfactorily reported on, will be gradually absorbed into the fourth grade of the Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will be passed posting them to districts.

6. The above appointments are subject to the condition that the candidate in each case must obtain the medical certificate of fitness required by paragraph 5 of the Notification No. 6055A., dated 19th December 1899.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 1899-1900.

No. 435B., dated Calcutta, the 25th May 1900.

From—H. J. McIntosh, Esq, Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L.P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I am directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the fourth quarter of 1899-1900, comprising the months of January, February, and March 1900.

The Hon'ble Mr. W. B. Oldham, c.i.e.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 27,21,461 maunds, as compared with 25,52,009 maunds in the previous quarter and 25,63,412 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the nett amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 64,46,391, as against Rs. 59,82,021 in the previous quarter and Rs. 60,73,882 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of locally-made salt removed from the golas in Orissa during the quarter and the quantity which remained in store at its close are shown in table (I) below:—

Table I.

Total ...	4,28,726
Sold during the quarter	13,586
Wastage	.....
Total ..	13 586
Balance at the close of the quarter	4,15,140

The total sales of locally-made salt during the quarter amounted to 13,586 maunds, as compared with 14,048 maunds in the previous quarter and 15,616 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. Duty was paid on the full quantity sold. The Member in charge visited these golas in March. In view of the slowness of deliveries, the great accumulation still remaining, and the high cost of establishment and maintenance, it has become a question if this salt should not be given away (subject to duty) as has been done in Madras, to save the cost of destroying it or, if this course is not practicable, should not be destroyed. The sales of it are rapidly decreasing.

4. The subjoined table (II) shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter, as compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the last two years:—

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1899.

RESOLUTION—No. 438P.—D.

JAILS.

Darjeeling, the 2nd June 1900.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1899.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1897 and 1898, and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

THE Department was under the charge of Lieutenant-Colonel Mair, I.M.S., throughout the year, Lieutenant-Colonel Comins, the permanent incumbent of the post of Inspector-General of Jails, being absent on furlough.

2. The report, which was due on the 15th April, was not received until the 3rd May. It is understood that this was due to delay on the part of the Superintendent of Government Printing in submission of figures regarding the outturn of work at the Presidency Jail Press. He should see that such delay does not recur.

3. Statement VI appended to the Report has been prepared in accordance with the orders of the Government of India contained in the Home Department Resolution of the 16th February 1899.

4. Jail population.—The following statement shows the total number of prisoners of all classes in the jails and subsidiary jails in the Province during the year 1899 and the ten years preceding:—

† Including 15 convicts of the Deoghur Magistrate's hajat converted into a Subsidiary Jail in 1892.

5. The total number of prisoners of all classes remaining on the 1st January 1899 was 18,743, showing a decrease of 704 as compared with the total (19,447) on the first day of the preceding year. By the end of the year, however, the population had grown to 19,653, this figure being higher than that for any of the 20 years preceding. The daily average population was 129 in excess of that for the previous year, but did not reach the high figure attained in 1897, the famine year.

6. Admissions of convicts.—The total number of convicts admitted direct from the courts during the year was 35,600, and this figure is lower than that for any of the three years preceding. The average of admissions per mille of the entire population of the Province was, however, practically the same as in the preceding year, being ·500 as against ·506 in 1898. The districts which show the highest ratio of convictions to population are Calcutta, Angul, Singhbhum, Darjeeling, and the 24-Parganas.

7. The following table shows the districts which furnished the highest ratio of convicts per mille of population.—

* Including 9 moribund prisoners who were released under Rule 488 of the Jail Code.
† Including 4 ditto ditto 504 (a) ditto.

9. The number of prisoners released on appeal was smaller than in any of the other years included in the statement, the ratio of such releases to total admissions being 3·94 as compared with 4·54 in the previous year. The jail showing the largest percentage of releases on appeal in the preceding year was Noakhali, where the ratio was 14·6. This year the largest percentage is 12·22, this being the proportion of convicts released on appeal from the Bankipore District Jail. The number of transportations shows a considerable increase, and this is due to the orders of the Government of India directing that the deportation to the Andamans of prisoners sentenced to transportation for a term of years should be resumed. Under the orders of that Government the sentences of all male convicts who have an unexpired sentence of six years' transportation and are otherwise suitable will in future be served out at Port Blair; and the attention of the courts has been invited to section 59 of the Indian Penal Code, under which transportation may in certain cases be substituted for imprisonment.

10. Classification of convicts —Of 35,600 convicts admitted direct from the Courts, 19,887 or 55 85 per cent. were Hindus, 13,502 or 37·94 per cent. were Muhammadans, 368 or 1·03 per cent. Christians, 80 or ·22 per cent. Buddhists.

Convicts of all other religions numbered 1,763 or 4·96 per cent. The ratio per mille of Hindu convicts to the total Hindu population was ·439 as compared with ·436 in the previous year: in the case of Muhammadans it was ·576 against ·602 in 1898. It is satisfactory to note a further decrease in the percentage of juveniles admitted to the jails of the Province, the percentage of convicts under 16 years of age falling from 1·04 in 1898 to ·86 in the year under review. A corresponding decrease is also found in the number of admissions to the Reformatories at Alipore and Hazaribagh, the number of inmates at the end of the year being 419 against 468 at the end of 1898. These results are no doubt due, in part at any rate, to the provisions of the Reformatory Schools Act, VIII of 1897, under which a Court, instead of sentencing a youthful offender to imprisonment or transportation, or detention in a Reformatory School, can order that the offender shall be either discharged after due admonition, or be given over to a parent or relative on an undertaking of responsibility for the juvenile's good behaviour for a period not exceeding twelve months. The number of women admitted was 1,303, which is slightly less than the figure (1,366) for the preceding year. The cultivating classes supplied 57·23 of the total admissions as against 60·25 in the preceding year. The percentage of illiterate convicts was 89·43 as compared with 88·98 in the preceding year.

11. Nature of imprisonment and length of sentence.—The following table gives the kind of imprisonment to which convicts admitted during the year were sentenced as compared with those admitted during the two previous years:—

* (A) Prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment.
(B) Ditto ditto to rigorous ditto.
(C) Ditto ditto to ditto ditto with solitary confinement.
(D) Ditto ditto to ditto ditto with whipping.

12. It is remarkable that while the total number of admissions has diminished, the number of those sentenced to simple imprisonment has increased from 2,345 to 2,616, and the Lieutenant-Governor fears that the courts are not always careful to impose a sentence of the latter kind only in cases where a term of imprisonment with hard labour would be unsuitable or illegal. The Inspector-General comments on the small number of cases in which the courts include a period of solitary confinement in the terms of imprisonment awarded. Solitary confinement was ordered only in 85 cases in 1899, and in 79 cases in the preceding year. He compares these figures with those in the North-Western Provinces, where solitary confinement formed part of the sentence in no less than 6,035 cases in 1897 and in 3,148 cases in 1898. The Government of India have from time to time expressed their approval of a system under which cellular confinement forms a part of the punishment undergone in jail, and it is to be regretted that the courts do not use their discretion in awarding this form of punishment more freely. It is possible that they have to some extent been deterred by the belief that the provision for giving effect to such sentences is inadequate in the existing jails, but, exclusive of subsidiary jails, there are 638 cells in the various district and central jails in the Province, and it is clear, therefore, that the existing opportunities have not been utilised to the fullest extent possible. The Lower Provinces are far behind the rest of India in this matter, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that attention will be given to the above suggestions during the current year.

13. Special arrangements for the separation of juvenile female prisoners from adults have for some time been under consideration, and orders were issued at the end of the year for the establishment at the Bhagalpur Central Jail of a depôt for the reception of all girl criminals sentenced to terms of imprisonment upwards of three months. Girls sent to the depôt will be re-transferred to the jails of the districts to which they belong about a week before their release, and suitable arrangements will be made for their escort.

14. Identification of habitual offenders.—The following statement shows the total admissions in each of the last five years of persons identified as having been previously convicted, and the proportion of such persons in each year to the total number of admissions :—

1895	...	...	...	3,843	11·55
1896	...	...	...	4,436	13·10
1897	...	...	...	5,247	11·97
1898	...	...	...	4,344	12 06
1899	...	...	...	4,579	12·86

In paragraph 21 of his report the Inspector-General of Jails has incorporated the statement required by the orders of the Government of India in paragraph 3 of the Home Department Resolution No. 4 Judicial—254-264, dated the 25th February 1885, regarding the identification of habitual offenders, and the figures given are for habitual offenders as defined by the Home Department Resolution No. 27—1804-1814, dated the 14th December 1886. The principal object of such identification is to ensure that suitable sentences shall be passed by the courts on reconviction, and it seems, therefore, to the Lieutenant-Governor that the prescribed statement should include neither all habitual criminals as defined in the abovementioned Resolution, nor all reconvicted prisoners, but only certain of the latter class who on reconviction have become liable to a special sentence. Provision for such special sentences has been made by the legislature in section 75 of the Indian Penal Code, in the Whipping Act, and also in certain other Acts, e.g., the Excise, Gambling, Salt, Metal Tokens and Fisheries Acts. The Police administration is little concerned with reconvictions under the special Acts mentioned, and the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the statement might with advantage be modified so as to indicate progress in the identification only of those prisoners who on reconviction have become liable to a special punishment either under the Penal Code or under the Whipping Act. A separate letter has been addressed to the Government of India advocating the adoption of this change in future reports.

15. Under-trial Prisoners.—The total number of under-trial prisoners on the first day of the year was 1,500; the corresponding figure for the last day of the year was 1,918; while the daily average for the year was 1,782 as compared with 1,744 in the preceding year. Of the total number of 35,552 under-trial prisoners confined during the year, 17,316, or 48·7 per cent., were convicted. The corresponding percentage for the preceding year was 50·4. The average period of detention of under-trial prisoners was 49·93 days in sessions trials, and 14·82 in trials before the Magistrates. The former figure shows some small improvement as compared with the average period of detention during the preceding year, which was 53·35 days. The exceptionally high figure reached in 1898 led the Lieutenant-Governor to address the High Court on the subject, requesting the Hon'ble Judges to consider the causes of the continuous increase since 1894, and to favour him with their views as to any measures which might be taken to secure an improvement. The final reply of the High Court has not yet been received. The Lieutenant-Governor had hoped to find a similar decrease in the period of detention before Magistrates, and is disappointed to find instead that the average period has again increased.

16. The following table shows the districts in which the period of detention in the Magistrates' Courts exceeded 15 days:—

District.	Period of detention.	District.	Period of detention.
Mymensingh ...	... 33 60	Hazaribagh ...	... 18·12
Faridpur ...	... 25·56	Rangpur ...	... 17·88
Noakhali ...	... 20·84	Daltonganj ...	... 16·42
Chapra ...	... 20 24	Dacca ...	... 16·06
Burdwan ...	... 19·30	Dinajpur ...	... 16 05

Bogra ...	... 18·20	Jessore ...	... 15·26
		Pabna ...	... 15·14

An improvement has been made in the districts of Dacca and the 24-Parganas, which headed the list of 1898 with averages of 25·11 and 22·97 days respectively. The district of Mymensingh, however, has attained an even higher figure than that shown for Dacca in 1898, while Faridpur, which was third in last year's list, with an average detention of 21·63 days is second in the present year with a higher figure. An explanation will be called for in the case of those districts in which the average period of detention exceeded 20 days.

17. Civil and State Prisoners.—The daily average number of civil prisoners rose from 48·97 in 1898 to 57 64 in the year under review. This figure closely approximates to that for 1896. The total number of such prisoners admitted during the year was 834, against 800 in the preceding year. The number of State prisoners confined in the jails of Bengal at the beginning of the year was 11. During the year one Moplah prisoner was retransferred to Madras on account of ill-health, while one other was sent to Bengal from that Presidency. The number at the end of the year remained, therefore, the same.

18. Jail Buildings.—The total expenditure on jail buildings during the year was Rs. 1,98,177, of which Rs. 1,61,885 were expended by the Public Works Department and Rs. 36,292 by the Jail Department, the corresponding expenditure of each department in the previous year being Rs. 1,71,713 and Rs. 25,097 respectively. Further extensive repairs had to be carried out at Mymensingh, at Rangpur and at Bogra as the result of the earthquake of 1897. The other principal works undertaken during the year were the reconstruction of the hospital ward for males at Rampur Boalia, the construction of an experimental septic tank latrine at the Presidency Jail, the connection of the Mymensingh Jail with the filtered water supply of the Nasirabad Municipality, and the addition of a verandah to the main barrack at Rangpur. Three new subsidiary jails were also constructed at a cost of a little under a quarter of a lakh of rupees. No new cells or cubicles were constructed during the year. The Inspector General of Jails was, however, requested to submit proposals for the extension of the cubicle system throughout the Province in accordance with the orders of the Government of India. His suggestions have been received and are under consideration.

19. Jail Guards.—The state of the jail warder service has for some time past been highly unsatisfactory. It is recruited from the same races which supply the army and the police, and the better pay in those services has for some years rendered the jail service less attractive, and has created discontent among the men employed in it. The grant of compensation for the dearness of food during the famine of 1896-97 to some extent helped in obtaining suitable recruits and in retaining those already in the service, but it has been found that since the withdrawal of this concession, the number of resignations, desertions and dismissals has been detrimental to the efficiency of the Department and far in excess of that in the police force, and it has been clearly shown that it is necessary to improve the prospects of the service as a whole. The matter has been under the consideration of the Government for some time past, and proposals are now about to be submitted to the Government of India. The scheme formulated provides for a redistribution of the numbers in the various grades of the service, certain concessions in the matter of clothing allowances, and the abolition of the present class of apprentice warders, those now so styled being treated as warders of the lowest grade from beginning of their service, and drawing pay accordingly. The estimated cost of the reorganization is Rs. 15,000. The present report shows that the number of resignations in the service during the year 1898 was no less than 111, while 10 more deserted and 47 were dismissed, making a total of 9·1 per cent. of the whole force.

20. While the number of criminal offences committed by warders decreased from 47 in the previous year to 38 in that under review, the total number of offences of all kinds committed by them rose from 1,764 to 1,797. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that less frequent resort was had to fining as a means of punishment, and that extra drill was in some cases awarded instead. The number of fines, however, still remains large, and His Honour trusts that every Superintendent of a Jail will look to it that this form of punishment is used as little as possible.

21. Escapes.—The number of escapes was only half that for 1898, being 14 against 28 in the preceding year. Two were from Central Jails, 10 from District Jails, and 2 from Subsidiary Jails. Ten were from within the jail walls, while the remaining 4 were made from outside. The most notable escape was that of three Burmese life-convicts from the Berhampore Jail: it is not creditable to the police that none of these has been recaptured. Of the remaining escaped prisoners 7 were recaptured within the year.

22. Prison Discipline.—The following table classifies offences committed by convicts during the year according to the nature of the offence and the punishment awarded:—

23. The total number of offences punished exceeds that for the previous year by 1,045, and the increase is more than proportionate to the increase in the daily average of the population. The advance is mainly under the head of offences relating to work and to assaults, &c., by convicts, and the Inspector-General explains that the increase may be attributed to the introduction and extension of more irksome forms of labour, and the enforcement of a stricter discipline, in accordance with the orders of the Government on the subject. This explanation is doubtless correct, but care and tact are required, and will do much to avoid the necessity of resort to unusual punitive measures. The enforcement of proper tasks gave rise to special trouble in the Gaya Jail, and of the 86 offences punished by the Criminal Courts, no fewer than 33 were committed in that jail. A similar combination to do short work was found among the convicts in the Gaya Jail during the previous year also, and it is to be hoped that the measures taken will have the effect of preventing the recurrence of any further insubordination.

24. Out of 6,344 prisoners who were eligible to gain remission of sentence by earning good-conduct marks, 25 only failed to gain some remission. No appreciable increase in the number of marks earned is, however, yet apparent as the result of the pains which have been taken to inform the prisoners of the working of the system, and the benefit which they may derive from it. The majority of the Superintendents of Jails are nevertheless in favour of the system, being of opinion that it is of value in stimulating industry and good behaviour, and they consider that the forfeiture of marks is a suitable and effectual punishment for minor offences. Most prisoners, it is stated, are more or less indifferent about their marks during the earlier stage of their imprisonment, but attach more and more importance to the remission earned as the date of their release draws nearer; while the system is more valued by long-term than by short-term prisoners, and by prisoners convicted for the first time than by habitual offenders. These results are natural, and such as might have been anticipated.

25. Expenditure.—The gross expenditure on jails and subsidiary jails during the year as compared with 1898 is shown in the following statement:—

26. The principal cause of the total decrease, and of the diminution in the average cost per prisoner, is to be found in the smaller expenditure on diet, which cost over a lakh less than in the preceding year, the average cost per head in central and district jails being Rs. 26-9-7 against Rs. 32-12 in 1898. This again is doubtless due to the greater cheapness of food. The average cash earnings per head of average strength amounted to Rs. 23-14 as compared with Rs. 19-15 in the year preceding, and the average net cost per head of average strength amounted to Rs. 48-8 as against Rs. 58-3 in 1898.

28. The decrease in the average cost of diet per head is common to all the jails of the Province, with the exception of Purnea, Puri, Muzaffarpur, and Darbhanga. It is not clear whether the large expenditure on the provision of animal food throughout the year in the first named district was justifiable.

29. Hospital Charges.—The total expenditure under this head showed a decrease from Rs 92,868 in 1898 to Rs. 90,770 in 1899, while the expenditure per head of average strength decreased from Rs. 4-14-9 to Rs 4-12-6, and the expenditure per head of average sick from Rs. 145-2-8 to Rs. 139 7-9 In the last two reviews by the Government of India of the Provincial Jail Reports, remark has been made on the fact that hospital charges in Bengal exceed those in other Provinces. The average hospital expenses of a sick prisoner in Bengal during the last five years have been as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1894	94	4	7
1895	116	14	7
1896	139	14	2
1897	137	10	4
1898	145	2	8
1899	139	7	9

The steady increase up to the end of 1898 is very marked. The head "Hospital charges" includes four sub-heads, viz, (a) "Sick diet and extras for patients," (b) "Extras or special diet for weakly prisoners not in hospital," (c) "Medicines, hospital bedding and clothing," and (d) "Proportion of dairy charges." Under each of these items expenditure is higher in Bengal than in other Provinces. Under the first two heads the Medical Officers of the Jails must to a great extent be allowed a free hand. Under head (c) the charge for prophylactics is exceptionally heavy in the malarious districts of Bengal, while the money spent under the last head is well laid out if a good milk-supply ensures comparative immunity from cholera epidemics. Although the expenditure on hospital charges has been large, the result has certainly been satisfactory, as evidenced by the remarkably low death-rate recorded during the last few years The expenditure should nevertheless be carefully watched •

30. Employment of prisoners.—The average number of prisoners under sentence of labour on working days was 16,92). Of these the average number employed on manufactures was 7,1 0 as compared with 6,968 in 1898, the ratio of convicts so employed being 42 25 as compared with 41·05 and 38 43 per cent., respectively, in 1898 and 1897 The ratio of convicts employed as prison officers was 6 as compared with 5·77 in 1898, and of those employed as prison servants 11·70 as against 11·96 in that year. The large number of convicts sentenced to rigorous imprisonment and employed on such duties as involve little or no real toil was commented on in the Resolution on the report for 1898. It is explained that the adoption of special precautions necessitated by the plague in connection with the segregation of new admissions, led to the employment of a large number of convict officers, and it is understood that the same reason applies also in a great measure in the case of jail servants such as sweepers and others. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that during the current year every endeavour will be made to reduce to the lowest possible figure the proportion of convicts employed on such work. The number employed in gardening was reduced from 1,111 to 882, and this is satisfactory: it is possible, however, that a still further reduction may be made in this direction also.

31. Profits of manufactures.—The total cash profits of the year amounted to Rs. 4,55,9)2 as compared with Rs. 3,78,320 in the preceding year, the average earnings per convict sentenced to labour being Rs. 26-15 as compared with Rs. 22-5 in 1898. These figures are taken from the prescribed statement No. XII, and show the cash transactions of the year. In a separate statement headed XIIA, however, the Inspector-General has given figures, an examination of which shows that the past year has been an exceptionally favourable one from the point of view of cash transactions. During the year 1897 a large stock of manufactured articles had accumulated, but large demands by the Commissariat Department for the field forces in South Africa gave a special impetus to sales, and the stocks in hand at the end of the previous year were disposed of and paid for during 1899. Again, the stock of raw materials paid for and still in hand at the end of 1898 was largely in excess of that at the end of the year under review. Both these circumstances have tended unduly to magnify the apparent success of the manufacturing department in the year under review as compared with the preceding year. Judged indeed by the figures in Statement XIIA, the department appears to have had less success than in 1898, the average earnings per convict sentenced to labour amounting to Rs. 29-7 as compared with Rs 32 in 1898. The following table compares the working of the manufacturing department of each of the Central Jails (1) according to cash profits as shown in Statement XII, and (2) according to profits shown in Statement XIIA :—

32. In the report under review the system adopted in previous years of calculating the profits of the Presidency Jail Press has been altered. The matter has recently formed the subject of correspondence with the Government of India. As already explained in a letter addressed to the Home Department, the practice hitherto observed has been that the Jail Department has taken credit, in respect of printing work executed for the various departments of the Government, at the rates at which those departments were debited for the printing done for them, the rates of charge being on a scale closely approximating to market rates. The final orders of the Government of India are contained in their Resolution of the 22nd September 1899, and therein the system adopted in this province, as above explained, was accepted as correct. It was added, however, that where, as at Allahabad and Madras, the Press is not managed by the Jail Department, but only the labour hired out to a separate Press management, credit should only be taken for the wages of the labour thus supplied. In the report under review, it is observed that the Presidency Jail Press has been treated as a Press of this kind, and the profits have been reduced accordingly. It is not clear, however, that the Presidency Jail Press is on the same footing as those at Madras and Allahabad, or that the orders contained in the third paragraph of the Resolution above cited are applicable to it, and the Inspector-General of Jails is requested to consider whether the system adopted by the Superintendent of Government Printing in the present report is correct.

33. Subsidiary Jails.—The subsidiary jails were 84 in number as in the preceding year. In the case of 11 of these the Superintendents failed to make the prescribed number of visits, and in the case of three of these similar failure occurred in the preceding year also. An explanation will be called for from the officers responsible for this neglect. The average population of convicts was 342 during the year, and of under-trial prisoners 657. The number of deaths among convicts was 10 and among under-trial prisoners 7. The average period of detention of under-trial prisoners was 14·29 days as compared with 13·46 in the preceding year. This increase is unsatisfactory, and the Commissioners of the respective divisions are requested to enquire into the circumstances which led to the prolonged detention of under-trial prisoners at Sirajganj, Pirojpur, Diamond Harbour, Atia, Manikganj and Godda. Excluding the cost of Public Works, the average cost per head was Rs. 111-15-6 as compared with Rs. 114-7-5 in 1898. The average profit per head of convicts employed on manufactures was Rs. 23-13 as compared with Rs. 23-15 in the previous year.

34. Accommodation in Jails.—At the end of 1899, the jails of the Province provided accommodation for a total of 23,311 prisoners of all classes, as compared with 23,070 at the end of 1898. The average population in each year was 19,114 and 18,979 respectively. The jails at Mymensingh, Purulia, and Chaibassa had an average population in excess of the number for which they contain accommodation. The Inspector-General should consider whether additional accommodation should be provided in these jails, or whether in future arrangements can be made by which any excess in the number of prisoners can be transferred to other jails. No fewer than 13 District or Central Jails had an average population of under-trial prisoners in excess of that for which accommodation is provided, and these also call for the Inspector-General's special attention.

35. Medical and Sanitary arrangements.—Improvements were effected in connection with the water-supply in the jails at Buxar, Mymensingh and in the Presidency Jail. Five Pasteur-Chamberland filters have been installed in various jails, and are on the whole well reported on: two more filters of this kind are about to be set up. No changes were made in the authorised diet scales during the year: animal food was freely given all the year round in certain jails, and in a larger number of jails at certain periods of year. The fortnightly weighments of prisoners were continued: of 39,242 prisoners discharged during the year, 60·79 gained weight, 15·67 lost weight, and 23·54 were of the same weight as on admission. At the instance of the Inspector-General the entertainment of a second Civil Hospital Assistant has been sanctioned in the Central Jails at Dacca and Buxar respectively: similar help had previously been given at Alipore and Bhagalpur.

36. Sickness and mortality.—The following table gives the mortality among prisoners of all classes for the past five years and the preceding decade:—

Year.	Daily average number of prisoners.	Daily average sick.	Ratio per mille of daily sick.	Number of deaths.			Death-rate per mille of average strength.

Total for last five years.	91,782	3,368	36·6	174	2,349	2,523	1 9	25·5	27·4

37. The death-rate for the year, though slightly higher than that for the year preceding, is lower than that for any other year in the past fifteen. The year was unhealthy, as is shown by the fact that the reported death-rate among the free population of the Province rose from 26·52 per mille in 1898 to 31·21 in the year under review, and it is satisfactory, therefore, to note that the mortality in the jails of the Province increased in a considerably lower ratio than that among the free population. The jail population enjoyed extraordinary immunity from cholera both in 1898 and 1899, and it is satisfactory to find that the average annual mortality from this cause was 34·8 for the five years ending with 1899 against an annual mortality of 73·9 in the previous decade. The jails which showed the largest proportion of admissions to hospital in 1899, were those at Baraset, Khulna, Buxar, Bankura, Chaibassa, Darbhanga, Presidency and Jalpaiguri.

38. Principal diseases causing sickness and death.—The following table shows the principal diseases from which prisoners suffered during the past two years:—

		1899.		1898.
		Admissions.	Deaths.	Admissions.	Deaths.
1	Cholera	5	3	4	3
2.	Dysentery	3,832	103	3,444	90
3.	Malarial fevers	5,490	36	5,724	43
4.	Tubercle of the lungs, &c. ...	237	82	197	54
5.	Anæmia and debility	187	15	249	12

11.	All other diseases	2,283	44	2,060	60
	Total ...	18,118	398*	18,137	392

* Excluding deaths from suicide (8) and from valvular disease of the heart out of hospital (2).

39. As already observed, the small number of deaths from cholera in the last two years is a matter for congratulation. The number of deaths from dysentery, however, shows some increase, while deaths from tubercle of the lungs rose from 54 to 82. Pneumonia proved less fatal during the year under review, the number of deaths due to it being 50 against 69 in 1898. In 1898 the four jails of Dacca, Faridpur, Midnapore and Jessore returned no fewer than 28 deaths from this cause, and it is satisfactory that the number during the year under review was less by 8.

40. Mortality in Central Jails.—All the Central Jails show a very moderate death-rate, the lowest being that of 15·1 per mille at Hazaribagh and the highest that of 29·3 at Midnapore. Of the 27 deaths in the latter jail, no fewer than 16 occurred in the case of prisoners who had been transferred from the Chaibassa Jail. Attention having been drawn to the fact that the climate of the Midnapore Jail did not appear to suit natives of the Singhbhum district, arrangements were made during the latter part of the year for the transfer of such prisoners to Hazaribagh instead of Midnapore, and this plan was attended by the best results, no death occurring among the prisoners thus sent to Hazaribagh.

41. Jails with the highest mortality.—The following table shows the jails in which the highest mortality among convicts occurred:—

	Death-rates of all causes per mille.		Death-rates exclusive of cholera per mille.
	1899.	1898.	1899.	1898.
Barisal ...	62·0	45·8	62·3	43·5
Purnea ...	61·1	63 6	61·1	63·6
Faridpur ...	56·4	36·3	56·4	36·3
Suri ...	55 2	43·0	51·5	43 0
Hooghly ...	54·9	36·3	52·1	36·3
Daltonganj ...	48·6	49·2	48·6	49·2
Pabna ...	47·4	7·0	47·4	7·0
Chaibassa ...	45·1	55·2	45·1	55·2

42. Of the 27 deaths at Barisal, 11 were from dysentery: it is explained, however, that 22 out of the 27 who died were admitted in an indifferent state of health. It is proposed to improve the arrangements for the supply of drinking and bathing water, and it may be hoped that this will have a good effect on the health of the inmates. This jail has suffered under the further disadvantage that there have been frequent changes of Superintendents in the last two years, with the result that none of them have been able to acquire any local experience. For many years the Chapra District Jail figured in each annual report among those showing an excessive rate of mortality. So recently as 1897 the death-rate for this prison stood at 84·6 per mille, and on the advice of two Committees, which were successively appointed to enquire into the causes of this mortality, it was decided to build a new jail on a more healthy site and on more sanitary principles. The comparatively low death-rate of the last two years (20·6 in 1898 and 19·4 in 1899) reflects the greatest credit on the jail authorities, and has led to the abandonment of the scheme, which was estimated to cost over four lakhs of rupees. The jails which show the lowest death-rate are those at Cuttack, Burdwan, Comilla, Arrah and Noakhali. All these have recorded death-rates of less than 10 per mille.

43. Inspections.—Seventeen jails were visited by the Lieutenant-Governor. The Inspector-General of Jails visited all the Central Jails and all the District Jails of the Province, except five, viz., those of the Orissa Division, and that at Kishnaghar. He also visited seven subsidiary jails. The number of visits paid by Commissioners of Divisions and by District and Sessions Judges was fewer than in the preceding year, while on the other hand those paid by District Magistrates and by non-official visitors were more numerous than in 1898.

44. Officers of the Department.—The medical officers working under the Department who are specially mentioned by the Inspector-General of Jails are Lieutenant-Colonel Macrae, Major Green, Lieutenant-Colonel ffrench-Mullen, Major Jordan, Major Maynard, Major Buchanan, Captain Deare, Captain Waters, Dr. Waller, Major Vaughan, Major Drury, Captain Anderson, Captain Maddox, Captain Blaker, Dr. Hedley Wood, and Assistant Surgeon Barada Kanta Ray. During the year the Jail Department lost the services of Mr. Donaldson, who had for long been Superintendent of the Presidency Jail, and who obtained an appointment in another part of India. Mr. Leonard held the post of Superintendent of the Alipore Central Jail and ex-officio Deputy Inspector-General of Jails. The Inspector-General makes special mention of his valuable assistance

45. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Mair for his most careful administration of the Department, and for the close regard he ensured to the two matters in jail management to which his attention was specially directed—the system of marks and the character of convict employment.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The hygrometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

c, overcast; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; ⁄, stormy wind; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain.

N.B.—In the column "Miles recorded" the movement of wind from 8 A.M. of the day for which it is shown to 8 A.M. of the following day is given.

EDUCATIONAL PROSPECTUS.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1900-1901, will commence on the 15th June next. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. before 1st June.

Those students who may be selected are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the 15th, and none will be admitted at any later date.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College must pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 on the 1st June, and Rs. 35 on 1st November of each year. Rs. 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half fee, i.e., Rs. 17-8, per session. The remaining half fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the 10 students who passed highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice ...	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule, provided the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures, provided the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a college test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over; but whether they pass or fail at the University examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second year-class, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first or second-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College and will not be entitled to re-admission. Third-year students who fail a second time will be liable to removal from the College; but if they are specially recommended by the Principal, they may again be relegated to the third-year class, on payment of the fees laid down in Rule 16, and re-admitted to the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination, and this concession may be allowed for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects, and 15 per cent. in a fourth, will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S. or 2nd M.B. examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first year will have a prior claim to re-admission over new students.

16. Students re-admitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay half the regular fee for the session (Rs. 35), but extra fees as for dissection (Rs. 6) in full. The half fee must be paid at the commencement of the session in June. Those, however, who, after failing either at the preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three. Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals on the recommendation of the Principal.

17. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, military medical pupils, and females certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 18) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

18. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the second year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their third year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their second year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L.M.S. or M.B. examination.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their fourth year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their third year, provided they have passed either the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensum or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their College Test and University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

Prospectus for Admission.

THIS School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors: it owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60, of whom only 15 can be other than Beharis by race (viz., natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar); but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar, in that order.

3. The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

(1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics.
(2) Careful training in Survey work.
(3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering.
(4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
(5) Workshop practice with hand tools and with machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings are in process of construction; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 2nd July 1900.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

(1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University in English and Mathematics.
(2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools.
(3) Students who have not passed either of these tests and who are otherwise eligible will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 6th and 7th July respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars :—

(a) Name, address and occupation of father or guardian
(b) Race and religion, and evidence to show that he is either a Bihari or a native of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces or a domiciled Bengali.
(c) A certificate of good moral character.
(d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age)
(e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
(f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re 1. An Amin student is taught Elementary Surveying with a corresponding amount of Mathematics and of Geometrical Drawing. He will not be admitted to the Workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of Elementary Surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class, may at his option leave the school with an Amin certificate.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences 2nd July 1900, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1900.

10. Every candidate for admission to the School must bring a certificate of good character from the Head of the Institution from which he has come.

11. All candidates for admission to the School should present themselves personally at the School on the 1st July.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.
PUBLIC DEBT.

No. 2666.

Simla, the 6th June, 1900.

THREE-AND-A-HALF PER CENT LOAN OF 1900-1.

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow three hundred lakhs of rupees for the public service in the following manner :

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount, bearing interest at the rate of Three-and-a-half Per Centum Per Annum, payable half-yearly on the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December. The notes will be in the form annexed to this Notification, and they will not be discharged before the 31st day of December 1920, nor until the expiration of three months after notice of payment to be published in the Government Gazette.

Tenders.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 3,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 4th July next. Tenders must be for sums of 100 Rupees or 300 Rupees or multiples of those sums.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed "Tender for the Three-and-a-half Per Cent Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom an allotment-certificate may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

NOTE.—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore, on account of the Comptroller General, Calcutta, on the 3rd July and up to the local time corresponding to 12 o'clock in Calcutta on the 4th July; provided that—

(a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at the Accountant General's Office (where a receipt will be given for them);

(b) they are made on printed forms, to be obtained at the same office or at the local Presidency Bank;

(c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;

(d) the deposit is either a promissory note or a Treasury Receipt from the local office of the Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in favour of the Accountant General;

(e) the amount of the tender is made payable either in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore; and the Accountant General will return deposits on non-accepted tenders, and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore.

5. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

Deposits.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than five lakhs of rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. The deposit must be in one of the following forms: (a) a receipt for the amount from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an officer in charge of some Public Treasury, or (b) a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore, or (c) Government Promissory Notes[1] standing in the name of, or endorsed to, the tenderer or the person making the deposit.

[1] It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

8. (a) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionately in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 16 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits, when they are not in the form of promissory notes, will be credited as far as possible proportionately in even tens of rupees in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.

(b) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up, and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

Opening of Tenders.

9. The Governor-General in Council reserves the right to declare, on or before the 27th June, the minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted. If not so declared, the said minimum rate will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

10. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Wednesday, the 4th July next, and those received under the terms of the note under clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore at the local time corresponding to noon, Calcutta time, on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 12.

11. Tenders at rates not below the minimum rate will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate. The amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 100: preference will however be given to small tenders, not exceeding Rs. 2,000, at the lowest rate, such tenders receiving allotments in full as far as possible.

Allotment-Certificates.

12. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller General [1] as soon as possible after the 4th July; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted for general information at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay.

[1] For tenders received by the Accountant General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore, and payable at those places, the Accountant General will issue the allotment-certificates.

13. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates (after credit of the deposit under clause 8 (a) will be made payable upon the 20th August.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments as follows:

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent, but not exceeding 35 per cent, payable upon the 20th July:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent, but not exceeding 35 per cent, payable upon the 20th August:

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 12th September:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 100.

14. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations; provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

15. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal or Madras or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by enfacement upon the relative certificate.

Issue of Promissory Notes.

16. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 100), bearing interest from 31st December 1900, and he will also receive interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the 30th of December 1900.
